1,200 Attend Democrat Dinner

GOV. MICHAEL V. DISALLE was besieged by autograph seekers following his address at the ninth annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner Monday night at Beaver Local High School. Here he signs programs of several women among those who filed by for personal greetings. The governor headed a large delegation of state, county and city officials, candidates and party workers at the Columbiana County party organization's annual rally.

DiSalle Sees Ohio Lagging In State Race

1,200 Democrats Hear Governor Hit Legislature Failure

By CHARLES CRONIN

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, visiting Columbiana County for the first time since the Presidential campaign of last fall, declared Monday night that Ohio must spend more money to keep up with the rest of the states in industry, natural resources, education and mental health.

But he left 1,200 Democrats in the dark as to whether he'll seek re-election next year to push his plans for capital improvement that have run into rocky ground because of what he termed "people with little vision in the legislature."

9th Annual Dinner

In a talk at the ninth annual county Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner at Beaver Local High School, Gov. DiSalle assailed the Republican-controlled Legislature for failure to approve his major items, and called on the Democratic party to join with him in telling the story with the theme of "If you have confidence in Ohio's future, prepare for it now."

DiSalle, whose four-year term expires in January 1963, said only "I have no announcement to make at this time" when asked if he'll enter the gubernatorial race next year.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, who was to have shared the speaker's platform with Gov. DiSalle, was unable to attend because of commitments in Washington.

Telegraphs Regrets

The 18th District congressman wired his regrets to Don R. Gosney, county chairman, that he could not be present because he was required to work on the arms control bill with the House Foreign Affairs committee.

President Kennedy wired that "It is unfortunate that the consideration of important legislation for which he has responsibility prevents him from being with you."

DiSalle recited extensive statistics in his applause-marked address in citing Ohio's lag in development of natural resources, mental hospitals, public education

Globe Brick Worker Injured By Mine Car

Karl North of Fisher Ave., a brakeman on the mine trains, suffered a fractured arm, dislocated left hip, fractured pelvis possible fractured ribs and a laceration of the left knee in the mishap late yesterday morning.

North was walking along the tracks in front of a string of empty cars coming out of the mine when he was struck by the lead car which ran over him. He underwent surgery last night.

Triggers Evacuation

North Carolina Fears 'Esther'

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Esther churned toward the North Carolina coast today triggering the start of a mass evacuation from dangerous low-lying areas.

The whirling giant carried winds up to 150 miles per hour.

"Safety precautions should be started now," the Weather Bureau warned. "Some escape routes will become flooded as waters rise today and tonight."

Hurricane warnings were raised this morning from Cerry Point, N.C., northward to the Virginia Capes. Gale force winds were forecast for that portion of the coast and were forecast to increase to hurricane strength—75 miles per hour.

Gale warnings were extended northward from the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake Bay. Hurricane watch continues northward from Myrtle Beach, S.C., to Cherry Point and from the Virginia Capes to Cape May.

At 8 a.m., the Weather Bureau said the big storm was 335 statute miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and bearing toward the coast at 14 miles an hour.

Rising tides and seas already were buffeting this coast line, known as the graveyard of the Atlantic.

But the Weather Bureau said the northwesterly curve of the storm could carry the eye, or center of the storm, just off the coast.

Coastal residents, veterans of many a big blow, worked throughout the night, moving house trailers to higher ground at Morehead City, about 75 miles from Cape Hatteras.

Tides were running up to three feet above normal and the ocean was rough with heavy swells. The Coast Guard said the swells have existed for "two or three days," possibly caused by earlier hurricanes.

The Weather Bureau warned that "Hurricane Esther is dangerous with maximum winds 150 miles per hour near the center. Gales extend outward some 350 miles except 200 miles in the southwest quarant."

The hurricane was expected to come within range of the powerful Cape Hatteras for the first time about noon.

Although Esther no longer is believed to be producing gusts as high as 200 m.p.h., as she was over the weekend, the storm is still a huge and dangerous one.

The storm has slowed slightly from 16 to 14 m.p.h.

The Georgia and Florida coasts were clear of the storm, but all interests from Savannah, Ga., northward were told to listen for future advisories.

Forecaster Gilbert Clark said indications were the storm would continue on its present path for the next few hours with no important changes in size or direction.

Persons in the path of the storm already were taking precautions. The Navy sent 240 airplanes to inland fields and a number of ships left Norfolk, Va., as precautionary measures.

The aircraft carriers Randolph, Wasp and Valley Forge put to sea and other naval vessels headed for anchorage in Chesapeake Bay to escape the fury of the winds.

Two Texas towers off the New England coast were evacuated. The towers are radar stations that form part of the U.S.-Canadian defense warning system.

The towers are on shoals 80 to 100 miles offshore. A spokesman for the air defense sector said he did not know how many men were evacuated. A similar tower off the New Jersey coast collapsed during a storm last January with a loss of 28 lives.

Under Fitness Program

School Kids May Lose 'Chicken Fat' By Music

WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Kennedy's youth fitness experts have their way, the nation's school children will soon be working off "chicken fat" to a tune composed by Meredith Willson, author of "The Music Man."

Until recently, about the most strenuous exercise Willson ever took was blowing the flute. But he has suddenly become a physical fitness fiend and has composed words and music to go with a set of calisthenics.

A sample of the ballad:

"Touch down ev'ry morning,
Not just now and then.
Give that chicken fat back to the chicken,
And don't be chicken again,

"Touch down" in the song signifies touching one's toes. As the song progresses the victims also must do push-ups and other exercises. The whole thing lasts 6½ minutes and anybody who can finish without puffing is in good shape.

The government hasn't any money to put the recordings in the nation's schools. But it figures that if some civic group or other angel will come forward with $30,000 the job can be done. Willson isn't charging a nickel for his labors.

It all came about when Bill Whitman, publicity man working gratis for the Physical Fitness Council, approached Willson with the idea that he compose a song.

Willson then took to doing the exercises himself, and is reported to be slimmer than he was.

GM, Union Face Crucial Move Today

Decision Scheduled On Pact With Rash Of Strikes Feared

DETROIT (AP)—This is decision day for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union.

Do they reach agreement on a new three-year, three-package contract or do a rash of crippling local-level strikes erupt into a nationwide walkout?

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said "it looks like a long day." Both he and UAW President Walter P. Reuther said progress was being made as they recessed bargaining shortly after Monday midnight.

Today is decision day because the UAW's 280-member General Motors Council has been summoned to meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday to approve or reject a new contract. The council is made up of local union presidents and shop committeemen from across the country.

Effects of local-level walkouts have spilled over into Canada. General Motors of Canada announced Monday it was furloughing 6,000 today at its Oshawa plants which normally depend upon U.S. factories for parts.

There was no hope of getting the world's No. 1 auto maker back into full production at all its 129 U.S. plants before next week. GM of Canada said there was no chance, even if all strikes ended today, of its avoiding the 6,000-worker layoff.

The GM Council could cut off all local negotiations on new at-the-plant agreements and return things to status quo. Or it could authorize continuance of local strikes, or order a company-wide walkout in support of unresolved national non-economic issues.

GM and the UAW reached agreement on Sept. 6 on a new national economic package, which the union estimates is worth more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay. It also increases pensions and supplemental unemployment benefits and guarantees partial pay for any hours fewer than 40 in a workweek.

About 80 working agreements had been reached between local unions and plant managers, but as of Monday workers at only 40 plants had returned to their jobs.

At 15 plants where settlements had been reached the company shut down operations because supply lines from key parts factories had dried up. Some others were only in partial operation. Forty-odd plants still were strike-bound.

Reds Burn Capital Of Viet Nam Province

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP)—In their boldest stroke of South Viet Nam's civil war, Communist rebels attacked and burned the capital of Phuoc Thanh Province, the government said today.

The daring raid, the first on any provincial capital, was staged early Monday on the capital, Phuoc Vinh, the government said. The city is only 60 miles north of this capital.

Shadow Dims U.N.

East-West Contest Seen On Selection Of Dag's Successor

Rusk, Adlai Toil Behind U.N. Scenes

Seek To Prevent Soviet Bid To Bar Successor To Dag

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson worked urgently behind the scenes today to keep the United Nations from being paralyzed by the Soviet Union on appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Rusk was due to hold his first meeting here with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this afternoon when the U.N. General Assembly begins its annual session. He wanted to talk with Gromyko about the crisis created by Hammarskjold's death as well as the Berlin crisis, which they have agreed to discuss.

Western diplomats saw little chance the Soviet government would agree to work with Allied and neutral nations in choosing a new secretary-general speedily. Conversations are therefore underway, they reported, to find some means of assembly action to temporarily bypass the veto power which the Soviet Union can use in the Security Council to block any new appointment.

In the view of Rusk and other Western leaders here the situation is little short of desperate. Without an administrative head the secretariat, which is the action arm of the world organization, cannot function effectively much longer. This is particularly true

Work Week's Slash Rapped By City Local

Implications of a recent cutback in the work week of city street department workers were discussed Monday night at a meeting of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

The union of city employes said its members on the street department payroll have had their work week cut back to 40 hours from 45 by elimination of Saturday work. Although the crews customarily worked 45 hours weekly, they drew straight time pay for the hours over 40, the union said.

The union said the cutback means a reduction of 10 to 15 hours' pay in each half-month pay period, depending upon the number of Saturdays involved. For instance, some pay periods cover two Saturdays, amounting to a 10-hour reduction, while others cover three Saturdays and the reduction in hours totals 15, the local said.

Although the union took no official action, it questioned the city's recent action in awarding a contract for street seal - coating to the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. The city has equipment for street seal - coating which it acquired about three years ago and the work could have been done by city crews and machinery instead of hiring a contractor, the union asserted.

The local said the cutback in street department hours took place approximately a month ago. The reason given was lack of operating funds for payroll purposes, it said. About 25 men are affected.

The local met at Tice's Restaurant on Market St. Its next regular meeting will be Oct. 16. A district meeting is scheduled Oct. 3 at Youngstown.

Plane Wreck Probed

High UN Figures Take Over Dag's Work In Katanga

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A high-ranking U.N. delegation arrived in Ndola today seeking to carry through the Katanga peace talks shattered by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash.

He flew to Ndola from Leopoldville while U.N. intelligence experts probed riddles of the wreck that killed the secretary-general.

A British government statement said a further task for the delegation will be to help identify the mutilated bodies of some of Hammarskjold's entourage.

The statement said Britain is doing all possible to facilitate contact between the delegation and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, who pulled out Monday after an overnight stay at this neutral border town.

Tshombe returned to Katanga after vainly waiting for 24 hours for Hammarskjold to arrive for peace talks. Only late Monday did Tshombe and the world know Hammarskjold was dead in the shattered wreck of his aircraft.

Salvage workers pulled another body from the wreck this morning making a total of 15 dead. There is one survivor.

But a U.N. check today disclosed there were 16. Two Swedish is one survivor.

Lt. Col. Ben Matlick, U.S. air attache from Leopoldville, who inspected the wreck today, said he was convinced that speculation that the plane may have been shot down was groundless.

The possibility of sabotage or armed attack had drawn banner headlines in Rhodesian newspapers. The lone survivor, Harry Julien, an American U.N. security guard, was quoted as saying a series of explosions shook the four-engine DC6B before it plunged into a forest reserve north of town and burned.

Seasoned pilots who viewed the fire-blackened wreckage agreed with Matlick. They said it looked like typical results of a crash caused in a landing approach by loss of power or faulty instruments.

A Ndola hospital spokesman said the survivor is as comfortable as could be expected, adding: "He still is very ill and is under heavy sedation. He has not spoken since he was brought here."

Col. Maurice Barber, civil aviation director of the British-run Central African Federation, heads the inquiry into the crash. The U.N. intelligence work is directed by Col. Bjorn Egge, a Norwegian.

Gloom Cast On Opening Of Session

Assembly Meeting Seen Most Crucial In U.N.'s History

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The prospect of an East-West clash over a new U.N. secretary-general to succeed Dag Hammarskjold cast a shadow over the opening of the U.N. General Assembly today. Already faced with grave cold war issues, the session may be the most crucial in the United Nations' history.

Within hours after Hammarskjold's death in an African plane crash Monday, stunned delegates began casting about for a way to avoid an East-West deadlock that would paralyze the secretariat, the administrative arm of the world organization.

There was speculation that the assembly might delegate a board of ranking U.N. officials to make decisions until a new secretary-general can be chosen.

Most of those being mentioned as candidates came from the non-aligned nations of Asia and Africa, who now hold almost a majority in the assembly. There was no indication of firm support behind any one of them.

A new secretary-general must get past the threat of a Soviet veto, which the Soviets could exercise if they decide, as expected, to push their plans for reorganizing the United Nations and curbing the powers of the secretariat developed by Hammarskjold.

A new secretary-general must be nominated by the Security Council with the agreement of all five permanent members — the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China. Then the nomination must be approved by the General Assembly.

The assembly was confronted by a long agenda of 95 items including such cold war issues as Red China's admission, testing nuclear weapons and disarma-

County Board Seeks Ruling For Merger

Appointment Of 5 In New Group Now Seen 'Premature'

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education is scheduled at its meeting tonight to ask a formal ruling from Prosecutor William Brokaw concerning a Franklin Local school district petition against the merger of the Southern Local and Franklin Local districts.

The two districts apparently went into consolidation last Thursday when the county board's merger action became effective after a 30-day waiting period in which a remonstrance petition could be filed.

Fred Johnson of Franklin Local presented a petition to the county office, with 307 signatures of Franklin Local residents seeking a merger with Carroll County districts.

County Gets Partial Draft Quota Of 15

Ohio Selective Service headquarters today issued a partial induction call for 1,110 men in October, including 15 for Columbiana County.

This is the first section of the October call. The balance will be issued in the form of a supplement, at a later date, headquarters said at Columbus.

The call today compared with a total call for October 1960 of 845 men. The call in September was for 1,764 men, highest of the year.

Youngest man who may be inducted in the latest call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Oct. 1, unless he is a volunteer.

Leaders Laud President On U.N. Decision

Kennedy's Address To Assembly To Be Friday Or Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican congressional leaders applauded today President Kennedy's decision to address the United Nations.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicted Kennedy will place before the United Nations a new disarmament plan and call for fresh negotiations to end nuclear testing.

Kennedy's decision to fly to New York to address the new session of the U.N. General Assembly was announced Monday by the White House.

Kennedy probably will speak Friday or Monday, depending on the schedule adopted by the assembly.

A White House official said the death of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold strengthened the President's desire to appear before the United Nations.

Kennedy believes, the spokesman said, that "now, at a time of crisis for the U.N., would be a good time to go there and affirm support of the U.N. and its principles."

Humphrey said he thinks it is vital in the light of Hammarskjold's death for Kennedy to rally the West's forces.

"I predict the President will lay down a total U.S. program for disarmament and review the efforts this country had made to get an agreement on the cessation of nuclear weapons testing and proclaim our willingness to negotiate such an agreement whenever the Soviets evidence a

Men Cleared In Club Entry

Whisky, $25 Stolen In Weekend Case

Three suspects were released by police Monday after apparently establishing alibis in connection with a weekend burglary at the Veterans Social Club, 1044 Pennsylvania Ave., in which 42 bottles of whisky were hauled away and $25.50 was removed from a cash register.

Announcing release of the three men, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said their "alibis checked out pretty well" under questioning.

Sam Johnson, steward, told police the building was entered sometime between 3:30 and 6:45 a. m. Sunday. The intruders placed a ladder at the rear of the building and climbed to the second-floor level, where they broke a window to gain entry.

Then the burglars went to the main floor of the structure, hauled the whisky and a case and a half of bottled wine out the back door and removed the money from the register. The money included five $1 bills, $3 in 50-cent pieces, $5 in 25-cent pieces, $7 in dimes, $2 in nickels and $3 in pennies.

The burglary was discovered Sunday morning by a janitor, James Carpenter, when he reported for work. Carpenter notified Johnson.

Spoke On Serious Side

Though once known as the nation's joke-cracking U.S. price administrator, his message was on the serious side for the most part.

But laughter filled the jammed auditorium at one point when he declared that "working with a Democratic and Republican legislature is like a man who has been both rich and poor."

Gov. DiSalle also joked that he had been "accused of urging defeat of all Republicans" and went on to say that he had never been present when the GOP leaders urged election of Democrats.

"The best interests will be served if the Republicans in the legislature are in a strong, militant minority," the former Toledo mayor cracked.

'Vote The Same Way'

"I don't care where the GOP legislators come from, they all vote the same anyway," he continued in slightly roasting the present Legislature.

In a more serious vein, DiSalle asked: "Ohio is fifth in population, fifth in personal income and fifth in auto registration, but do you want a state that is 47th in funds spent on natural resources, 46th in service to care for its citizens, 31st in highway building, 44th in education, 35th in welfare and 47th in expenditures to induce and encourage industrial development?"

"Is it too much to spend $5.50 a day for mental hospitals, or $2.20 a day for a blind person, or $113 a year for the education of a public school child, or $300 a year for education in Ohio," he asked.

Population Factor

DiSalle declared that the increased costs can only be reduced if the population ceases to grow.

"I have a hope and feeling about what is required in this state. I find a lack of desire on the part of many. I often wonder how we continue to exist and live in this role of ours under these kind of conditions," DiSalle said.

At one point he declared that "It is impossible to make these people understand that Ohio is a growing state," referring to the legislature's cry against record budgets. "But each budget is higher than the one before," DiSalle said in citing the state's growth.

In a brief press conference after his arrival that about 40 minutes late, DiSalle said a training survey of unemployed skilled workers is underway in Youngstown.

Only For Pilot Plan

"We must prepare for re-training of these people, but the $200,000 appropriated by the Legislature is only enough for a pilot experiment," he said.

"There are about 130,000 unemployed in the state, with much of its chronic. These kind must be trained, but how many can be trained with $200,000," DiSalle asked. He later accused the Republican legislators of "narrow gauge thinking."

DiSalle was eulogized as one of the state's "greatest governors" in an introduction by James Griffin, district director of the United Steelworkers of America.

Many Introduced

A number of political candidates and office - holders and guests from the district were introduced.

Among state guests were Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy and Theodore R. Saker, first assistant.

Auditor Kenneth Bell introduced county officials, Gosney introduced state officials, Kay Blackburn, county chairlady, read a long list of city and village candidates, and city chairmen and Democratic Club presidents present, and Mayor Dean B. Cranmer of Salem introduced others.

A highlight of the program was the presentation of public service awards to Atty. Guy J. Mauro of Salem and the Columbiana Women's Democratic Club. The trophies were presented by Atty. Paul Tobin. Mrs. Mary Fisher accepted for the Columbiana group.

Mrs. Hays and the congressman's secretary also were present. Fr. Warren F. Braun of Leetonia, national chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, gave the benediction.

Gosney also read telegrams from John W. McCormick, acting speaker of the House, and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, expressing regrets that Rep. Hays was forced to miss his first such dinner in the county.

County O.K.'s Building Lots

LISBON — Five housing development plats were approved by Columbiana County commissioners Monday. They are:

Hill and Faulk's Imperial Park of 1.8 acres in Section 33 in Liverpool Township, consisting of four lots of 1.34 acres and 0.46 acre designated for streets. Mary H. Faulk and Harry H. and Hilda C. Hill are the owners.

McCaughtry's 1st addition of 16.13 acres in Section 27 in St. Clair Township, comprising 29 lots of 13.76 acres with 2.37 for streets. John and Beryl L. McCaughtry are owners.

Westview Heights Plat No. 3 in East Palestine and Section 23 and 26 in Unity Township with 4.23 acres. It has 15 lots of 3.7 acres and .53 acre in streets. Situated on the west side of the Unity-East Palestine Rd. It is owned by Hugh R. and Robert W. Madden.

The Potters Construction Co.'s 1st addition to Park Forest in Section 26 in St. Clair Township of 14 lots of 7.1 acres along Stage Coach Rd., owned by the construction firm.

Homer D. and Genevieve L. Hoffman's 2nd addition of Section 32 in Liverpool Township. It has 24 lots of 10.4 acres with 1.8 acres in streets.

In other business, Frank Weeder of East Palestine R. D. 1 was paid for 11 turkeys killed by stray dogs, receiving $27.50 plus $6 for witness fees.

Travel allowances were authorized for Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach and his assistant, Harold McCall, to attend the meeting of the Eastern Ohio Dog Wardens' Association at Ashland Wednesday.

Commissioners also authorized payment of $85 for a cemetery plot for John A. Henrikson, who died at the Crile Veterans Hospital Sept. 11. He was a World War II veteran.

Commissioners ordered that the flag be flown on the Courthouse pole for Veterans Day Nov. 11.

Turks' Cabinet Crisis Reported Resolved

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A Cabinet crisis in the wake of weekend executions of ousted Premier Adnan Menderes and two other desposed former ministers was resolved today.

Foreign Minister Selim Sarper withdrew a resignation he tendered Monday night and announced plans to attend the U.N. General Assembly session in New York.

Sarper earlier was reported by highly qualified informants to have been reluctant to attend the General Assembly meeting due to his personal reaction to the executions.

Hurricane

If the storm should strike the North Carolina coast, as its present path indicated, it would follow such destructive giants as Hurricane Hazel which moved in over eastern North Carolina in 1954 and caused $750-million damage.

Small portions of Hurricane Esther were seeded with silver iodide during the weekend when she passed near Puerto Rico but Weather Bureau scientists reported no apparent effects on movement or intensity of the storm.

"A very small area of the hurricane was seeded because it's a big thing and we wanted to measure what we were doing," Simpson said in Miami Monday night.

Simpson said he hoped to have preliminary estimates of the results "in several weeks" and hoped to seed other hurricanes this fall.

Lions At Newell Receive Plaque

A plaque was presented the Newell Lions Club Monday night at the Shamrock Restaurant in recognition of having sponsored a Boy Scout troop for 10 years.

Plans were approved to sell light bulbs as a fund - raising project. The sale will get under way soon with Richard Brenneman chairman.

Copestick reported on activities of the Newell Civic Council. A directors' meeting will be held in the president's home Sept. 26 at 7:30 p. m.

Five East Berliners Make Escape To West

BERLIN (AP)—Five East Berliners crawled over rooftops Monday night and then slid down a rope to freedom in West Berlin, police reported today.

A woman in the group fell before reaching the ground and was taken to a hospital.

In another daring escape reported by police, two East Berliners crossed the barbed wire fences Monday in a storm of bullets from submachine guns of Communist police.

Items Bought By Southern Local Board

Purchase of an electric adding machine for office practice classes at Salineville High School and a trampoline for the physical education department was authorized at a meeting of the Southern Local Board of Education Monday night at No. 16 School.

The adding machine will be obtained with funds under the federal aid program.

The board approved painting and rigging of the flag poles at No. 16 and Highlandtown Schools. The work is to be completed this week.

A leave of absence because of a family illness was extended for Mrs. Ruby Shaff, who had been teaching a half-day session. The class will be taught by Mrs. Leah Johnson.

The board authorized parental transportation for a Monroeville area and Irondale district family group of pupils because the roads are inaccessible for school buses.

A policy on substitute bus drivers was adopted, with the board emphasizing that drivers must have passed required physical examinations and a driving test with the bus.

The board officially approved membership in the Ohio Athletic Association. Next meeting is Oct. 16.

PTA Committees Set For Klondyke

Standing committees for the year were named by Emerson Hadley, president, at a meeting of the Klondyke Parent - Teacher Association Monday night.

Chairmen include Mrs. Betty Hager, ways and means; Earl Kidder, playground; and Mrs. Jean Kidder, homeroom mothers.

This was the first meeting of the new term. Officers and teachers were introduced.

Plans wer emade to solicit the neighborhood for funds for new playground equipment. The present equipment will be taken down and repaired during the winter for next summer.

The PTA voted to send a letter of thanks to Richard Jones, playground supervisor the past summer, for his work with the children.

A letter also was ordered sent to the Board of Education and Supt. Ralph Betts, thanking them for painting the interior of the building during the summer.

Programs for the coming year were discussed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Kidder. Next meeting is Oct. 16.

Musical Instruments Will Be Demonstrated

A demonstration of musical instruments for prospective music students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the city's elementary system will be presented tonight at 7:30 at Westgate School, according to Vincent Maola, instrumental supervisor.

He said the demonstration will be given by three local stores for students of the downtown, North Side and Pleasant Heights areas. That for students in the East End area will be presented Monday night at East Junior High School.

The students and parents are invited to inspect the instruments. Pete D'Argenzio and George Schweizer, instrumental instructors at Westgate, will be in charge tonight.

All fifth grade students in the city were given a standardized test the past week to determine the type of instrument they are best suited to play. These are presently being checked, Maola said.

Chester Man Fined On 2 Traffic Counts

A Chester driver, cited on two counts, was fined $15 and costs by Chester Mayor Ray Collins Monday night, and a city area motorist, arrested on three counts, forfeited a $61.50 appearance bond.

Otto T. Jenkins, 21, of 235 Virginia Ave. was fined $10 and costs for hazardous driving and $5 and costs for leaving his vehicle unattended — a key in the ignition and the motor running. He was cited Saturday on Carolina Ave. by Sheriff's deputies.

Joseph J. Reese, 30, of East Liverpool R. D. forfeited the bond. He was cited Sept. 12 for improper registration, failure to halt for a traffic signal and speeding.

Lawrenceville Post Fills Second Position

Archie West was elected second vice commander of the Lawrenceville American Legion Post at a meeting Monday night at the post home. He succeeds Robert Hood, who resigned.

The purchase of a canopy for the side door at the post home was authorized. The group will continue the purchase of supplies for Grandview School pupils.

Charles Laughlin, adjutant, said 49 members are enrolled for 1962. Paul Gill, commander, was in charge. Next meeting is Oct. 2.

Annual Event Opens Tuesday

Midland Lions Open Broom Sale

The Midland Lions Club will conduct its annual broom sale today through Thursday in the Midland area with proceeds to be used for eye examinations and glasses for the needy.

Sales captains and their teams will conduct a house-to-house canvass the three evenings beginning about 6. The club will meet Thursday evening at Deramo's Restaurant with Larry Neff as program chairman.

Sewage Plant Bidding Near

NEW CUMBERLAND — Preparations for asking bids for the construction of the town's new sewage disposal plant may be completed by Wednesday.

Atty. Edwin M. Flowers, legal advisor, was given authority Monday night by the newly - organized Water and Sewage Board to notify the West Virginia Water Resources Commission that bids are about ready to be received.

The board was instructed by letter from the commission to notify it of plans to advertise for bids and construction dates so that federal aid could be obtained for the project.

Atty. Flowers was also authorized to inform the commission that the sewage and water board planned to award the contracts before Dec. 21.

The board, meeting until midnight Monday, received an estimate on the construction of a new 300,000-gallon water tank from the A. R. Todd engineering firm of Wheeling. The huge tank will eliminate the present three wooden tanks. A 100,000-gallon steel tank will remain in operation.

The board has decided to erect the sewage plant on a site in the south section of the town, pending the outcome of an engineering survey.

Bishop Will Address Mental Health Group

Bishop John J. Wright of the Pittsburgh Catholic Diocese will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Beaver County Mental Health Society Monday, Oct. 2, at 6:30 p. m. at the Beaver First Presbyterian Church.

His subject will be "Patience and Other Virtues in Planning for the Mentally Unwell."

Clifford Conklin, president, will preside. An election of a third of the board members will be held, and volunteers will be recognized. Joseph Bontempo, treasurer, will make a report.

Outstanding attendants at Dixmont State Hospital, who have served beyond the call of duty," will be honored.

Reading Club To See Battle Re-Enactment

A re-enactment of the Battle of Bull Run will be presented Saturday morning for boys and girls of the Carnegie Public Library Civil War Summer Reading Club.

Young people who have read 30 books in the club will attend the program at the Memorial Auditorium at 10.

The program will be presented by John Markanton, Army Reserve captain, along with Judge Louis Tobin and other members of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable.

Mrs. Hilda McEwen of the library said some 260 young people are eligible for the program, and those who have not been issued reading record tickets may obtain them at the library.

Returns 6 Indictments

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Lake County grand jury has returned six indictments against Louis N. Reynolds, 31, of Cleveland, held in the county jail on charges of attacking a woman in the parking lot of a Willowick shopping center last July.

Soviet Urges Seat In U.N. By Red China

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko requested that the 99-nation General Assembly place on its agenda a question titled: "Restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

The assembly is expected to give the China question a full airing, after 10 years of postponements. But it is unlikely that the problem will be taken up under the controversial title proposed by the Soviet Union.

Informed quarters said the United States would not oppose a China debate this year, but would seek to refer the question to a study committee which would report back at the 1962 session of the assembly.

Fog Blamed In 2 Crashes

Dense fog was blamed for two traffic crashes on Route 66 between Newell and New Cumberland Monday, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported today.

As the vehicles were moving slowly because of limited visibility, no injuries were sustained by the occupants of the two cars and two trucks involved, deputies said.

The first crash at 8:30 a. m. occurred when Wesley D. Beckner, 31, of Raymond's Trailer - Court on Route 66 rammed the rear of a parked truck of Bobby Martin, 32, of Weirton R. D. 1.

Deputies reported another crash at 10 a. m. on Congo Rd. when a 1958 truck operated by David Reese, 71, of Weirton struck the auto of Alberta Camerlin, 28, of New Cumberland as the woman pulled from a side road.

Pump Bought For Palestine Power Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night authorized the purchase of a $5,325 booster feeder pump at the municipal power plant without advertising for bids.

The pump will serve on a standby basis at the power plant, part of an overall $850,000 improvement project.

Safety-Service Director George McGuckin explained the price of the competitors were higher, and there would be no need to advertise. The pump will be obtained from the Allis-Chalmers Co. at Youngstown.

Council also authorized purchase of a $725 booster pump for water lines at Neely Manor. Wiring and other items for the pump will be obtained separately.

Atty. Jack Cohen, city solicitor, discussed the proposed use of a tract of city property along Bacon Ave. near the City Park for a proposed nursing home.

Cohen said the land could not be sold, because of stipulations of the original grantor, but a leasing arrangement could be worked out. He advised the nursing home committee to retain its own attorney, since he could not properly represent both.

Council appointed Councilmen Frank Early and Paul Adams to the police pension fund board, and Councilmen James Lynch and Charles Kelley to the firemen's indemnity fund board.

Ohioans Due Chance For Peace Corps Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any Ohioan wanting to serve in the Peace Corps will have an opportunity to qualify by taking examinations Oct. 7.

The third round of Peace Corps examinations is scheduled for that date at 8:30 a.m. in 12 Ohio cities.

Post offices will be the site for the examinations in Akron, Athens, Chillicothe, Cleveland, Dayton, Lima, Mansfield, Portsmouth, Steubenville, Toledo (Old Post Office), Columbus (Room 415, 110 W. Long St.) and Cincinnati (Room 74, Duttenhofer Bldg., E. Sixth Street.)

Editor Claimed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Walter S. Lovelace, 72, editor of the Evanston Review since the weekly newspaper was founded in 1925, died Monday. Lovelace, who had worked for newspapers in Denver and Boulder, Colo., before coming to Evanston in 1917, was born in Brighton, Colo.

2 Guard Units Due Call For Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two National Guard divisions—the 32nd Infantry of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored of Texas—are being called to active duty.

Announcement of this action was expected at an afternoon news conference scheduled by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The two guard divisions, along with two others, were put on notice Sept. 6 that they faced possible call-up.

The other two divisions given priority ratings and slated for reenforcement to full strength are the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts and the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania.

Call-up of the Wisconsin and Texas divisions will raise Army strength to 16 divisions. In addition, there are three combat-ready Marine divisions.

GM Workers Sign

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—After 12 weeks of negotiations, a contract covering local issues was agreed upon Sunday for 10,500 workers at two General Motors Frigidaire Division plants in Dayton and suburban Moraine City.

3 At Rogers Enter College

Three members of a Rogers family have started college studies. Miss Bernice Wise has enrolled at Western Reserve College at Cleveland while Raymond Wise and Miss Mildred Wise have enrolled at Kent State University.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Keiter of Baltimore were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pitzer. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Culp and sons of Columbiana visited Sunday at the Pitzer home.

Mrs. Eugene Holsinger returned Friday from a visit with her son, A. N. Charles, of Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bitner and Miss Dona Jean Radcliff of Fairmont, W. Va., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gorby.

Mrs. Ruth Cope was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morris of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lulu Hays of Lisbon.

Mrs. Jacqueline Eells visited Sunday with an aunt, Mrs. D. M. Stanley, of Alliance.

William Savors, minister of the Rogers Christian Church for 30 years and a teacher and principal in the East Liverpool school system for 16 years, has moved to Toltec, Ariz. He will serve as principal of a school there.

Palestine Teacher Given Service Leave

EAST PALESTINE — A leave of absence was granted by the Board of Education Monday night for Joel D. Carr, bookkeeping and business law instructor at the high school, who has been called for Reserve duty.

Carr, a teacher here for four years, is to report for duty this weekend at Ft. Lee, Va., and go overseas. No replacement has been obtained, but applicants are being interviewed.

It was reported the new $650,000 school improvement project is about 60 per cent finished, with the elementary structure near the junior high building close to completion. A steel deck is being erected this week at the addition at the high school.

'Leaving It To Dag'

More people have been saddened by Dag Hammarskjold's death than would be saddened by the death of any other figure in international politics.

Even the Russians who had been trying to ride him out of the secretary-generalship of the United Nations must feel sorry about his death. In him they had an opponent worth their most ruthless efforts to destroy him, because he would not be easy to destroy.

"Leaving it to Dag" had become a way out of blind alleys for people who usually talk about peace but frequently act as if they would rather have war. In places like the Congo he was the only hope of peace.

Whether his death on a mission there was pure accident or accident tainted with the malice of murder isn't going to be easy to know. It may never be known. It symbolizes what was threatening to be the crowning frustration of his single-minded crusade for world peace.

He had worked hard. He had kept his temper and his patience. He had brought to bear on his peace crusade all the skills of diplomacy and tact that he had mastered.

But things were not working well. Failure was in sight.

He was being closed in by the irreconcilability that shatters peace. He had been tagged for ruin by the Soviet Union. His policy of trying to disarm the Katanga troops of Moise Tshombe was under fire, because it had put the United Nations between the lines in a civil war. Berlin was raising the threat of nuclear war.

Hammarskjold could not have been sanguine about peace under existing circumstances.

Even his most trusting admirers were gloomy about his chances to pacify the Congo.

His death will bring to a gloomy climax all the dark fears about the perilous times we are enduring. With him gone, who will keep alive hope.

Civic Music Time

It's Civic Music membership time again, with the tri-state association now in the midst of its annual campaign.

Three concerts already have been arranged, and if sufficient memberships are obtained another will be added.

Civic Music plays an important role in the cultural scheme of things. It is essential to a well-rounded community program.

Through the association, local and district residents are given the opportunity of enjoying outstanding artists. The concerts in the past have been well received and have provided many hours of worthwhile entertainment. This season's attractions point to more of the same. And, as in the past, the local memberships open the door to concerts in other communities.

If you like good music, a Civic Music membership will prove a sound investment.

America Sends Its Sympathy

To Irish, Swedish and Indian troops beleaguered in Katanga Province by ruthless opponents who want to destroy them, America sends sympathy with understanding. It sends sympathy to their loved ones at home.

With nominal exceptions, other nations can send only sympathy. Only Americans can understand how it feels to bear the brunt of a prolonged and bloody United Nations police action.

No soldier who risks death under the United Nations banner can forget his nationality. He must fight as what he is—an American, an Irishman, a Swede, an Indian. If he dies, he must die as what he is. If his body is sent home, it will not be sent to the United Nations. It will be sent to the country that sent him away to fight.

His countrymen will not understand this. They will be troubled and vexed by what will appear to them as cross-purposes and negligence.

They will wonder querulously why their soldiers should bear the brunt of savage attacks and why other countries with equal status in the United Nations do not go forth with all the power at their command to subdue the enemy.

When told that the lives of their loved ones are being sacrificed for the sake of peace and that preservation of peace entails waging war under heavy mental and physical handicaps, they will doubt their ears and ask for explanations that won't be given.

Americans know this because they went through the torture of Korea, where 33,629 of their young men were killed in battle, another 20,197 died from other causes and 103,284 were wounded.

It never was clear why Americans bore the brunt in Korea. It never was clear what was derived of lasting value from so many deaths and so much destruction. It isn't clear how the United States bumbled into the Korea War or whether it ever will find its way out of it. American boys are still in Korea, still under the banner of the United Nations, still waiting for the possibility of savage attack.

America sends sympathy and understanding to Ireland, Sweden and India. But it sends no solution to the problem of how to enforce U.N. policies without bloodshed, and it sends no defense of U.N. policies that embroil peacemakers in civil wars.

Best Part Of The Pudding

In a matter of days, Congress will call it a session for 1961 and go home.

But this does not mean there was a failure.

The best proof of the political pudding in America is the way this country makes some of its longest strides forward by refusing to budge.

Historians pay scant attention to proposals that were rejected, preferring to concentrate on proposals that were accepted and their consequences. But in the evolution of popular government in the United States, proposals that were rejected saved the country time and again from moving in the wrong direction.

Two rejected proposals this year saved Americans from making grave mistakes—President Kennedy's proposed grants for schools and his radical approach to the farm problem, calling for a delegation of authority to the secretary of agriculture and farmers.

Failure of these two proposals does not in any way mean there has been a setback to the Kennedy administration or to the government. The proposals were unsound. There was no concert of opinion in their favor. Their backers could not make converts either in Congress or among the constituents of congressmen.

To have passed either of the proposals would have been a mockery of popular government. This also would have been true of the proposal to bypass the congressional appropriations method by authorizing the White House to borrow money for foreign economic development loans. There was no demand for this, either, except by a minority of persons with special interests and special viewpoints on foreign aid.

It is as easily possible to be thankful for bills that aren't passed as for some of the bills that are passed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

From "The Quiet Man," Mayor Wagner of New York has emerged as a hell-for-leather character out of "Westerns," the fastest draw east of the Pecos and a definite "Have Wallop; Will Travel" personality. His victory over Tammany, public school roof leaks and assorted scandals has lifted him out of role of "Robert the Und Garbed" to that of a figure somewhere between Wyatt Earp, Teddy Roosevelt and Dr. Parkhurst.

Add a few inches in height, a tendency to cry "Bully," a rough rider suit and he might even get the votes of Republicans in the regular election. He may even by ready for a Fiorello LaGuardia role reading the "funnies."

Wagner has become a tiger-eating man. He was raised in tigerhouse but concluded enough was enough and won landslide victory as animal trainer who made the big cat lie down and roll over.

He was never traditional Tammany type but up to this year he had staged no dramatic anti-organization performance. Few people suspected a rough and tumble nature was hidden beneath his "Leave us not get too excited" exterior.

But he switched abruptly from Yorkville, Yale and Gracie Mansion to Dodge City and Boot Hill, impressing the voters by sombrero and spurs touch to "Rough Rider" costume. He seemed the answer to a cry of "Call the cavalry post. We're surrounded by Indians."

He seems to be a mayor in orbit. White House, which brushed him off before the primary, has sent him all its love and Democrats all over the country are concluding he has become a top man in the party.

The fear is that Mayor Wagner, naturally an amiable, reserved, peaceloving man may find it hard to give right answer to his own question. "Is this me talking?" He looks 10 feet tall, but will there be shrinkage?

Tammany chiefs are inclined to think, "We will bury you" came from Robert, not Nikita. He appears to have stopped bunting and begun "going for the fences." Using the lively "brawl."

MAN IN THE MOON must be afraid that if Soviets get there first they will put barbed wire around him.

Professional Bowling Association will put up $25,000 jackpot in seven tournaments this winter. When we used to bowl in Al Johnson's alleys back home nobody offered a cigar if a fellow got six straight strikes. But the prize money is so high today that almost every week we run across some rich man who is a retired bowler.

"Girl With a Suitcase" is new movie. It's "in the bag."

President Sukarno of Indonesia says he is for guided democracy. This is a democracy in which all critics are guided to the doghouse.

Jackie Gleason, asked what man he would have liked to live on a desert island with, replied "Ghandi." — Yeah, but who would have handled the matter of the diet and abstention?

In Direct Competition

Canadian Rebellion Against Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

TORONTO, Canada

There is a north of the border, you know. The air is fresh because the wind is cool and men are willing to slug it out with their fists and anything else handy, when they are pushed around.

Victor Riesel

Over in the nickel mining area of Sudbury — mighty vital to U.S. defense supplies— there has been a series of hand-to-hand battles between rebellious local unionists and invaders dispatched by the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union International office in Denver.

The police have rushed in. The Mounties' intelligence unit keeps the town under surveillance. Now the civil war is complicated because the gendarmerie expects the International Mine, Mill headquarters to call on its new allies, the Teamsters, for reserve troops.

This would really start a brawl. The rebellious Canadian nickel miners want even less to do with Jimmy Hoffa than they want to stay tied to the Mine, Mill outfit.

WHEN WORD was flashed into Canada that the Mine, Mill Union —whose international president had been accused before the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee of being Communist— had allied with Hoffa, there was enough heated anger to melt all of Hudson Bay's ice.

The Nickel Workers local 637 over in Port Colborne ran the biggest meeting in mining history there. Some 1,700 miners told their officers to prepare to protect their union building.

Then they passed a resolution condemning the mutual assistance pact between Hoffa's Teamsters and the Mine, Mill international headquarters.

This may etch like acid on Hoffa's stockpile of steel nerves. Jimmy H. always has boasted that he's the labor giant loved by the rank and file and hated only by federal and corporate and journalistic monsters.

Well, apparently the good people of Sudbury and Port Colborne are not the only workers laying in a supply of bean stalks.

Before I looked in on the revolt of the Canadian nickel diggers, I talked to Joseph Beirne, leader of some 350,000 telephone workers. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America (CWA), has no use for muscle, just guts.

HE HAS a quiet whimsical theory that in any fight where it's brain against brawn, the mind will win. Furthermore, he believes that it's unethical to stand on the sidelines and let rebels fight it out alone behind the Teamsters lines.

So, the other day, Beirne urged the CWA Executive Committee meeting in Front Royal, Va., to declare open war on Jimmy Hoffa. They did.

The CWA board laid it on the line. It announced that it would call on the AFL-CIO to organize a Teamsters union to rival Hoffa's brotherhood.

LET NOT Mr. Beirne's words, and those of his colleagues, go unrecorded:

"Be it resolved that the executive board of the Communications Workers of America believes the time has come, and is in fact overdue, for the AFL-CIO to provide a place of refuge for the honest democratic members of the Teamsters union; and

"Be it further resolved that the CWA herewith calls upon the AFL-CIO to create and charter a new International Union of Truck Drivers and Motor Vehicle Carriers, open to all members and locals of the Teamsters who subscribe to the AFL-CIO's type of clean, honest, democratic trade unionism. . . .

"Be it further resolved that the CWA calls upon the AFL-CIO and our sister unions to give the full financial, moral and organizational support necessary to create and develop this new union free of corruption, free of communism, free of employer domination; (and) to build a union of, by and for the men and women of the truck driving and motor vehicle carrier industries; (and) to build a union capable of winning on its merits and achievements, the enthusiastic devotion of its members, the fraternal support of the labor movement, and the respect and friendship of the government and the American public."

THIS IS OPEN WAR! And Joe Beirne will urge it on the AFL-CIO high council and its general board (made up of all international union presidents) when they meet in New York City Oct. 9.

AFL-CIO chief George Meany has let it be known that if 10 Teamsters locals with membership totaling 10,000 rebel against Hoffa, the AFL-CIO will launch a rival national truck drivers brotherhood.

We presume the noise we'll soon hear will be Hoffa's roaring among the beanstalks.

The Fateful Question

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Instead of just a Berlin crisis, there may be a United Nations crisis.

The United States and Russia hold in their hands the fate of the world organization and therefore just about any hope for peace, remote as that seems.

The fateful question now is whether the two giants can agree on a successor to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed Monday in an African plane crash.

At last year's U.N. meeting in New York Premier Khrushchev not only called Hammarskjold a fool but said he had become a Western tool.

The secretary-general is the organization's highest executive officer. He runs it under the direction of the Security Council and the General Assembly.

Khrushchev a year ago demanded that Hammarskjold be replaced by three secretaries-general: one representing the West, one the Soviet bloc, and one the neutrals, with each able to veto what the others wanted.

This would render the United Nations helpless in any crisis and leave it, at best, strictly a debating society. It is questionable the United States would remain a member if three secretaries were appointed.

Outside the Soviet bloc Khrushchev got small support. Neutrals tried to suggest a middle ground — that the organization appoint three special assistants to the secretary-general. One would speak for the West, one for the Communist bloc, the other for the neutrals.

Nothing was done on this. Hammerskjold refused to quit. The Soviets were stuck with him, it seemed, until his term would expire in April 1963. His sudden death now gives Khrushchev a fresh chance to tear up the United Nations.

This country and Russia have other pressing problems — like Berlin and disarmament—and it's possible, to avoid an immediate U.N. crisis, they may reach a temporary compromise on a single successor to Hammarskjold.

By letting such an individual serve out the unexpired term, East and West could postpone their U.N. fight for two years. Even mentioning this kind of reasonable, if temporary, settlement comes under the heading of wishful thinking.

These next few days will reveal what is on Khrushchev's unpredictable mind.

The very machinery of the United Nations—for choosing a secretary-general—sets the stage for pulling the roof down, if anyone wants to.

First the 11-nation Security Council must recommend the choice for secretary to the 99-nation General Assembly. But the United States and Russia both sit in the Security Council. Both have the power of veto there.

Thus either could keep the other's proposal from getting to the General Assembly. Approval in the General Assembly must be by two-thirds vote.

To get around the dangerous bottleneck in the Security Council, perhaps some effort will be made to get the General Assembly somehow to act on its own to approve a new secretary without waiting for council recommendation.

Progress Appears To Be Satisfactory

OTTAWA

Canada, a country which has not known war on its homeland for almost a century-and-a-half, in addition to measures announced recently to increase its armed forces is accelerating civil defense plans.

The deterioration of the Berlin situation has produced a sharp increase in interest on the part of the government and to some extent of the public in problems of survival.

Planning, already considered to have come a long way in the relatively short space of time during which Canada has shown signs of wanting to take civil defense seriously, is now being considerably speeded.

There remain weak spots and even serious failings, in the program, and in many fields the effort has been as effective only as the weakest of the three links —Federal, Provincial and municipal—in the country's chain of government.

THERE HAS been hesitation, too, even on the part of the federal government. It has recommended that people build fallout shelters; but its approach has been half-hearted, the government not even providing these facilities for its employes occupying public housing, let alone building public shelters.

In many fields, however, officials, consider that progress has been satisfactory. The installation of warning systems is proceeding rapidly. Direct teleprinter facilities—supplemented by radio—linking provincial warning centers across the country to the federal headquarters are considered among the fastest anywhere, despite tremendous problems of distance.

Last month the army, assigned the major responsibility for civilian rescue, began manning alternative operational headquarters across the country at centers away from potential target areas.

At the same time it began preparing permanent rescue headquarters for each of the major cities, this also outside potential areas of destruction.

CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES, too, are prepared, if need be, to move key personnel to temporary facilities pending the construction of permanent emergency centers of government.

In their preparations, officials faced problems peculiar to Canada beyond the already massive ones associated with survival anywhere in a nuclear war. There are the great distances and the severity of the winters.

Medical officials estimating needs and stockpiling emergency supplies say, somewhat ruefully, that casualty depots could expect few seriously injured persons to reach treatment centers alive in very cold weather, unless they were rescued almost immediately.

Canada has not known war since 1812, when it fought against the United States. Any feeling of domestic security there might have been in that regard has been dispelled by its geographical situation between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

Canada's clear commitment to the Western alliance would leave the country little hope of escaping unscathed in a global conflict.

Even if Canada escaped direct enemy action, officials say that fallout could still be a serious threat to millions of Canadians. It could drift into Canada from detonations in the U.S.

UNTIL TWO YEARS ago Canadian civil defense had been developed essentially to reduce the impact of bombing upon civilians. It relied extensively on volunteers to deal with the activities which would arise from such attacks.

Even within this limited goal the program was haphazard and, on the whole, ineffective. The destructive potential of nuclear weapons rendered even the concept meaningless.

It was only two years ago that this realization dawned on the government with the need to do something about it.

Federal officials in turn asked that provincial and local authorities do their share. But, while some regional and local authorities have shown diligence in civil defense planning, others have been hard to move, despite the fact that the central government has offered to pay most of the cost.

But as the Berlin crisis deepens there are signs that all levels of government—and many of the public—are beginning to take their responsibilities seriously.

Survival officials, who must learn to play for the worst and hope for the best, are making the most of the opportunity. If the Berlin crisis is finally resolved, Canada's home defenses, they say, will be left that much stronger. If the crisis explodes at least the country will be that better prepared.

Letters To The Editor

Having been an active member of the Westgate PTA for the five years it has been organized, I would like to enlighten Mrs. Miller.

Our PTA was started on a shoestring by a few hard workers with a lot of guts. There have been a lot of mistakes made, but just like life we live and learn.

If people (I mean parents, because the teachers always have been well represented) would come to the meetings and speak their piece (and they can speak at anytime during the meeting) instead of discussing it over the back fence and the bridge table maybe the PTA could do something for the children and parents.

Every year our meetings have covered anything you parents can mention. They have been wonderful meetings and from the things I hear they are going to be better than ever.

Last year and the year before on election night there were only a handful of people to cast their vote. What right have those who sit at home and neglect their God-given right to vote (not only at school but at all elections) to criticize those who do get out and try, I have found that if you help those who are trying, you help yourself in the end.

Maybe some of you don't like the way those in office do things. Well, come to the meetings, learn what is going on and then vote for those you want in office.

As for our first meeting, I for one liked the way it went. It was exactly what was on the flyer that was sent home by the students. I think we all know that it is hard to discuss our children with strangers and the "Name-O" game was a grand way for people to get to know each other. Our first meetings always have been on this order. After five years of building up our PTA it makes me angry to think one letter can tear down all we have done in the past.

We have between 700 and 800 or more students in the grade school, so I would expect more than 50 to 75 parents to attend the PTA. Anyone, any time, can stand up and ask questions or speak his or her piece (as those who were at the last meeting know).

Please come for more than one meeting and see how unusual they all can be. We will try to make everyone feel welcome.

MRS. RALPH WIDGER
508 E. 3rd St.

Editor's note — Mrs. Widger's son, Ralph, 11, adds the following: Mr. Editor, I cannot write very well, but I think that if Mrs. Miller had attended some of the meetings last year she wouldn't have wrote her letter. As for the constuction area, they discussed it last year.

District Session Sept. 30

Teachers' Group To Convene Here

East Liverpool will be host to more than 500 school teachers and administrators from a six-county area for the second annual fall conference sponsored by the East Central Ohio Teachers Association Saturday, Sept. 30, at Westgate School.

Five distinguished educators will serve as speakers and consultants for the all-day program on modern approaches to the teaching of arithmetic in elementary schools, and the teaching of reading at junior and senior high school levels, Asst. Supt. Paul H. Blair of East Liverpool, ECOTA president, said.

TEACHERS and administrators from schools in Columbiana, Stark, Carroll, Tuscarawas, Holmes and Wayne Counties are expected for the conference, which will get under way at 9:30 a.m. (DST) and conclude at 3 p. m., Blair said.

Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria between 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m., an extra hour being allotted so the teachers and administrators may examine 35 new materials exhibits prepared by representatives of leading book companies.

Reservations for lunch must be made by Friday, Blair said. No reservations are required for the conference.

Heading the list of educators will be Dr. Laura Zirbes, emeritus professor of education at Ohio State University and considered one of the nation's outstanding leaders in elementary education, who will be the keynote speaker.

THE DISCUSSION speakers will include Dr. Harold P. Fawcett, professor of education at Ohio State University; Dr. Matilda Bailey of Philadelphia, author, lecturer, consultant and visiting professor at Slippery Rock (Pa.) State Teachers College; Dr. Merrill Hill, lecturer, consultant and mathematics field editor for Scott, Foresman & Co., and Dr. Martha Gesling Weber, professor of education at Bowling Green State University.

The program will open with a 45-minute general session at which Dr. Zirbes will give the keynote address on "Today's Challenge In Education." Blair will preside.

The first discussion session will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. with elementary teachers hearing Dr. Fawcett discuss "Modern Approaches to the Teaching of Arithmetic" and Dr. Bailey addressing secondary teachers and principals on "Modern Approaches to the Teaching of Reading."

DR. LAURA ZIRBES
She'll Be Keynote Speaker.

—:—

MISS MARGARET McLain, elementary supervisor in Carrollton exempted village schools, will be chairman of the elementary session, while Robert Abel, assistant superintendent of Dover schools, will serve as chairman for the secondary discussion group.

Following lunch and examination of the exhibits, the afternoon session will begin at 1:30.

Elementary teachers and administrators will hear an address by Dr. Hill on "Techniques for Teaching Arithmetic in Elementary Schools."

Dr. Weber will address the secondary group on "Reading Techniques In the Subject Areas in the Secondary Schools."

Roy G. Burlingame, elementary supervisor in Wayne County schools, will serve as chairman of the elementary group and Lloyd Dull, supervisor in Canton city schools, will be chairman of the secondary school group.

SUPT. RALPH W. Betts of East Liverpool and Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school supervisor of Columbiana County schools, are co-chairmen of the ECOTA's steering committee which arranged the program.

Other committee members include Miss McLain, Abel, Burlingame, Dull, and Miss Ethel Mae Reese, supervisor of Holmes County schools.

Bell Aide Is Speaker

Jaycees Told Of Missile Radar Warning System

A description of the DEW line and other early-warning radar systems and of NORAD, the central collection agency for all information to guard against a surprise attack by an enemy, was presented by William Gibson of Steubenville, district sales engineer for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., at the general membership meeting of the Jaycees Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Gibson's talk included a taped telephone conversation made earlier in the day with a command officer at NORAD, located at Colorado Springs.

The continental defense system along the Arctic Circle in Northern Canada and Alaska was started in 1954. The first 60 units were completed in 32 months, Gibson said. He also spoke on the line of radar units across central Canada and the Fir Line system at the border of the United States and Canada.

Gibson displayed a large map of the North American continent which was lighted to show where the various systems are located. He also spoke on a new system being installed in the Arctic area to detect intercontinental ballistic missiles. The nation will receive a three-hour warning on manned planes but only 15 minutes on missiles.

Included in the nation's network of defense are the Texas Towers off the east coast and submarine and airplane detection systems operated by Navy ships and planes in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

During the taped phone call, the officer at NORAD explained how many planes had been detected in a 24-hour period and how many were unidentified. He then went on to explain how positive identification was made on each craft. He also related an unidentified submarine — one not belonging to the United States or any friendly nation — was at that time located about 300 nautical miles from San Francisco. He said another was off the east coast. Both were being tracked constantly.

The officer also told how many Russian fishing boats were on the Grand Banks off the coast of New Foundland and of another fleet south of the Aleutian Island chain.

In the event of an attack, the order for interception of planes or retaliation will come from the NORAD headquarters.

Gibson was introduced by Robert Brooks, program chairman. Forty attended. Brooks gave the invocation.

Reports were heard from Jack Hales, secretary, and Eston Maple, treasurer. Guests included Mike O'Farrell, Robert Lynch and Dick Smith.

New members introduced were Wells Jackson, Joseph Gebauer and William Holden.

James Allison reported a convention club is being founded. Those joining will work to raise funds to sponsor trips to various Jaycee conventions.

It was reported the Jaycees are helping to sponsor a news broadcast on East Liverpool by Paul Harvey Oct. 7. The last 5 minutes of his 15 minute program will be devoted entirely to the city.

William Webber, president, conducted business. He announced the next all-state meeting is Sept. 30-Oct. 1 at Columbus. The Board of Trustees will meet Oct. 2 at the Chamber of Commerce office. The next membership meeting is Oct. 16. Joe Coons will be program chairman.

The board voted at a special meeting following the regular session to purchase a light meal for the East Liverpool High School football squad before they leave for the game with New Philadelphia Sept. 29.

Boy In Kindergarten Just Slightly Confused

"It's for that man who helps us if a big storm hits," he said.

"What's his name?" asked Randy's mother.

"I think it's Red."

"What his last name? Cross?"

"Yep, that's it. Red Cross."

Bataan Hero Cited For Embezzlement

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Sheriff Arthur Wermuth, who won fame as the "one-man army of Bataan" during World War II, was indicted Monday on charges of embezzlement, conversion of public funds and false pretenses.

Wermuth, 46, a Republican, said, "there are definite political overtones to this entire (Jefferson County) grand jury investigation." He said he wasn't allowed to testify.

Wermuth is charged with illegally obtaining $3,673 in county funds over a two-year period. He posted a $4,000 bond.

Wermuth was credited with killing 100 Japanese soldiers early in World War II. He was captured and spent three years in a Japanese prison.

Veteran Writer Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gilbert Forbes, 57, veteran newsman, war correspondent and radio and television newscaster, died Monday after a long illness. He began his newscasting for radio stations in St. Louis and Joliet, Ill., in the early 1930s and joined radio station WFBM, Indianapolis, in 1937. He was born in St. Louis.

The story of Joseph and his brothers occurs in Genesis.

School Board Meets

Lisbon Firm Gets Order For Coal

The Mineral Fuel & Supply Co. of Lisbon received a contract to furnish coal to city schools when the Board of Education considered bids Monday night.

The Lisbon firm, which has supplied coal for the last two or three years, bid $7 per ton for stoker and nut coal, $8.30 a ton for egg coal and $8.80 for lump coal.

The prices are the same as last year, Supt. Ralph W. Betts told the board.

THE ONLY other bid was received from W. J. Moore & Son Coal Co. of Salineville, which asked $9 per ton regardless of type.

The appointments of two principals, two elementary teachers and two half-time high school instructors also were approved.

Keith Dunlevy was named principal at Neville and Mrs. Marie Graham at Klondyke. They succeed William Savors, who was principal at both schools but resigned to move to Arizona.

Betts told the board the appointments are a "temporary" situation for this term with Mrs. Graham scheduled to become principal of both buildings under the board's policy. Dunlevy is aware of the situation, Betts added.

JAMES MOSS questioned the superintendent at length about the appointment of principals, asking if Dunlevy's appointment over another teacher with additional credits wouldn't defeat the board's policy of encouraging teachers to secure additional degrees.

The superintendent said it shouldn't discourage any teacher, explaining the appointment was a matter of judgment over which would be the better administrator.

Anthony LaNeve and Mrs. Gladys Patterson were appointed formally as elementary teachers while Sondra Marshall was named high school art teacher at half-time at a salary of $2,275 and Mary Carroll was appointed high school health teacher half-time at $2,500.

The resignation of William Showe as a teacher was accepted. Showe was granted a leave of absence last year for military training but notified school officials his obligation has been extended and he wants to be relieved of commitments here when discharged.

MRS. MARGARET Poe, a secretary in the high school office, was granted a leave of absence Sept. 15 until Oct. 31 with Mrs. Pearl Stamateris, a former employe, hired to replace her.

Al Harvey, Patterson Field custodian, was granted a leave of absence for the balance of the calendar year. Frank Kreefer, McKinley custodian, has been assigned temporarily to take Harvey's place and the board approved the temporary appointment of Charles Bole for the McKinley post for the remainder of this year.

The board granted permission for Gary Lones, now a senior, to complete his education at Beaver Local High School and also authorized the children of Robert Donaldson, a Beaver Local teacher, to attend Beaver Local schools.

Children from the Eastham family in the Beaver Local area were given permission to attend Glenmoor school. Betts reported "extenuating" circumstances in all of the cases.

THE BOARD also received a copy of a letter from Beaver Local Schools to Mrs. Robert Schlang in which the Beaver Local district turned down her request for her son to attend schools in the district. At its meeting Aug. 9, the city board also had denied Mrs. Schlang's request.

The board also authorized a letter be sent to county commissioners urging favorable consideration of plans to establish a sanitary district in the Glenmoor area.

The board approved the rent of the following buildings:

Westgate auditorium, Oct. 17, 24, 31 and Nov. 7, 14, and 21 to the Quota Club for a series of travelogues at a fee of $50 a night; Memorial Auditorium, Sept. 30, to Harding DeMolay chapter for a wrestling show with a fee of $90.

WESTGATE GYMNASIUM to Carnegie Public Library on Saturday morning for a program for members of reading clubs it conducted this summer with no rental fee; Westgate auditorium and cafeteria, Oct. 27-28, to the Sweet Adelines for rehearsal and program at a fee of $82, and Westgate cafeteria and library on Oct. 15 to the Business & Professional Women's Club for a district meeting.

The board also granted the County Election Board permission to use Neville, Klondyke, Horace Mann, McKinley, Pleasant Heights and Westgate buildings as polling places at the Nov. 7 election. The Pleasant Heights building also will be used to register unqualified voters on Sept. 27.

An application from William J. McKeever, 238 Ravine St., to be hired as a plumber in the school system was received and filed. The board said it is not considering the establishment of the post at present but will retain the application on file.

THE BOARD also authorized the senior high school to become a member of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Leo C. Lawrence, who was absent, was appointed delegate to the northeast regional meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association Friday at Kent.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported receipt of $171,707.71 as the third quarterly settlement from the state foundation program.

She reported a balance of $176,537.82 in all school funds, including $155,850.85 in the general operating account.

Charges Dismissed In Delinquency Case

The charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old East Liverpool girl was dismissed Monday afternoon against Haywood Goldsmith of Harvey Ave., by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin. The complainant, his wife, asked to have the charges dropped due to illness.

Custody of the girl was turned over to Columbiana County welfare authorities, who are expected to return her to West Virginia. She has been in this county only since July 16, court was advised.

Goldsmith had been confined to the County Jail since Sept. 7 when unable to make bond.

Evangelistic Series Scheduled At Lisbon

LISBON — A series of revival services will begin Wednesday night at the Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Don Isenberg of Bournonnais, Ill., in charge.

Rev. Isenberg studied at the Allentown (Pa.) Bible Institute and Trevecca Nazarene College at Nashville, Tenn. He is a chalk artist and attended art school.

Rev. Isenberg was a pastor for seven years before entering evangelistic work.

The Rev. Russell Long, pastor of the host church, said services will be held nightly at 7:30 through Oct. 1.

Pamela Stewart, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Setwart of Sprucevale Rd., received an injury to the right wrist in a fall while playing ball.

Dr. John Fraser Chosen For Ohio Volunteer Group

Dr. John A. Fraser of Highland Colony has been elected a member of the American Cancer Society's top level volunteer group in Ohio, it was announced today by Mrs. Edna Jones, president of the Columbiana County unit of the ACS.

Dr. Fraser will begin a two-year term next month on the 68-member Board of Trustees of the ACS Ohio division, representing the six counties in District 6 of the Ohio Medical Society.

The board helps to develop and co-ordinate the $2 million yearly statewide cancer control programs.

Dr. Fraser was elected at a regional meeting of ACS leaders Sunday in Cleveland.

Local volunteers attending the session heard plans for presenting needed information on cancer to men and women where they are employed.

Attending the session were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jane Jolly, executive secretary of the county unit; Mrs. Gertrude Reese, county delegate to the session; Mrs. Audrey B. Newtz, publicity chairman, and Miss Mary Alice Lemal, board member.

McElroy Claims 5 'Frankensteins' Caused By Crime

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy told more than 100 area pastors Monday night that organized crime has created five "Frankensteins."

He said the "Frankenstein" monsters were:

1. Community complacency and tolerance for the so-called smoke shop or pool room gambling.

2. The theory and practice that candidates for public office of both parties might accept campaign contributions from any source.

3. The compulsive gambler.

4. The relationship between the gambling syndicate and other criminal activities.

5. The effect of organized crime upon commerce and industry and the otherwise unaffected citizens.

Deaths and Funerals

Ex-Rogers Resident Dies

EAST PALESTINE — Miss Susan C. Shafer, 436 W. North Ave., former resident of Rogers and Rochester, died this morning at 9:15 at Providence Hospital at Beaver Falls after an illness. She was 78.

Born Oct. 15, 1882, in Middleton Township, she was a daughter of John and Zoliza Underwood Shafer. She worked for many years at the former Boggs & Buhl Department Store at Pittsburgh, and also taught music.

She was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and had moved here about two years ago after the family home burned at Rogers.

Survivors include two brothers, Charles M. Shafer and Walter S. Shafer, and a sister, Miss Sarah Shafer, all at the home.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Warrick Funeral Home at Columbiana by the Rev. H. Dale Rough. Burial will be in East Carmel Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Infant Govey

Thomas William Govey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Govey of Alpine Way, Chester, died at 7:40 a. m. today, shortly after premature birth at City Hospital.

Survivors include the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry of the Casting Club Rd., and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Govey of Chester.

Graveside services will be Wednesday at Mill Creek Cemetery near Hookstown. The Rev. Merle Dickson of the Chester Free Methodist Church will officiate.

Miss Ruth Pangburn

EAST PALESTINE—Miss Ruth Pangburn, 67, of Geneva, sister of Mrs. Myra Chilson of East Palestine, died this morning at 3:45 at Geneva Memorial Hospital.

She was a former teacher at Geneva and Ravenna.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Belding-Webster Funeral Home at Geneva.

A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Katanga Says It Has Taken Big UN Base

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga's military forces claimed today they had wrested the big U.N. base at Kamina from its Irish and Swedish defenders after a six-day battle.

The U.N. chief in Katanga, Conor Cruise O'Brien, insisted however, that the hard-pressed defenders still held the air strip in that vital base 280 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

As O'Brien met with reporters at his headquarters in Elisabethville, capital of secessionist Katanga, a Katanga plane attacked the building. Its bombs fell wide but the headquarters grounds were raked by machinegun fire. There were no casualties.

The claim that Kamina had fallen to the attacking Katangans, reportedly led by white officers, was made by Katanga's military radio.

A U.N. spokesman in this Congo capital said there was nothing in messages from Kamina to indicate that the garrison had surrendered.

Heavy fighting also was reported in Kabalo, 150 miles west of Albertville, where Katanga forces occupied the airfield.

5 Await Steubenville Highway Discussions

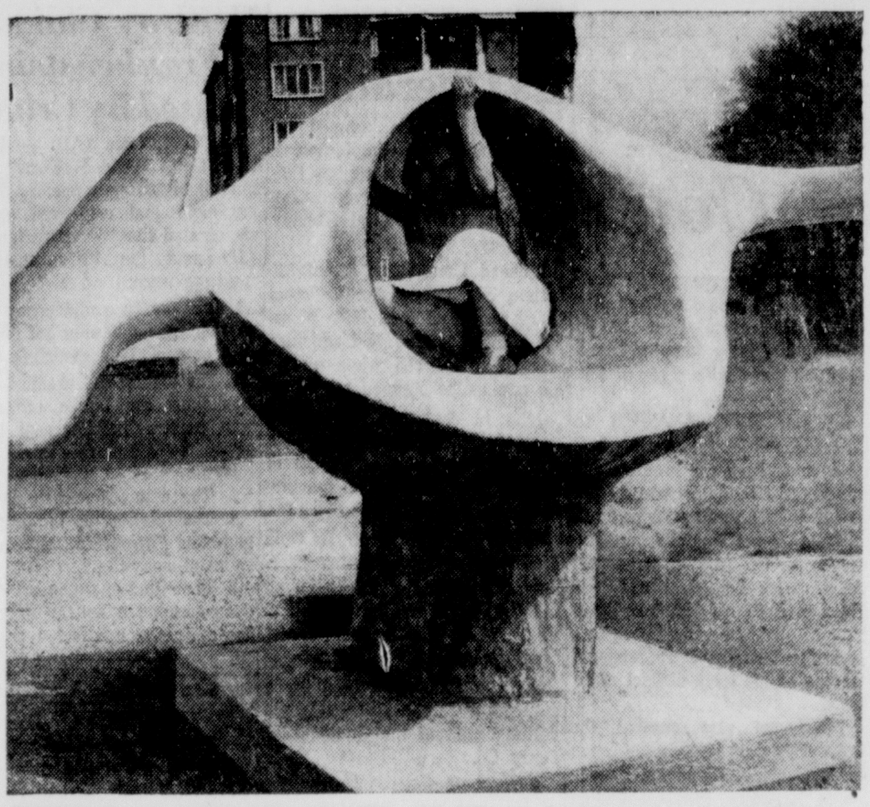

A delegation of at least five from East Liverpool will attend a luncheon meeting of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Wednesday noon at the Steubenville Country Club to discuss current plans for north - south and east - west throughway improvements.

The group will include Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the UOVDC highway committee and presiding officer for the meeting; C. W. Ashbaugh, a UOVDC vice president; Alvin T. Babb, Chamber of Commerce president; Jud English, representing the Columbiana County Auto Club, and E. R. Chandler, Chamber secretary-manager.

Sixty are expected from the six-county UOVDC area to discuss projects with highway department officials from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Lisbon Girl Honored

Chosen 'Miss Poppy'

Linda Jean McCamon, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCamon of W. Spruce St., Lisbon and representative of the Lisbon American Legion Post 275 auxiliary, is the national American Legion Auxiliary's "Miss Poppy."

Her scrapbook was selected for first place at the national convention in Denver, Sept. 11-14, according to Mrs. Jack Stockman and Mrs. Robert Gardner, co-chairmen of the Lisbon auxiliary's recent Poppy sale. Mrs. Russell Shaw also assisted the chairmen in preparing the scrapbook of publicity, which won the state contest as well as the national.

This is the highest award given to any department and is judged on news releases and the number of presentations given by Miss Poppy to sell the Legion-made symbolical flower.

Mrs. William Gill of Minerva, second vice president of the Department of Ohio, informed the chairmen of Linda's selection on her return from the convention.

Mrs. Dorothy McKelvey of Scio, 10th District auxiliary president, will present the Lisbon auxiliary with a $25 award for its efforts in promoting the poppy sale which won the national prize.

Space Station Attendants Due More Than Smile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Attendants who man space "filling stations" of the future won't get by with just a friendly smile and the uncomplicated question: "Regular or ethyl?"

An astronaut might steer his space ship into a filling station orbiting the earth and say: "Fill 'er up with inhibited red fuming nitric acid and unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine."

The first part, IRFNA, is an oxidizer, a chemical with high oxygen content. Because there is no oxygen-laden air in space, rocket engines can't depend on it to ignite fuel as earth - based automobiles can. The second part of the order, UDH, is the actual rocket fuel.

When another space pilot pulls in and asks for hydrogen peroxide, it won't be used to bleach his wife's hair. It will be his oxidizer. The fuel to go with it could be any of the following: aluminum-enriched polyethylene, boron trimethyl, cyanogen, diborane, lithium aluminum hydride or pentaborane.

British Forces Start Kuwait Withdrawal

A big beverly transport plane headed out over the Persian Gulf carrying the first men to leave — 80 sunburned soldiers from the 2nd Parachute Battalion — to Bahrain.

The British troops were flown in at Kuwait's request last July after neighboring Iraq laid claim to the little Sheikdom, a former British protectorate rich in oil.

The British agreed to withdraw after members of the Arab League, with Iraq vigorously dissenting, voted to send in forces to protect Kuwait's sovereignty.

Teachers Different On Marriage Signs

It also was diagrammed in the manner used by school children learning grammar.

Merger

However, the petition lacked the required 35 per cent of qualified voters in the Franklin Local and Southern Local districts combined.

Authorities feel the petition will have no effect upon the merger, but a formal ruling is to be sought from the prosecutor.

Appointment of five members to the Board of Education of the combined district by the county board last month was apparently premature, officials said today, and official appointments will have to be made later.

The county board apparently should have waited until the new district actually went into existence before naming an interim board to serve until elections could be held.

County Supt. James McBride said today the procedure for the appointment was "misinterpreted." The board had named J. B. Fergason and Martin Adams of Salineville, John Ewing of Wayne, Jack Stewart of No. 16 and Jack Dangelo of Franklin to the new board.

The county board expects to wait for a ruling from the prosecutor concerning the Franklin Local petition, and if it is ruled non-valid, a board will be appointed anew for the combined district, probably the same men as those named previously. This may be done at the meeting Oct. 17.

Owners of the plane, the Swedish Air Co., said in Leopoldville the plane might have been shot down by a jet fighter from rebellious Katanga's tiny air force. Hammarskjold was on his way to discuss a cease-fire between U.N. and Katanga forces with Katanga President Moise Tshombe when disaster struck.

A U.N. spokesman said neither gunfire nor sabotage could be ruled out. British and Rhodesian authorities launched an investigation.

As the bodies of Hammarskjold and the other victims were brought to the Ndola hospital mortuary, the world's uneasy capitals worried about the effect of his death on the United Nations.

Tributes were paid to Hammarskjold and his ceaseless labors for peace around the world. In many parts of Europe and elsewhere, fears were expressed that his death and Soviet stalling tactics might jeopardize the future of the United Nations.

In New York, the U.N. General Assembly was opening one of its most crucial sessions. Western diplomats strove to prevent the Soviet Union, arch foe of Hammarskjold, from paralyzing the United Nation's work by delaying the appointment of a successor.

Hammarskjold's death prompted President Kennedy to decide to go before the United Nations Friday or Monday to affirm "at a time of crisis for the United Nations," support for the United Nations and its principles, a White House spokesman said.

Hammarskjold's death posed grave problems for the United Nations and its Congo operation. He had been a major cementing factor in the world organization and the U.N. Congo force was his own idea to keep the new nation from lapsing into anarchy.

The search for his successor must be conducted under Communist pressure to replace the office of secretary-general with a three-man board of Communist, neutral and Western representatives, each with a veto. This probably would paralyze the world organization. Maneuvering in the wake of Hammarskjold's death is likely to impede U.N. debate on the Berlin crisis and other pressing problems.

The death of Hammarskjold also leaves the Congo on the brink of chaos. U.N. troops, who went on the offensive last week to disarm Tshombe's troops and bring Katanga's mineral wealth back under the Congo's central government, were still fighting Tshombe's army.

Katanga's forces claimed the capture of the main U.N. base in Katanga at Kamina and fighting was reported spreading to other areas of the province.

in the strife-torn Congo, where a breakdown of U.N. authority would probably result in civil war in which the great powers might become engaged.

Disorganization of the U.N. machinery is assumed by U.S. leaders to be Moscow's goal. They are deeply worried about the worldwide dangers of a prolonged dispute over the issue.

Under the U.N. charter, a new secretary-general must be chosen by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. Like the other big powers, the Soviet Union has a veto in the Security Council. It opposes a single secretary-general. A year ago Premier Khrushchev personally led a fight to replace Hammarskjold with a three-man board.

It may turn out that Khrushchev will try to lump his demands for reorganization of the United Nations with his demands on the Western Allies in the Berlin crisis, backing both with his nuclear weapons power.

Rusk and Stevenson decided, however, that they should try to devise some means of protecting the United Nations as much as possible against the damage of a prolonged battle over Hammarskjold's successor. In consultation with leaders of other friendly delegations they encouraged the idea that the power to act urgently could be found in the General Assembly where the veto does not exist.

Diplomats familiar with this developing plan said the objective would not be to name an acting secretary-general but rather to set up a caretaker administration under an official empowered to carry out the directives of the Security Council and the assembly until a secretary-general can be named.

In the gloomy atmosphere, many delegates were heartened by the announcement that President Kennedy will address the assembly to reaffirm U.S. support for the organization in its hour of crisis. The White House said Kennedy will appear here this week or next, but Friday was the most likely date.

District Fruit Crop Attains Season Peak

With the fall fruit parade in full swing, counters at district markets are loaded down with a wide selection of locally - grown products, according to Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield.

Peaches continue to dominate the market, but apples are becoming of increasing importance, Skinner said.

Peaches will be the top attraction on area fruit counters for another couple of weeks. Supplies are not as large as in some years, but there are enough to go around. Growers report that they are now picking J. H. Hale and Elberta varieties. Both are good canning peaches. You may find some Belle of Georgia still on area markets. It is considered good for freezing or fresh use.

Most of the peaches now on the market do not have the size that earlier peaches had, but the quality of the late crop this year is considered excellent. If you plan to freeze or can peaches this year, you will want to do so within the next week or two, as the large supply will be about gone by then, as will the varieties which are good for freezing or canning.

Apples, the king of fall fruits, will be with us until about next May. However, the next two months will be the period of greatest supply.

The summer apple season soon will be over and we will be into the season of the most popular fall varieties such as McIntosh, Jonathan and Delicious. The last of the summer apples on the market is the Wealthy, which is considered an excellent cooking apple.

McIntosh, although not fully ripe, is on some markets. The McIntosh is an excellent eating apple when ripe. If you buy your apples from a reliable source, you will stand a better chance of getting ripe apples.

Another good all-purpose apple beginning to appear on the market is Ohio Non-Pereil. While it does not have the ruby red color this year that consumers like to see, it is a high quality apple.

Apples will be economically priced this year because of the very large crop, so plan to include this economical fruit in your fall menus as often as possible. New dishes will be introduced by the National Apple Institute this fall.

Bartlett pears of high quality now are available on many area markets. The Bartlett pear is a large bell-shaped pear with smooth, clear yellow skin often blushed with red. It has a fine grained flesh that is sweet and juicy.

You will find a few Seckel pears on the market. It is a small pear with dull yellowish - brown color with white flesh. Seckel pears have a spicy flavor which makes them ideal for pear butter or preserves.

Pears are one of the few fruits which are best when ripened off of the tree. Pears are often sold while still green. If they are stored in a cool place, they will soon ripen and have their golden color. The most important thing to look for when buying pears is firmness. A soft pear will not hold up for any length of time.

September is the peak month for plum production. While most of the plums come from California, local farmers are now picking prune plums. If your family likes plums, now is the time to buy as they are in peak supply both locally and nationally. Select plums that are plump, clean, of fresh appearance and soft enough to yield to pressure.

Concord grapes will make their appearance on area markets within the next week or two. This is the blue-black grape which is grown locally and is considered the juice grape. The Concord variety accounts for 70 percent of all Ohio-grown grapes. Three pounds will make one quart of juice. Other varieties of grapes that are in abundant supply are the Tokay, Thompson Seedless and Ribier varieties.

Highly flavored, sweet, juicy homegrown melons are among the favorite fruits on the market now. But choosing melons is somewhat like buying a "pig in a poke." It is difficult to be sure of the sweetness or ripeness of the melon until it is cut and tasted. The outside appearance must serve as a guide to melon flavor and juiciness.

The softness of the blossom end may or may not indicate ripeness. Too many "pinchers" when shopping can soften an unripe melon. The following steps will help you in determining when a melon is good. First, feel the weight of the cantaloupe, buy those that are heavy for their size. Second, inspect the stem end. It should be slightly sunken, smooth and well calloused. If so, this is an indication the melon was ripe when picked. And third, buy melons that have a rich distinct aroma. Remember the presence of moisture at the stem end is an indication that the melon is green.

New Division Set Up By Patterson Company

HOWARD CROSSLEY

NORMAN E. BROWN

The Patterson Foundry and Machine Co., one of the nation's oldest suppliers of chemical processing equipment, has established a new division — the Process Equipment Trading Co.

It will be headed by Howard Crossley. He will be assisted by Norman E. Brown.

Patterson's general manager, William Barker, said "the new division came into being after a comprehensive study was made of customer requirements in processing equipment. Throughout the country it appeared that countless companies were stymied in their modernization programming because of the huge capital investments which were tied up in plant equipment being replaced".

With the new division, he explained, Patterson "is prepared to take in this surplus equipment as partial payment of new equipment while offering a wide variety of financing programs. The equipment taken in is to be rebuilt or converted into useful equipment for resale".

Crossley has returned to Patterson where he started in 1946. He purchased and sold various types of paint and chemical processing equipment. In 1953, he moved to Chicago Heights, Ill., where he operated the Process Machinery Supply Co. and acted as the general manager of the Bisbee Agri-chemical Crop.

Brown previously managed the Industrial Products Co. at Wellsville, which was active in the new and used industrial equipment market, and for more than 20 years engineered the process equipment line of the Stevenson Co. at Wellsville.

Episcopalians Plan Debate On Bid To Quit Unit

DETROIT, (AP) — A move to pull the Episcopal Church out of the National Council of Churches developed at the Episcopalian General Convention today. It appeared to have only scattered support but the issue may stir up one of the liveliest hassles at the church's triennial meeting.

"This issue needs more light and less heat," said a lay delegate at the opening session of the House of Deputies, representative branch of the church's two-chamber governing body.

The council is formed by 33 Protestant demoninations with nearly 40 million adherents. Some Episcopalians are disturbed by its pronouncements on controversial political issues.

day and night... A CEASELESS STREAM OF PEOPLE

In Africa, the Angolans fled their terror-struck country and poured into the strife-torn Congo. Tens of thousands . . . a ceaseless stream. And they were all hungry.

But within days there were tons of powdered milk, rice, beans, fish, and beef, as well as bales of clothing . . . and hospitals quickly sent medical aid.

On the spot to comfort, feed, house and help were the forces of American religious agencies . . . dedicated to helping those in need, no matter what their political or religious affiliation.

Help like that given Angolans goes on everywhere. America's three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain programs that help millions in need overseas every year . . . with jobs, tools, education, equipment . . . and hope.

Miss Mary Jane Putt Weds During Dallas Church Rite

Miss Mary Jane Putt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Putt, 857 Armstrong Ln., became the bride of Langdon A. Viracola, son of Mrs. Thomas Viracola of Long Branch, N. J., and the late Thomas Viracola, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Dallas, Tex.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, appliqued with Alencon lace, encrusted with pearls, and long tapered sleeves, ending with the same lace applique. The bouffant skirt, featuring lace applique and three self-fabric French roses, fell into a chapel train.

Her butterfly veil of pure silk French illusion was attached to a custom coif of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and stephanotis. She received a diamond centered cross necklace from the bridegroom.

Miss Joyce Wasserman was maid of honor and Miss Dianne Sharp was bridesmaid. They appeared in sapphire blue chiffon taffeta gowns, designed with fitted bodices, three - quarter sleeves and bell skirts. Floating panels offered back accent. Their matching petal hats of organza held theater veils. They carried bouquets of coral carnations.

Richard Harrison was best man. Ushers were Mike Nixon, Dr. Peter Kurilecz and Tom Frankhauser.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of imported embroidered poudre blue silk fashioned with a cummerbund of organza. She used periwinkle blue accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink lace sheath with matching velvet hat and bag and coral rosebud corsage.

A reception for 150 was held at Club Bali in Dallas. A four-tiered cake, topped with a bridal couple and encircled with wedding bells and roses, centered the buffet table. Blue tinted roses and matching satin bows completed the setting. A dinner was held later for 25 members of the immediate families.

MRS. L. A. VIRACOLA
Bride Of Saturday Ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and Ohio Valley Business College. She formerly was employed at WOHI. A graduate of American Airlines School, she has been employed as a stewardess at Dallas.

Her husband is a graduate of Fordham University, where he received his bachelor's degree in law. He was a player and scout for the Washington Redskins football team. During the last three years, he was general manager of the Launder-Coin Corp. and was recently elected president of the American Plastics Corp. in Dallas, where the newlyweds will reside.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Some close friends have a lovely home. We enjoy their company but it's gotten to the point that we hate to go over there because of the way they inflict their children on the guests.

Here's the routine: No sooner do we arrive than the 10-year-old has to recite "The Gettysburg Address" plus three or four elocution pieces. Then the 8-year-old plays a 20-minute piano program. The 6-year-old is "in the wings" in her ballet costume and we must watch "The Dance of the Pussy Willows" and her version of "The Swan."

Last night it was 10 o'clock before they got the kids off stage so the adults could visit. My husband says he's not going to suffer through another such evening. I know we'll be invited again soon. What shall I say?—ENOUGHSVILLE.

Dear Enoughsville: If they are close friends you should be able to level with the hostess. If you do, it will be a good test of the friendship.

If they value your company they'll respect your husband's point of view and stash the kids before you arrive. If not, they'll interpret your candor as an insult and you won't be invited again.

Forbidden Waters

Dear Ann: Our son is a medical student who is going to school four quarters a year so he won't "waste any time."

He's an excellent scholar, hard working and serious. He appreciates the sacrifices his father and I have made so he can enter this wonderful profession.

His girl friend has been making his life miserable. She is always mad at him because he can see her only two evenings a week and on Sunday afternoons. He becomes depressed because she bawls him out all the time for being such a bookworm. I'm afraid her nagging will interfere with his studies unless someone gives her a better understanding of what a young man must go through to become a doctor.

Do you think it would help if I phoned her and set her straight? I would be very nice and merely explain the facts.—MED STUDENT'S MOM.

Dear Mom: Keep your oar out of those forbidden waters. When your son has had a gullet full of this girl's selfish demands he'll give her the gate. Anything you say or do would be considered meddling and he'd resent it.

Insurance Gougers

Dear Ann: As an officer of an insurance company I'd like to comment on a recent column. It involved a woman who confided to a friend that she planned to collect a sizeable amount on a phony injury.

You told her the insurance companies catch up with a surprising number of fakers and that the results can be humiliating. I'd like to add this:

Honest citizens have to pay dearly for the detective work required to catch up with the chislers. These costly investigations are reflected in the inflated rates of insurance policies for everyone.

I've talked to a good many men and women who have been caught faking claims. Strangely enough, they wouldn't dream of short-changing the paper boy or putting an extra orange in the sack but when dealing with an insurance company the retaliation is, "why not soak 'em? The company is rich."—HARTFORD, CONN.

Confidentially

TO MAN HATER, TOO: I don't know about YOU but you're wrong about ME. I'm not a man hater, in fact I like men. We have them right in our own family.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Appetite Size Must Be Cut To Fit Frame

Hunger and appetite are not synonymous. Hunger can be satisfield by a comparatively small amount of food. True hunger is based on physical need. While appetite is closely akin to hunger, appetite knows what it likes. In short, appetite is mental and is learned, then ingrained by habit.

Ida Jean Kain

The trouble with overeating is not only that it leads to excess pounds, but lessens resistance to overeating. Recognize that the practice of eating until full enlarges food capacity. It's the size of your stomach that determines the amount of food you can eat at one sitting.

Does nature tell us when to stop eating? Yes, but you get only one signal . . . and it's easy to ignore it because appetite is second nature. When food looks appetizing and tastes delicious, the faint satiety signal goes unnoticed.

SELECTIVE APPETITE entices you to continue eating, although at the time you may mistake the feeling for hunger. One test — what are you hungry for?

After finishing the main course of a slimming meal, would you be happy to eat any food . . . such as a second serving of string beans or a sliced tomato without dressing? If so, enjoy it.

But at the point where you feel hungry only for a favorite food or for something particularly delicious, you are not really hungry. From that point on, you are catering only to appetite.

"What forced this enormous appetite on me?" a reader inquired indignantly. Her appetite has brought her to a size 20 when by nature's original design she should be a size 16. The force of habit.

How to shrink appetite back down to size? There is only one way to do it . . . reverse the overeating process. Overeating enlarged your food capacity. By curbing the amount of food you eat at any one meal, you can gradually shrink that appetite back down to proper size. This takes a little time.

During the first week or so on modest meals, you must expect to feel a little dissatisfied when you get up from the table. Contrary to what you may think, you will not feel hungry from then until the next meal.

In fact, 30 minutes after a meal you will be able to forget about food since by then the digestive processes are underway. Always make sure to include a protein food at each meal since it is highest in satiety value.

FOR REASSURANCE, read this line from a letter: "You told us we would feel hungry on a diet for about a week. Well, it took me three weeks to really get control of my appetite.

Now, after three months of dieting, not only have I lost 20 pounds, but I am truly amazed to find I no longer like to overeat!"

Send a long, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Rites At Lisbon Church Unite Joan Woodall, Lester Strum

Miss Joan H. Woodall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther D. Woodall of S. Beaver St., became the bride of Lester Strum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Lisbon R. D. 2, on Saturday evening, at a 7:30 o'clock ceremony in the Lisbon First Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Brown, pastor, officiated at the double ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of white flocked nylon featuring a square scalloped neckline, cap sleeves and a white satin cummerbund. Her fingertip length veil of nylon net was held in place with a tiny circlet of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her mother, overlaid with an arrangement of stephanotis and cascading satin wedding streamers.

Attendants Listed

Roger Kelch served as best man.

Mrs. Woodall chose a dress of medium blue silk crepe with matching clip hat and accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Each complemented their attire with corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the newly-furnished apartment of the couple at 204 W. Lincoln Way, where they will reside. Twenty friends and relatives were present.

Flowers Mark Table

The bride's table was laid in white linen and centered with a three-tiered cake decorated in lavender rosebuds. Floral arrangements of lavender gladiolus marked either side of the cake.

Mrs. Evelyn Laney of Wellsville, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Violet Woodall of Hanoverton, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Mary Swartz, sister of the bride, served the cake and strawberry punch.

Ohio Is Seen Probable Moon Shot Plan Center

Earlier this month, the governor sent to James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, a 32-page brochure outlining advantages for locating the $185 million command center in Ohio.

DiSalle, who also sent copies of the brochure to President Kennedy and members of Ohio's congressional delegation, disclosed Monday he received a letter from Webb saying the pamphlet would receive careful attention.

The governor said Webb's letter indicated that federal decision on location of the command center is still open. Cape Canaveral, Fla., has been picked for the launch site, and areas with milder winter climates are under consideration for other phases of the project, Webb wrote.

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Mon C. Wallgren, 70, Democratic governor of Washington from 1944 to 1949 who earlier served as U.S. senator and representative in Congress, died Monday. He had been hospitalized for injuries suffered July 8 in an automobile accident. Wallgren, who represented Washington's 2nd District in the House from 1932 to 1940 and was U.S. senator from 1940 to 1944, also served as chairman of the Federal Power Commission in 1950-1951. He was born in Des Moines, Iowa.

'Who's Building Fallout Shelters?' CD Official Asks

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Who's building the fallout shelters?" John J. Pokorny, director of civil defense in Cleveland and CD coordinator in Cuyahoga County, wants to know.

CD officials said Monday its headquarters had received more than 2,000 inquiries about the shelters in the last 30 days. As the Berlin crisis got worse, the calls increased.

"If people are building them, they aren't telling anybody," said Pokorny. He said some of the questions CD is getting are pretty "steep."

"They want to know what if this happens, what if that happens," Pokorny added. He said he thought people were afraid to say if they have a shelter. "They feel that if they say they have a shelter, or are building a shelter, they'll be considered crackpots," he explained.

Wellsville Group Hears Minister

The Rev. Loren W. Fowler of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church at Canton urged members of the United Presbyterian Men's Organization to "strive for excellence" in all endeavors during his talk before the group Monday night at the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Fowler said nobody should be satisfied with being average. He said they should seek for excellence in church work and school programs for their children. His topic was "The Place of Men In the Life of the Church."

Thirty attended. The program opened with the group singing of "O Jesus I Have Promised." It will be used to open all meetings. James Salsgiver had the Scripture reading and Jerry Russell, president, offered prayer.

The purpose of Presbyterian Men will be recited at each meeting. The tentative program for the year was approved. Dues for the year were set at $1.

This was the kick-off dinner marking the beginning of the 1961-62 church year. The meal was served by Mrs. Noble's Sunday School Class.

Next meeting is Oct. 16.

More Quizzing Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police planned more questioning today for Herbert Wiseman, 49, out-of-work bartender who admitted beating an apartment caretaker who died later. Vanis Church, 56, suffered fatal head and internal injuries.

ROGERS — Committees for the year were named and a program was presented on mental health at the initial meeting of the Rogers Parent - Teacher Association Friday night at the school. Thirty-five attended.

Appointed by Charles Sienerth, president, were Mrs. Dorothy Williams, chairman, Mrs. Dorothea Smith, Miss Ruth Mackall, Mrs. Wanda Lipp, Mrs. Gladys Hostetter, Glen Hawkins and Robert Urmson, ways and means; Don Lipp, membership; Mrs. Dorothy Hawkins, lunch, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Lee and Mrs. Patsy Pancake, entertainment.

Movies and a talk on mental health were presented by the Rev. C. O. Armstrong of Lisbon, president of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, and Mrs. Donald Thompson of East Liverpool.

The ways and means committee announced a public card party will be held Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p. m. by the Mothers Club. A coverdish dinner will be held Oct. 6 at 6:30 p. m.

The PTA voted to purchase an electric organ for the school. Mary Cope played a piano solo.

Refreshments were served. Next meeting is Friday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Post Gives Fund Towards Chapel

A donation of $10 to the Chapel of the Four Chaplains in Philadelphia was authorized when American Legion Post 374 met Monday night in the East End home.

James Cregar, commander, presented a report on the national convention in Denver, which he attended as a delegate of the Columbiana County Legion Council.

Plans were announced for a coverdish dinner of the County Council Oct. 28 at Columbiana Post 290.

The post has enrolled 50 members. Its quota for 1961-62 is 603.

Twenty-five attended. Movies of the convention will be screened by John Fone at the next meeting Monday night.

The post will hold a dance Saturday from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. with Dick Malone's band to provide music.

Reds Using Loudspeakers As New Weapon In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists have brought a new weapon into their way of nerves against West Berlin.

All along the concrete and barbed wire barriers of the divided city, they have opened up with a barrage of loudspeakers turned at full strength toward West Berlin.

They blare out propaganda, threats, scorn and flattery—interspersed with American jazz and German waltzes.

Some of the loudspeakers are mounted on trucks. Others are hung in trees overlooking the border or fixed to the boundary fence.

Aug. 13 was the day the East Germans sealed off West Berlin to stop the flood of refugees fleeing from Walter Ulbricht's Communist rule.

The programs usually open at 5 a.m., startling thousands of West Berliners out of their sleep. At most points, the noise continues throughout the day.

"We are Germans like you, and soon we will be reunited. But we are soldiers too, and if we are attacked we will not hesitate to shoot, even at Germans."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Please give a few suggestions on the preparing of better gravy.

A. If your gravy is too lumpy, beat it with an eggbeater until the lumps disappear. When gravy does not brown as it should, add to it a tablespoon of strong coffee. The addition of a tablespoon of cream to brown gravy makes it extra-delicious.

Q. How can I treat patent leather shoes and other articles to prevent their cracking?

A. An oldtime remedy is rubbing the patent leather with castor oil or petroleum jelly and, done twice a month, it's still a good treatment.

Q. How can I remove discolorations from aluminum vessels?

A. Boil in a weak solution of cream of tartar, or a mixture of two tablespoons of vinegar to each quart of water.

Reports Fallout Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service station in Cincinnati has reported the most concentrated radioactive fallout ever in the Cincinnati area. A spokesman blamed the increase on debris from Soviet nuclear tests.

More Hogs And Pigs Seen In Ohio Crop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There were 3,070,000 hogs and pigs on Ohio farms as of Sept. 1, an increase of one per cent over last September's number, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service says.

It added that the number of sows to farrow on Ohio farms for 1961 fall pig crop is estimated at 313,000 head, a decrease of 3 per cent from 1960 fall farrowings.

By MARIE TORRE

Entertainers And Pundits

The television personality is proving to be far more political than his stage and movie counterpart, and he's not generally admired for it.

Marie Torre

In these remarkable times, David Susskind talks with Khrushchev, and Jack Benny parleys with Harry S. Truman, and Frank Sinatra is "my very good friend" to President Kennedy, and Jack Paar, whose TV guests have ranged from Fidel Castro to Richard M. Nixon, becomes enmeshed in the East-West Berlin crisis.

Not all manage to venture into these political forays with the aplomb of one, they might have called "Our Leader"—The late Will Rogers, of course.

THE LEGENDARY Rogers, whom they called the Cowboy Ambassador, extracted brilliant humor from his involvement in national and international affairs:

"Every time they (Congress) make a joke it's a law. And every time they make a law it's a joke"; "I'm not a member of any organized party—I'm a Democrat"; "We're the only nation in the world that waits till we get into a war before we start getting ready for it."

All that our television heroes have distilled from extracurricular activities is trouble—for themselves as well as others.

After two Army colonels were rebuked publicly and reassigned for playing show biz with Paar at the Brandenburg Gate, the beleaguered star experienced a moment of truth.

Paar might have avoided his present difficulties if he had remembered the public scowls provoked by his early support of Fidel Castro. Or if he had recalled how Susskind was damned for daring to represent Americans in the Khrushchev confrontation. Or if he had given a thought to the raking-down suffered by Sinatra for his Washington attachments.

Will Rogers illustrated that it takes a little more than savoir faire to win acceptance as a pal to world leaders. But the question is, "Should show business powers make a public show of political games?"

YESTERDAY we put the question to Garry Moore and Ed Sullivan, both of whom have practiced discretion in matters of politics or world affairs.

Said Moore:

"Because a man may be a good tap dancer or drum player doesn't mean that he's a pundit, too. Walter Lippman has enough trouble at that sort of thing.

"I personally have steered clear of political involvements because I don't trust my own judgment. A television star accrues more power than he deserves, and there's no doubt that he could influence the population by taking political sides.

"Before a performer does such a thing, I thought he ought to examine the source of his power. Is it because he's a good dancer? Or a singer? Or actor?"

ASKED TO IDENTIFY his "source of power," Moore paused, then refused to answer the question on the grounds that it would incriminate him.

As for Ed Sullivan, he believes it's "inescapable" for entertainment lights to want to be associated with statesmen and politicians ("Look at George Jessell! He's known presidents all his life, but he doesn't get into fights about it.")

Sullivan also had something to say about the Paar-Berlin issue:

"We've been all over the world—Asia, India, Russia—for purposes of shooting TV films, and we've never had trouble or created ill feelings anywhere.

"I don't know how you get into Paar's kind of trouble, unless it's a question of manners. Do you get into a brawl with the butcher when you buy meat, or the grocer, or the tailor?

Homeworth Plumber Gets Health Post

LISBON — Elmer Eugene Cover, 35, of Homeworth R. D. 1, a master plumber, was named plumbing inspector at the Columbiana County Board of Health meeting Monday evening. He was recommended by Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and approved unanimously.

Cover has been in plumbing work since 1945, holds an Alliance city license and has operated the Cover Plumbing Co. since 1952. He replaces Earl Wang of North Georgetown, who resigned after 14 years.

Cover will begin work as soon as possible. The board hopes he will be able to attend the state plumbing inspectors school Oct. 2-6 in Columbus. His salary was set at $4,600 per year.

In other business, Dean Rose of Lisbon R. D. 5 discussed his aeration sewage disposal system which he has requested the board to approve. Dr. Palmer will write the State Health Department for its recommendations on the new system and for any results from other counties.

Reports of the Tuberculosis Clinic showed it gave 82 chest X-rays and made 122 nursing visits. Dr. F. G. Kravec, director, held seven medical consultations. Four new TB cases were reported to the state, two were hospitalized and three were discharged. There are 137 cases in the county on drug therapy, the report said.

A report for the half - month showed 62 plumbing inspections and 70 sewage inspections. Eight water samples were taken.

Sanitarian Harry Stockdale's report showed 26 food inspections, 58 sewage inspections, 9 nuisance complaints, three rabies investigations and two refuse complaints. He made one school inspection and four migrant labor camp inspections and took 14 water samples.

The department issued 57 plumbing permits and 60 for sewage.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, health nurse, said she visited one school, gave 15 bus drivers' examinations, issued two working permits, made seven jail calls and gave 13 Heaf TB tests. She made 30 visits to doctors' offices, gave one talk, made 16 home visits and gave 12 immunizations.

Next meeting is Oct. 16 at 8 p. m.

Midland Legion Inducts Officers

George Yourns of New Brighton, 26th District commander, was installing officer, assisted by four district deputies. Huha appointed John Waddingham and Leonard Castellano as co-chairmen of the post's toy program.

Woodrow Jones was named chairman of the post's Halloween party for borough children next month. Huha also appointed other committees.

William Coble, retiring commander, gave a report on the national American Legion convention held in Denver, from which he returned Sunday.

Ex-Resident Of City Gets University Post

Dr. Morris Ruben of Brookline, Mass., former East Liverpool resident, has been named assistant professor of stomatology at the Boston University School of Medicine.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Ruben, 315 Jefferson St., he was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1936, from Ohio State University and from Loyola University at New Orleans, where he received a degree in dental surgery.

He was in practice in Philadelphia for 15 years before going to Boston U. for two years. He will also conduct limited practice at Brookline.

20 Slot Machines Stripped From Vessel

SOUTHAMPTON, England — (AP) —Twenty slot machines were stripped from the transatlantic liner Queen Mary today—because the passengers weren't interested.

The machines had been installed as an experiment. As the liner docked Monday night from New York, a Cunard Line spokesman said: "There was never any great rush for them. But it was necessary to keep them in for about three voyages to judge the reaction of passengers."

Boat Pilot Taken

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP)—Lyman H. Roth, 77, holder of a Mississippi River boat pilot's license for 47 years, died Sunday. He had operated a barge and a towboat on the upper Mississippi for many years.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Pre-Schooler Needs New Playmates

When school begins the tot not quite old enough to attend is left behind at home. Often this creates a hard problem for him. Not only an older brother or sister but one or more of his playmates go off each school morning leaving him home. If he has no playmates of about his age he may feel very lonely. Because of such problems, many a mother attempts to bring pressures on the school to take her child when younger than the age - limit rule of the school. Some schools, with enough specialists to check on border-line cases, have flexible rules. But, as you and I can see, most schools have to stick to rather rigid rules for age of entrance.

IF YOU HAVE a child left behind while most or all of his playmates go off to school, consider the number of playmates available nearby. If none are available, you might wisely go with him to one or more homes farther away, a few days a week, and attract some of these children, occasionally, to your home.

Or you might work out with one or two mothers a plan for having some of their tots at your home one or two days a week for a few hours, and your child in theirs on some other days. Each guest-mother might take over when it is her turn.

Also, you might deem it wise to have your child enter a private nursery school or kindergarten.

In most cases, you will try hard to help your child grow more self-reliant in amusement, helping him spend more time creating — with crayons, scissors, paste, etc.

AIM TO READ more to this child than you did before school began. Be glad to answer his questions and to converse with him. Be sure he doesn't spend too much time before the TV and views no programs of violence. Strive harder to help him have fun outdoors with his former playmates after school and on weekends.

You may be inclined to try to give him school lessons such as he might have gotten had he entered school. As a rule, this would hardly be good procedure. However, in some instances, if his interest is strong in wanting to know the names of words on a page or package, or in wishing to count, or even print his name, you might well capitalize on such interest. The danger is that you might burden him with formal school learning.

My bulletins, "Letting Baby and Tot Learn" and "Why Read to Baby and Young Child," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

3 Motorists Fined On Speeding Charges

LISBON—Three motorists were fined a total of $15 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for speeding and three forfeited appearance bonds.

Harry H. Snow, 35, of Lisbon, Joseph L. Hippley, 47, of Lisbon R.D. and Ivor C. Meaden, 47, of Salem R.D. 1 were fined $5 and costs each.

William C. Simon, 61, of Martins Ferry and Robert L. Stevenson, 23, of Waynesburg forfeited $20 each for crossing the yellow line and Frank Pesognelli of New Eagle, Pa., $15 for speeding. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

LISBON — Atty. George Lafferty, past president, will speak on his trip to the Hawaiian Islands at the meeting of Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Christian Church. Vincent Judge is program chairman.

Free World's Shocked By Dag's Death

By The Associated Press

The death of Dag Hammarskjold in an African plane crash left the non-Communist world stunned today. Fear was expressed that his passing put the future of the United Nations in peril.

From every quarter tributes flooded to the memory of the secretary-general who died in the restless search for an ideal — a world peacefully united to prevent war.

Even those who often had challenged his policies hailed him as a dedicated man. In the capitals of the West there was a heavy atmosphere of mourning.

Radio and television news bulletins retold of the crash of Hammarskjold's plane as the U.N. secretary-general was flying on another peace mission—this time to meet Moise Tshombe, president of war - torn Katanga. Somber headlines dominated newspaper front pages.

President Kennedy said Hammarskjold's name "will be treasured high among the peace makers of history." U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "I have lost an esteemed friend and the world a great servant."

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, who had been cool to U.N. action to suppress Tshombe's secessionist regime, called Hammarskjold "a world servant who has pursued his duty with courage, singlemindedness and devotion."

The French, bitter at what they regard as U.N. interference in Bizerte and Algeria, were shocked. The Foreign Ministry expressed "deepest emotion."

The Belgian government sent a message to the United Nations deploring his death and saying his service to the United Nations had gone to "the supreme sacrifice."

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Central African Federation who had assailed the U.N. action in Katanga, called Hammarskjold "an indefatigable worker in the cause of world peace."

In France, the Communist newspaper L'Humanite said Hammarskjold "was the victim of the same people whom he did nothing to prevent from assassinating (former Congolese Premier Patrice) Lumumba last year."

Israel and the United Arab Republic, who had often used his services as mediator in their quarrels, found themselves in rare agreement in expressing a sense of loss.

C & O Attorney Attacks NYC On Stalling Tactics

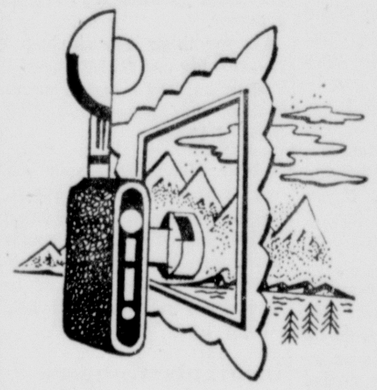

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad attorney says the New York Central is trying to stall hearings on rival bids by the two railroads to acquire control of the financially troubled Baltimore & Ohio.

Edward K. Wheeler, the C&O attorney, made the charge Monday before the Interstate Commerce Commission after New York Central introduced a 197-page document contending $23.4 million could be saved annually by a merger of B&O and Central. The Chesapeake & Ohio had claimed $13 million could be saved if B & O were controlled only by C&O.

Wheeler, objecting to introduction of the Central document, said it was an attempt by Central to delay the case.

Robert D. Brooks, attorney for Central, denied attempting to delay the case and said the document could have been presented much sooner if C&O had cooperated in supplying information.

3 Potter Gridders Dropped . . .

Bob Hedmond, East Liverpool High's football coach, may have a few more gray hairs before the 1961 season is over.

Three senior gridders, including two regulars, have been dropped from the team for "disciplinary reasons" and the Potters continue to be besieged by injuries.

It all happened this past weekend. Regular defensvie halfback Ed Six, guard Clyde Griffith and substitute Ted McKinney were dropped from the squad.

Bob Parsons, the regular right tackle, and one of the few Potters with varsity experience from last season, received a possible brain concussion in an auto accident Sunday.

Letterman End George Anderson will be out for most of the season after suffering a fractured wrist at Niles.

So that's the story. The Potters are riddled with injuries that have cleaned out most of the forward wall and will have to face Steubenville Central's big outfit, which has rolled up two victories in the same number of starts.

STEUBENVILLE'S latest triumph was a 27-0 victory over Columbus Aquinas. The Crusaders have two outstanding backs in quarterback Sam Fornsaglio, who is rated one of the topnotch passers in the Ohio Valley, and Jim Gilday, a speedy halfback.

Fornsaglio has pitched six touchdown passes in two games and Gilday has scored the same number of touchdowns.

Venditti Wins 2 Straight . . .

LOU VENDITTI, the ELHS head grid coach last year, needs only one more victory at Canton Lincoln to equal a three-year record.

In the past three seasons, Lincoln won only three games and Saturday night Venditti's Lions downed Youngstown Rayen, 14-8.

Lincoln faces Canton Timken Friday night.

He concluded the letter by saying, "I sincerely hope the Potters do well and that their fans realize they have no experience or size and that they should be greatly improved next year."

Mason and his fine Niles squad made it two straight by conquering Erie (Pa.) Academy, 44-12, Saturday night. Rick Sygar, their All - Ohio halfback candidate, scored four more touchdowns, giving him a total of eight in two contests.

THIS IS like printing a death notice, but Massillon High School has open football dates for the 1962 season. The dates are Sept. 7, Sept. 21 and Oct. 12, and the Tigers want home games.

LISTED as one of six quarterbacks at the University of Florida is Ken Russell, a passing specialist from Midland.

Myers—Player Of The Week . . .

THE HONORS for the outstanding player of the week must go to a lineman this time. He is Dave Myers, 160 pounds of dynamite from Beaver Local.

Chester couldn't get a punt away because of Myers, who went through a hole at center and blocked three punts single-handed and was in on another.

He was an all-county choice last year as a sophomore and certainly merits all-state consideration this season. Myers covers a lot of territory on the gridiron and does the job of about three men.

THE BEST team performance of the week was turned in by Bud Bucher's Lisbon squad, which surprised Wellsville 30-8.

Bucher must go down as one of the top coaches around Ohio for his five teams year after year. Before the season got under way he lost his first string quarterback in a scrimmage game with a broken arm.

This didn't stop Bucher though. Lisbon went out and defeated Carrollton in the opener, then came back with a nifty win over the Tigers last Friday night.

The Blue Devils have taken their lumps for a few seasons and now are serving warning on their opponents that they are ready to get in a few licks of their own.

On the basis of the two games, Lisbon should be very much in contention for the Tri-County League title this season.

SEVERAL MORE Tri - County gridders have followed East Palestine's Willis Woods to Thiel College at Greenville, Pa.

Woods, who will quarterback the Tomcats this season, has been joined by ex-high school teammates Miles Lemley and Jim Massey. Bob Ludt of Poland is another quarterback prospect.

Local Golfers Sink Aces . . .

THE HOLE-In-One, a dream of every golfer, became a reality for two East Liverpool men over the weekend.

Out in Wooster at the L. C. Boles Memorial Golf Course on the Wooster College campus, Jim Kapp, the former outstanding lineman for the Potters and Wooster, fired an ace on a 290-yard par four hole.

He was playing in a foursome with three of his fraternity brothers. Wooster football coach Phil Shipe, said it was one of the first aces fired on that hole.

Jim, who had to give up playing football because of a knee injury, is a senior at Wooster and a student assistant coach on the football staff.

Up on the Ohioview Course, 18-year-old Dave McElhaney of LaCroft, using a No. 3 wood, popped in his ace on the No. 2 190-yard-hole.

Crusher Meets Calhoun In DeMoley Mat Show

A four-bout program of professional wrestling will be held Sept. 30 at 9 p. m. in Memorial Auditorium under auspices of the local Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

The feature attraction pits The Crusher against huge Haystacks Calhoun, a bearded mat artist who calls himself a "country boy."

Meeting in a tag-team match will be Billy Fox and Ace Freeman against Mickey Sharp and Jack Terry.

Gypsy Joe will clash with Zivko Kovacic in another bout. One other bout will be held.

Tickets are $1.50, $2 and $2.50 and are being sold at Jordan's in East End, Heimie's, Reark's, Chadwick's service station on Lisbon St., Pleasant Heights, and Bloor's Pharmacy in Wellsville.

Proceeds will be used for the DeMolay life membership and educational funds. Bob Gilmore is chairman. David Conley is master councilor.

Probst Wins Golf Contest At EL Club

J. S. Probst scored 22 points and won honors in Sunday's par-birdie-eagle contest at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Finishing second in the match was J. T. Hall with 21 while Don Burbick had 20 points and H. M. Crossley 19.

E. B. Rohrer and L. F. Sixt were 4 up with Dick Crable, Dr. R. J. Kinsey and Norman Ankrim 2 up.

Maris Must Do Complete Reversal At Baltimore; Shows Just Two Hits

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris, held to a pair of singles in 18 official efforts at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, must accomplish an amazing flip-flop and tag two home runs in three games at the Orioles' home park to tie Babe Ruth's home run record.

The Stadium's hard-to-scale walls, a Baltimore pitching staff that has allowed Maris only one home run all season and the distinct possibility of a visit from Hurricane Esther all bar Roger's way to the Bambino's 34-year-old record.

Maris, with 58 home runs and a one-game edge over Ruth's record 60 homer pace of 1927, begins his final "official" assault on the mark in a twi-night doubleheader tonight, then winds it up in a night game Wednesday under the 154-decision allotment decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

The Orioles' mound corps and the Stadium's distant home run territory have combined to limit opposing sluggers to only 42 homers in 75 games, and have completely contained Maris. His lone homer, off Chuck Estrada, came at Yankee Stadium May 21.

Hurricane Esther, meanwhile, has picked up speed and threatens to jumble the schedule in the final drive for No. 60.

The twi-nighter, in which Maris will face left-hander Steve Barber (16-11) and right-hander Skinny Brown (10-4), plus Wednesday and Thursday night games closes out the New York Yankees' schedule at Baltimore and takes them on to Boston, also in the path of the onrushing hurricane.

Barber, with seven shutouts this year, and Brown have allowed only 12 homers each this season. Right-hander Milt Pappas (12-8), slated to start game No. 3 for the Orioles, has permitted only 13 gopher balls.

Whitey Ford (24-3) and Bud Daley (11-17) will go for New York in the twi-nighter, with the Yankees 10½ games ahead of the second-place Detroit Tigers.

Any combination of two New York victories or Detroit defeats will give the Yankees their 26th pennant.

Chicago Drops LA Back By 4 Games With 5-3 Verdict

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thud! The sound you just heard was the Los Angeles Dodgers falling four games behind the front-running Cincinnati Reds, and quite possibly right out of the National League pennant picture.

Unable to put together a sustained drive in an attempt to overtake the Reds, the Dodgers had their latest win string broken at four games Monday night when sixth-inning home runs by former teammates Don Zimmer and George Altman gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-3 victory.

It was a critical loss for the Dodgers, three down in the lost column with only 11 games to play, and reduced the idle Reds' magic number to seven to clinch their first pennant since 1940.

In other games, third-place San Francisco edged Milwaukee 3-2 on Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer in the ninth, and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis by 8-6. The American League took a day off.

Ortega, who had given up two homers in two innings in his first stint since his recall from Spokane added three more Monday night before departing after 5 1-3 innings with his first loss.

The bid to get by with Ortega against the seventh-place Cubs, losers of eight in a row, failed as Chicago starter Don Cardwell checked the Dodgers on four hits over the final eight innings.

Cardwell (14-12) gave up three runs in the first on Maury Wills' single, a walk to Wally Moon, Duke Snider's run-producing double and a two-run single by Norm Larker. Then he shut the door while his teammates scored all their runs on homers.

Ed Bouchee tied it with a three-run clout in the second after Bill Williams singled and Ron Santo walked. In the sixth, Zimmer led off with his 12th homer, and after Ernie Banks struck out, Altman chased Ortega with his 26th home run.

Cepeda's 41st homer, with Felipe Alou on base, gave reliever Stu Miller (13-4) the victory. The Giants won their ninth in 11 tries and Milwaukee lost its seventh in a row. Alou and Cepeda had accounted for the Giants' first run with consecutive singles in the second inning, Alou scoring when Jim Davenport grounded into a doubleplay. Bob Hendley (5-6) was the loser.

FIGHT RESULTS

ROGER MARIS will be hitting in a "jinx" ball park where he has failed to connect for a single homer this season when he tries for homers No. 59 and 60 against the Orioles beginning tonight. The distance on both foul lines at Memorial Stadium is 309 feet and 410 to straightaway center. (UPI Telephoto)

Stu Miller Plays Role Stops Braves For 13th

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stu Miller, who will always remember 1961 as the year he wrote the script, played it to the hilt on Stu Miller Night.

The fans, 12,995 of them, honored the San Francisco Giants' ace relief pitcher Monday night, then settled down to watch a fine pitching duel between two sharp rookies, right-hander Jim Duffalo of the Giants and southpaw Bob Hendley of Milwaukee.

By the time Miller got through counting a truckload of gifts, the Braves had a 2-1 lead and two runners on base with none out in the eighth.

In came Miller for the 58th time this year. He stopped the Braves cold and registered his 13th victory after Felipe Alou led off in the ninth with a single and Orlando Cepeda followed with his 41st homer of the year.

He was scanning a 20-foot, 1,000-signature telegram of congratulations from his old friends in Northampton, Mass., when he was called on to relieve Duffalo.

In marched Miller, laughing at the baseball superstitution that decrees a ballplayer should stay home when he is given a "night."

AP Football Poll To Start

6 Of Ohio's Grid Leaders Last Year Still Unbeaten

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The six top teams in the final "Top 10" Associated Press poll of 1960 are still unbeaten. The last four have fallen.

Massillon, Niles McKinley, Alliance and Sandusky—the 1-2-3-4 finishers last season—have won two straight. Dayton Colonel White and Cincinnati Pucell, the 5-6 squads, have triumphed in their lone starts.

Marion Harding (7) has split even in two games, Toledo Central (8) dropped a one-pointer in its only game, and Troy (9) and Port Clinton (10) have lost a pair.

Two-time winners have popped up all over the state, and some of them will move into the elite listing when the Associated Press offers the first of its polls following this weekend's games.

The sports editors of the state's Associated Press newspapers, radio and television stations will rate the squads, each picking a "Top 10" from which the composite selections will be made.

At season's end, the winner of the final poll will be recognized by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association as the state champion, and will receive the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the crown.

Massillon, which grabbed the title for the 'steenth time last fall despite a loss to Warren in 11 starts, again looms as the team to beat—although Niles McKinley's high-scoring combine will make a determined bid.

Others which have won a pair include Hamilton Garfield, which could be the dominant factor in Southwestern Ohio circles, and Portsmouth's surprising Trojans. This was to be a rebuilding year for Portsmouth, which has only six seniors on the entire squad—but the underclassmen have surprised everyone by grabbing the first two tilts.

In many cases the top teams have scheduled less-experienced foes in the openers, but the picture will clear as the favorites bang into each other in the stretch drive.

Massillon, usually too tough for most of Ohio's scholastic squads, is looking for three opponents for 1962. The Tigers would like to book games on the Massillon field for Sept. 7, Sept. 21 and Oct. 12 next year, all Friday evenings, Faculty Manager of Athletics Roger Price said.

Parker Not Coming Back If Steelers Lose Title

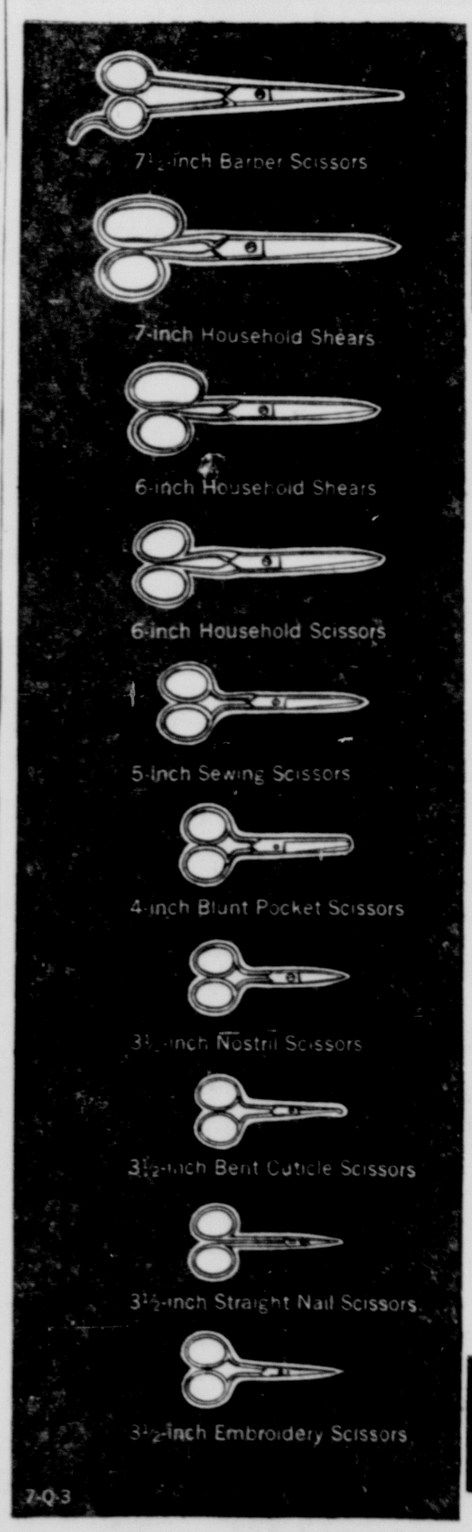

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If the Pittsburgh Steelers don't win the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League this year, they may be hunting for a new coach.

Coach Buddy Parker talked of quitting following the Steelers' frustrating last-second 27-24 loss to Dallas in the opening season game Sunday.

"I'm not going back if we don't win this year," Parker said Monday. "I mean it. My contract runs out at the end of the season and if I can't coach a winner, I'm not coming back."

This is Parker's fifth year as head man of the Steelers. He came to the Steelers after coaching the Detroit Lions to three divisional titles and two world championships.

OSU Swings Into 1-A-Day Grid Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's gridders start once-a-day practice sessions today, and that in itself may help the injury-riddled Buckeyes from doing themselves any more damage.

The Bucks have been practicing twice a day, and the double drills gave them more chance to get hurt.

A number of first stringers missed Monday's drill due to minor injuries or illness, but Coach Woody Hayes appeared particularly concerned about end Bob Middleton of Marion, who has been suffering with a rib separation.

"He's had only one or two practices this fall and the other boys are getting way ahead of him," Hayes said. "I don't know whether he'll be able to catch up."

Other first stringers missing all or part of the session included end Chuck Bryant of Zanesville, hospitalized with a virus infection; halfback Bob Klein of Athens, Mich., who sprained an ankle Monday; quarterback Bill Mrukowski of Elyria, down with the flu, and halfback Matt Snell of Locust Valley, N.Y., who injured his knee last Friday.

Gerace's Loft Wins 200-Mile Pigeon Race

The winning time was five hours and 15 minutes. Pat Connor's loft took second and third.

Erdelatz Out As Coach Of Oakland Pro Team

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz, the only football name the Oakland Raiders had when they started last year, no longer has a job with the American Football League club.

After his team lost 55-0 and 44-0 to Houston and San Diego in the league openers, Eddie drew his walking papers from the Raider owners. His assistant, Marty Feldman, was named to succeed him.

Last year Erdelatz, a winning coach at Navy, moulded a team from what was termed "a bunch of guys named Joe," and finished better than three other clubs. Since Oakland was the last club formed and missed the draft meeting last year, not much was expected of it.

This year the Raiders have won only once—losing three exhibition tilts and the two league games against the teams that won the division titles in the AFL for 1960.

Erdelatz resigned from the Naval Academy football job in 1958 after nine successful seasons and a disagreement with officials there. Last year he was named Oakland coach at a time they had no players. His club won six and lost eight in the inaugural season.

Little Brown Jug Field Cut To 17 For Thursday

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Johnny Simpson of Orlando, Fla., has pulled his Adios Cleo and Ted Hanover out of the Little Brown Jug, which he has won three times, but a field of 17 still looms for Thursday's $70,000 pacing classic for 3-year-olds.

Adios Cleo was the winter book favorite after leading the 2-year-old pacers in purses last year, and Ted Hanover is the season's champion pacing gelding.

With the last of his entrants sidelined, three other stables immediately contacted Simpson with offers to drive their horses in the 16th Jug.

Indications are the Jug will go in two divisions, with the top five finishers in each coming back for the third and deciding heat.

Lang Hanover and Cold Front are expected to be the co-favorites. But Way Wave, daughter of 1949 Jug winner Good Time, has a lot of sentimental backing.

Other probable starters include Henry T. Adios, Al-Sam, Cape Horn, Brooks Hanover, Miss Blue Jay, High Test, Star Gem, Irish Blackstone, Hogan Hanover, Magic Adios, I'm It, and the Del Miller trio of Adiosand, Meadow Chuck and Tarport Jimmy.

Monday, as Grand Circuit harness racing got under way at the Delaware County Fairgrounds Air Medal, Stablemate to Lang Hanover, captured the Walnut Hall Farm Breeders Filly Stake for 3-year-old trotters, and set one world record and tied another in the process.

Air Medal, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, recorded miles of 2:02 4-5 and 2:02 1-5. For 3-year-old trotting fillies over a half-mile track, the two heats combined for a 4:05 world's record, and the 2:02 1-5 equalled the world mark shared by Yankee Lass and Lady Ann Reed.

Ladies Club Will Operate Food Stand

About 19 attended the meeting held at the YMCA with Mrs. Luther Parsons in charge. Plans were also made to serve sandwiches to football players Thursday and Friday and to send candy to hospitalized players.

Movies of scrimmages with Campbell and Canton Lincoln were screened by Bob Hedmond, football coach, and a question and answer period followed.

A report was given on the number of membership tickets sold so far. Next meeting will be Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

AAA Seeks To Settle Its Feud With NCAA

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union will try to iron out its feud with the National Collegiate Athletic Association over the control of amateur basketball on Oct. 2 in Chicago.

AAU President Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., called a meeting Monday of all 12 groups concerned with amateur basketball, including the NCAA.

The dispute revolves around the AAU's holding the U.S. membership in the International Basketball Federation. The NCAA claims the AAU does not represent all amateur basketball in the country.

NHL To Open Oct. 11

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League today released its schedule for the 1961-62 season. The 70-game season opens Oct. 11 and closes March 25.

Hutch Picks O'Toole For Bue Opener

But O'Toole had a warning Monday night from his boss to expect big trouble from the 1960 world champs.

"They'll be loose and easy and carefree and they can hurt us," Hutch said, whose front-running Reds were powerless Sunday against last - place Philadelphia, winner of a 4-0 victory.

"Furthermore," Hutchinson said grimly, "we can't afford to be hurt at this time."

The Reds got a helping hand Monday night from Chicago, winner 5-3 over second-place Los Angeles. The decision stretched the Reds' lead to four games going into tonight's contest.

Hutch said he planned to lead with his 20-game winner, Joey Jay, Wednesday night.

The Reds have a chance of wrapping up their first pennant since 1940 in the next six days, but the decision could go far into the last week of September.

Rochester Beats Buffalo To Lead IL Playoff Finals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Rochester Express rolled on Monday night. Buffalo was derailed this time as the Red Wings posted a 5-4, 11-inning victory in the opener of the final International League playoff round.

Southpaw Dick Luebke was the winner of Rochester's fifth straight playoff victory after the team eliminated league champion Columbus in five games. Luebke pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the eighth inning after replacing Art Kay and allowed two hits the rest of the way.

For Buffalo, it was the first setback in five playoff games. The Bisons had won four straight from Charleston in the semifinal round.

Joe Durham, hitless in four previous appearances, slammed a double to score Harry Chiti with the decidimg tally.

Army Puts In Rush Order For Vehicles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army put in a rush order Monday for armored troop-carrying vehicles to meet its urgent requirements, presumably in Germany.

It announced plans to award a "minimum add-on contract" to the FMC Corp., San Jose, Calif., for expedited delivery of M113 personnel carriers of the type now being sent to Germany to give U.S. infantry divisions greater mobility.

NFL-TV Bill Awaiting Approval From Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed to the Senate a bill that would permit the National Football League to skip around a legal block and grant a league-wide contract for television coverage of its games.

The measure, approved in the House Monday by a voice vote, applies to all professional sports leagues—baseball, basketball and hockey as well as football—but it was custom - designed for the NFL, whose television plans were ruled out of bounds by a Philadelphia federal court.

The court ruled earlier this year that the NFL's TV contract with the CBS network violated antitrust laws.

The American Football League has a similar contract with the ABC network which has not been struck down by the courts. The NFL official argued that this was fair and that they should be given equal footing with the rival league.

League officials testifying in support of the measure said if league-wide television contracts were outlawed, the stronger, richer teams would tend to get most of the TV coverage and money. This, they said, would wreck the weaker teams and hurt the league.

The National Association of Broadcasters oppose the bill, contending that league-wide contracts would result in fewer sports telecasts, rather than more.

The House Judiciary Committee agreed to an amendment aimed at keeping pro telecasts from competing directly with telecasts of college games. It would prohibit pro football telecasts on Friday evening and Saturday when the college teams usually play.

Most NFL games are played on Sunday afternoons.

If the Senate acts on the measure before adjournment, its effect still would not be felt until the 1962 season.

Midland Club Sets Banquet For October

Plans for a Booster Betty Banquet in October were reported at a meeting of the Midland Leopard Booster Club Sunday evening in the Borough Building.

William (Butch) Vinovich and John Wilson will be in charge of the dinner to be held at the American-Yugoslav Club. Its date will be announced later.

Dr. Robert Higginbotham, a guest speaker, told of athletic injuries and new equipment recommended by the American Medical Association, including a new helmet and nose guard.

Vinovich and Pete Benedict, both football officials, were also guest speakers, and interpreted rules changes and answered questions arising from recent games.

Charles Polce, Lincoln High football coach, discussed Friday's Midland-Canon-McMillan game of which movies were shown. Several parents of players attended the meeting.

James (Sonny) Migliore, president, reported on progress of plans for the club's Holiday Tournament. The next meeting will be Sunday evening and a guest coach will be a speaker. Refreshments will be served.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Don Cardwell, Cubs, blanked Dodgers on four hits for final eight innings, after allowing three first-innings runs, and beat second-place Los Angeles 5-3.

Hitting — Don Zimmer, Cubs, homered in sixth inning, for go-ahead run that beat former Dodger teammates in 5-3 Chicago win.

1,200 Attend Democrat Dinner

GOV. MICHAEL V. DISALLE was besieged by autograph seekers following his address at the ninth annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner Monday night at Beaver Local High School. Here he signs programs of several women among those who filed by for personal greetings. The governor headed a large delegation of state, county and city officials, candidates and party workers at the Columbiana County party organization's annual rally.

DiSalle Sees Ohio Lagging In State Race

1,200 Democrats Hear Governor Hit Legislature Failure

By CHARLES CRONIN

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, visiting Columbiana County for the first time since the Presidential campaign of last fall, declared Monday night that Ohio must spend more money to keep up with the rest of the states in industry, natural resources, education and mental health.

But he left 1,200 Democrats in the dark as to whether he'll seek re-election next year to push his plans for capital improvement that have run into rocky ground because of what he termed "people with little vision in the legislature."

9th Annual Dinner

In a talk at the ninth annual county Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner at Beaver Local High School, Gov. DiSalle assailed the Republican-controlled Legislature for failure to approve his major items, and called on the Democratic party to join with him in telling the story with the theme of "If you have confidence in Ohio's future, prepare for it now."

DiSalle, whose four-year term expires in January 1963, said only "I have no announcement to make at this time" when asked if he'll enter the gubernatorial race next year.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, who was to have shared the speaker's platform with Gov. DiSalle, was unable to attend because of commitments in Washington.

Telegraphs Regrets

The 18th District congressman wired his regrets to Don R. Gosney, county chairman, that he could not be present because he was required to work on the arms control bill with the House Foreign Affairs committee.

President Kennedy wired that "It is unfortunate that the consideration of important legislation for which he has responsibility prevents him from being with you."

DiSalle recited extensive statistics in his applause-marked address in citing Ohio's lag in development of natural resources, mental hospitals, public education

Globe Brick Worker Injured By Mine Car

Karl North of Fisher Ave., a brakeman on the mine trains, suffered a fractured arm, dislocated left hip, fractured pelvis possible fractured ribs and a laceration of the left knee in the mishap late yesterday morning.

North was walking along the tracks in front of a string of empty cars coming out of the mine when he was struck by the lead car which ran over him. He underwent surgery last night.

Triggers Evacuation

North Carolina Fears 'Esther'

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Esther churned toward the North Carolina coast today triggering the start of a mass evacuation from dangerous low-lying areas.

The whirling giant carried winds up to 150 miles per hour.

"Safety precautions should be started now," the Weather Bureau warned. "Some escape routes will become flooded as waters rise today and tonight."

Hurricane warnings were raised this morning from Cerry Point, N.C., northward to the Virginia Capes. Gale force winds were forecast for that portion of the coast and were forecast to increase to hurricane strength—75 miles per hour.

Gale warnings were extended northward from the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake Bay. Hurricane watch continues northward from Myrtle Beach, S.C., to Cherry Point and from the Virginia Capes to Cape May.

At 8 a.m., the Weather Bureau said the big storm was 335 statute miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and bearing toward the coast at 14 miles an hour.

Rising tides and seas already were buffeting this coast line, known as the graveyard of the Atlantic.

But the Weather Bureau said the northwesterly curve of the storm could carry the eye, or center of the storm, just off the coast.

Coastal residents, veterans of many a big blow, worked throughout the night, moving house trailers to higher ground at Morehead City, about 75 miles from Cape Hatteras.

Tides were running up to three feet above normal and the ocean was rough with heavy swells. The Coast Guard said the swells have existed for "two or three days," possibly caused by earlier hurricanes.

The Weather Bureau warned that "Hurricane Esther is dangerous with maximum winds 150 miles per hour near the center. Gales extend outward some 350 miles except 200 miles in the southwest quarant."

The hurricane was expected to come within range of the powerful Cape Hatteras for the first time about noon.

Although Esther no longer is believed to be producing gusts as high as 200 m.p.h., as she was over the weekend, the storm is still a huge and dangerous one.

The storm has slowed slightly from 16 to 14 m.p.h.

The Georgia and Florida coasts were clear of the storm, but all interests from Savannah, Ga., northward were told to listen for future advisories.

Forecaster Gilbert Clark said indications were the storm would continue on its present path for the next few hours with no important changes in size or direction.

Persons in the path of the storm already were taking precautions. The Navy sent 240 airplanes to inland fields and a number of ships left Norfolk, Va., as precautionary measures.

The aircraft carriers Randolph, Wasp and Valley Forge put to sea and other naval vessels headed for anchorage in Chesapeake Bay to escape the fury of the winds.

Two Texas towers off the New England coast were evacuated. The towers are radar stations that form part of the U.S.-Canadian defense warning system.

The towers are on shoals 80 to 100 miles offshore. A spokesman for the air defense sector said he did not know how many men were evacuated. A similar tower off the New Jersey coast collapsed during a storm last January with a loss of 28 lives.

Under Fitness Program

School Kids May Lose 'Chicken Fat' By Music

WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Kennedy's youth fitness experts have their way, the nation's school children will soon be working off "chicken fat" to a tune composed by Meredith Willson, author of "The Music Man."

Until recently, about the most strenuous exercise Willson ever took was blowing the flute. But he has suddenly become a physical fitness fiend and has composed words and music to go with a set of calisthenics.

"Touch down ev'ry morning,
Not just now and then.
Give that chicken fat back to the chicken,
And don't be chicken again,

"Touch down" in the song signifies touching one's toes. As the song progresses the victims also must do push-ups and other exercises. The whole thing lasts 6½ minutes and anybody who can finish without puffing is in good shape.

The government hasn't any money to put the recordings in the nation's schools. But it figures that if some civic group or other angel will come forward with $30,000 the job can be done. Willson isn't charging a nickel for his labors.

It all came about when Bill Whitman, publicity man working gratis for the Physical Fitness Council, approached Willson with the idea that he compose a song.

Willson then took to doing the exercises himself, and is reported to be slimmer than he was.

GM, Union Face Crucial Move Today

Decision Scheduled On Pact With Rash Of Strikes Feared

DETROIT (AP)—This is decision day for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union.

Do they reach agreement on a new three-year, three-package contract or do a rash of crippling local-level strikes erupt into a nationwide walkout?

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said "it looks like a long day." Both he and UAW President Walter P. Reuther said progress was being made as they recessed bargaining shortly after Monday midnight.

Today is decision day because the UAW's 280-member General Motors Council has been summoned to meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday to approve or reject a new contract. The council is made up of local union presidents and shop committeemen from across the country.

Effects of local-level walkouts have spilled over into Canada. General Motors of Canada announced Monday it was furloughing 6,000 today at its Oshawa plants which normally depend upon U.S. factories for parts.

There was no hope of getting the world's No. 1 auto maker back into full production at all its 129 U.S. plants before next week. GM of Canada said there was no chance, even if all strikes ended today, of its avoiding the 6,000-worker layoff.

The GM Council could cut off all local negotiations on new at-the-plant agreements and return things to status quo. Or it could authorize continuance of local strikes, or order a company-wide walkout in support of unresolved national non-economic issues.

GM and the UAW reached agreement on Sept. 6 on a new national economic package, which the union estimates is worth more than 12 cents an hour in take-home pay. It also increases pensions and supplemental unemployment benefits and guarantees partial pay for any hours fewer than 40 in a workweek.

About 80 working agreements had been reached between local unions and plant managers, but as of Monday workers at only 40 plants had returned to their jobs.

At 15 plants where settlements had been reached the company shut down operations because supply lines from key parts factories had dried up. Some others were only in partial operation. Forty-odd plants still were strike-bound.

Reds Burn Capital Of Viet Nam Province

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP)—In their boldest stroke of South Viet Nam's civil war, Communist rebels attacked and burned the capital of Phuoc Thanh Province, the government said today.

The daring raid, the first on any provincial capital, was staged early Monday on the capital, Phuoc Vinh, the government said. The city is only 60 miles north of this capital.

Shadow Dims U.N.

East-West Contest Seen On Selection Of Dag's Successor

Rusk, Adlai Toil Behind U.N. Scenes

Seek To Prevent Soviet Bid To Bar Successor To Dag

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson worked urgently behind the scenes today to keep the United Nations from being paralyzed by the Soviet Union on appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Rusk was due to hold his first meeting here with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this afternoon when the U.N. General Assembly begins its annual session. He wanted to talk with Gromyko about the crisis created by Hammarskjold's death as well as the Berlin crisis, which they have agreed to discuss.

Western diplomats saw little chance the Soviet government would agree to work with Allied and neutral nations in choosing a new secretary-general speedily. Conversations are therefore underway, they reported, to find some means of assembly action to temporarily bypass the veto power which the Soviet Union can use in the Security Council to block any new appointment.

In the view of Rusk and other Western leaders here the situation is little short of desperate. Without an administrative head the secretariat, which is the action arm of the world organization, cannot function effectively much longer. This is particularly true

High UN Figures Take Over Dag's Work In Katanga

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A high-ranking U.N. delegation arrived in Ndola today seeking to carry through the Katanga peace talks shattered by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash.

He flew to Ndola from Leopoldville while U.N. intelligence experts probed riddles of the wreck that killed the secretary-general.

A British government statement said a further task for the delegation will be to help identify the mutilated bodies of some of Hammarskjold's entourage.

The statement said Britain is doing all possible to facilitate contact between the delegation and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, who pulled out Monday after an overnight stay at this neutral border town.

Tshombe returned to Katanga after vainly waiting for 24 hours for Hammarskjold to arrive for peace talks. Only late Monday did Tshombe and the world know Hammarskjold was dead in the shattered wreck of his aircraft.

Salvage workers pulled another body from the wreck this morning making a total of 15 dead. There is one survivor.

But a U.N. check today disclosed there were 16. Two Swedish is one survivor.

Lt. Col. Ben Matlick, U.S. air attache from Leopoldville, who inspected the wreck today, said he was convinced that speculation that the plane may have been shot down was groundless.

The possibility of sabotage or armed attack had drawn banner headlines in Rhodesian newspapers. The lone survivor, Harry Julien, an American U.N. security guard, was quoted as saying a series of explosions shook the four-engine DC6B before it plunged into a forest reserve north of town and burned.

Seasoned pilots who viewed the fire-blackened wreckage agreed with Matlick. They said it looked like typical results of a crash caused in a landing approach by loss of power or faulty instruments.

A Ndola hospital spokesman said the survivor is as comfortable as could be expected, adding: "He still is very ill and is under heavy sedation. He has not spoken since he was brought here."

Col. Maurice Barber, civil aviation director of the British-run Central African Federation, heads the inquiry into the crash. The U.N. intelligence work is directed by Col. Bjorn Egge, a Norwegian.

Gloom Cast On Opening Of Session

Assembly Meeting Seen Most Crucial In U.N.'s History

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The prospect of an East-West clash over a new U.N. secretary-general to succeed Dag Hammarskjold cast a shadow over the opening of the U.N. General Assembly today. Already faced with grave cold war issues, the session may be the most crucial in the United Nations' history.

Within hours after Hammarskjold's death in an African plane crash Monday, stunned delegates began casting about for a way to avoid an East-West deadlock that would paralyze the secretariat, the administrative arm of the world organization.

There was speculation that the assembly might delegate a board of ranking U.N. officials to make decisions until a new secretary-general can be chosen.

Most of those being mentioned as candidates came from the non-aligned nations of Asia and Africa, who now hold almost a majority in the assembly. There was no indication of firm support behind any one of them.

A new secretary-general must get past the threat of a Soviet veto, which the Soviets could exercise if they decide, as expected, to push their plans for reorganizing the United Nations and curbing the powers of the secretariat developed by Hammarskjold.

A new secretary-general must be nominated by the Security Council with the agreement of all five permanent members — the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China. Then the nomination must be approved by the General Assembly.

The assembly was confronted by a long agenda of 95 items including such cold war issues as Red China's admission, testing nuclear weapons and disarma-

Work Week's Slash Rapped By City Local

Implications of a recent cutback in the work week of city street department workers were discussed Monday night at a meeting of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

The union of city employes said its members on the street department payroll have had their work week cut back to 40 hours from 45 by elimination of Saturday work. Although the crews customarily worked 45 hours weekly, they drew straight time pay for the hours over 40, the union said.

The union said the cutback means a reduction of 10 to 15 hours' pay in each half-month pay period, depending upon the number of Saturdays involved. For instance, some pay periods cover two Saturdays, amounting to a 10-hour reduction, while others cover three Saturdays and the reduction in hours totals 15, the local said.

Although the union took no official action, it questioned the city's recent action in awarding a contract for street seal - coating to the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. The city has equipment for street seal - coating which it acquired about three years ago and the work could have been done by city crews and machinery instead of hiring a contractor, the union asserted.

The local said the cutback in street department hours took place approximately a month ago. The reason given was lack of operating funds for payroll purposes, it said. About 25 men are affected.

The local met at Tice's Restaurant on Market St. Its next regular meeting will be Oct. 16. A district meeting is scheduled Oct. 3 at Youngstown.

County Board Seeks Ruling For Merger

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Education is scheduled at its meeting tonight to ask a formal ruling from Prosecutor William Brokaw concerning a Franklin Local school district petition against the merger of the Southern Local and Franklin Local districts.

The two districts apparently went into consolidation last Thursday when the county board's merger action became effective after a 30-day waiting period in which a remonstrance petition could be filed.

Fred Johnson of Franklin Local presented a petition to the county office, with 307 signatures of Franklin Local residents seeking a merger with Carroll County districts.

County Gets Partial Draft Quota Of 15

Ohio Selective Service headquarters today issued a partial induction call for 1,110 men in October, including 15 for Columbiana County.

This is the first section of the October call. The balance will be issued in the form of a supplement, at a later date, headquarters said at Columbus.

The call today compared with a total call for October 1960 of 845 men. The call in September was for 1,764 men, highest of the year.

Youngest man who may be inducted in the latest call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Oct. 1, unless he is a volunteer.

Leaders Laud President On U.N. Decision

Kennedy's Address To Assembly To Be Friday Or Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican congressional leaders applauded today President Kennedy's decision to address the United Nations.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicted Kennedy will place before the United Nations a new disarmament plan and call for fresh negotiations to end nuclear testing.

Kennedy's decision to fly to New York to address the new session of the U.N. General Assembly was announced Monday by the White House.

Kennedy probably will speak Friday or Monday, depending on the schedule adopted by the assembly.

A White House official said the death of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold strengthened the President's desire to appear before the United Nations.

Kennedy believes, the spokesman said, that "now, at a time of crisis for the U.N., would be a good time to go there and affirm support of the U.N. and its principles."

Humphrey said he thinks it is vital in the light of Hammarskjold's death for Kennedy to rally the West's forces.

"I predict the President will lay down a total U.S. program for disarmament and review the efforts this country had made to get an agreement on the cessation of nuclear weapons testing and proclaim our willingness to negotiate such an agreement whenever the Soviets evidence a

Whisky, $25 Stolen In Weekend Case

Three suspects were released by police Monday after apparently establishing alibis in connection with a weekend burglary at the Veterans Social Club, 1044 Pennsylvania Ave., in which 42 bottles of whisky were hauled away and $25.50 was removed from a cash register.

Announcing release of the three men, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said their "alibis checked out pretty well" under questioning.

Sam Johnson, steward, told police the building was entered sometime between 3:30 and 6:45 a. m. Sunday. The intruders placed a ladder at the rear of the building and climbed to the second-floor level, where they broke a window to gain entry.

Then the burglars went to the main floor of the structure, hauled the whisky and a case and a half of bottled wine out the back door and removed the money from the register. The money included five $1 bills, $3 in 50-cent pieces, $5 in 25-cent pieces, $7 in dimes, $2 in nickels and $3 in pennies.

The burglary was discovered Sunday morning by a janitor, James Carpenter, when he reported for work. Carpenter notified Johnson.

Spoke On Serious Side

Though once known as the nation's joke-cracking U.S. price administrator, his message was on the serious side for the most part.

But laughter filled the jammed auditorium at one point when he declared that "working with a Democratic and Republican legislature is like a man who has been both rich and poor."

Gov. DiSalle also joked that he had been "accused of urging defeat of all Republicans" and went on to say that he had never been present when the GOP leaders urged election of Democrats.

"The best interests will be served if the Republicans in the legislature are in a strong, militant minority," the former Toledo mayor cracked.

'Vote The Same Way'

"I don't care where the GOP legislators come from, they all vote the same anyway," he continued in slightly roasting the present Legislature.

In a more serious vein, DiSalle asked: "Ohio is fifth in population, fifth in personal income and fifth in auto registration, but do you want a state that is 47th in funds spent on natural resources, 46th in service to care for its citizens, 31st in highway building, 44th in education, 35th in welfare and 47th in expenditures to induce and encourage industrial development?"

"Is it too much to spend $5.50 a day for mental hospitals, or $2.20 a day for a blind person, or $113 a year for the education of a public school child, or $300 a year for education in Ohio," he asked.

Population Factor

DiSalle declared that the increased costs can only be reduced if the population ceases to grow.

"I have a hope and feeling about what is required in this state. I find a lack of desire on the part of many. I often wonder how we continue to exist and live in this role of ours under these kind of conditions," DiSalle said.

At one point he declared that "It is impossible to make these people understand that Ohio is a growing state," referring to the legislature's cry against record budgets. "But each budget is higher than the one before," DiSalle said in citing the state's growth.

In a brief press conference after his arrival that about 40 minutes late, DiSalle said a training survey of unemployed skilled workers is underway in Youngstown.

Only For Pilot Plan

"We must prepare for re-training of these people, but the $200,000 appropriated by the Legislature is only enough for a pilot experiment," he said.

"There are about 130,000 unemployed in the state, with much of its chronic. These kind must be trained, but how many can be trained with $200,000," DiSalle asked. He later accused the Republican legislators of "narrow gauge thinking."

DiSalle was eulogized as one of the state's "greatest governors" in an introduction by James Griffin, district director of the United Steelworkers of America.

Many Introduced

A number of political candidates and office - holders and guests from the district were introduced.

Among state guests were Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy and Theodore R. Saker, first assistant.

Auditor Kenneth Bell introduced county officials, Gosney introduced state officials, Kay Blackburn, county chairlady, read a long list of city and village candidates, and city chairmen and Democratic Club presidents present, and Mayor Dean B. Cranmer of Salem introduced others.

A highlight of the program was the presentation of public service awards to Atty. Guy J. Mauro of Salem and the Columbiana Women's Democratic Club. The trophies were presented by Atty. Paul Tobin. Mrs. Mary Fisher accepted for the Columbiana group.

Mrs. Hays and the congressman's secretary also were present. Fr. Warren F. Braun of Leetonia, national chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, gave the benediction.

Gosney also read telegrams from John W. McCormick, acting speaker of the House, and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, expressing regrets that Rep. Hays was forced to miss his first such dinner in the county.

County O.K.'s Building Lots

LISBON — Five housing development plats were approved by Columbiana County commissioners Monday. They are:

Hill and Faulk's Imperial Park of 1.8 acres in Section 33 in Liverpool Township, consisting of four lots of 1.34 acres and 0.46 acre designated for streets. Mary H. Faulk and Harry H. and Hilda C. Hill are the owners.

McCaughtry's 1st addition of 16.13 acres in Section 27 in St. Clair Township, comprising 29 lots of 13.76 acres with 2.37 for streets. John and Beryl L. McCaughtry are owners.

Westview Heights Plat No. 3 in East Palestine and Section 23 and 26 in Unity Township with 4.23 acres. It has 15 lots of 3.7 acres and .53 acre in streets. Situated on the west side of the Unity-East Palestine Rd. It is owned by Hugh R. and Robert W. Madden.

The Potters Construction Co.'s 1st addition to Park Forest in Section 26 in St. Clair Township of 14 lots of 7.1 acres along Stage Coach Rd., owned by the construction firm.

Homer D. and Genevieve L. Hoffman's 2nd addition of Section 32 in Liverpool Township. It has 24 lots of 10.4 acres with 1.8 acres in streets.

In other business, Frank Weeder of East Palestine R. D. 1 was paid for 11 turkeys killed by stray dogs, receiving $27.50 plus $6 for witness fees.

Travel allowances were authorized for Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach and his assistant, Harold McCall, to attend the meeting of the Eastern Ohio Dog Wardens' Association at Ashland Wednesday.

Commissioners also authorized payment of $85 for a cemetery plot for John A. Henrikson, who died at the Crile Veterans Hospital Sept. 11. He was a World War II veteran.

Commissioners ordered that the flag be flown on the Courthouse pole for Veterans Day Nov. 11.

Turks' Cabinet Crisis Reported Resolved

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A Cabinet crisis in the wake of weekend executions of ousted Premier Adnan Menderes and two other desposed former ministers was resolved today.

Foreign Minister Selim Sarper withdrew a resignation he tendered Monday night and announced plans to attend the U.N. General Assembly session in New York.

Sarper earlier was reported by highly qualified informants to have been reluctant to attend the General Assembly meeting due to his personal reaction to the executions.

Hurricane

If the storm should strike the North Carolina coast, as its present path indicated, it would follow such destructive giants as Hurricane Hazel which moved in over eastern North Carolina in 1954 and caused $750-million damage.

Small portions of Hurricane Esther were seeded with silver iodide during the weekend when she passed near Puerto Rico but Weather Bureau scientists reported no apparent effects on movement or intensity of the storm.

"A very small area of the hurricane was seeded because it's a big thing and we wanted to measure what we were doing," Simpson said in Miami Monday night.

Simpson said he hoped to have preliminary estimates of the results "in several weeks" and hoped to seed other hurricanes this fall.

Lions At Newell Receive Plaque

A plaque was presented the Newell Lions Club Monday night at the Shamrock Restaurant in recognition of having sponsored a Boy Scout troop for 10 years.

Plans were approved to sell light bulbs as a fund - raising project. The sale will get under way soon with Richard Brenneman chairman.

Copestick reported on activities of the Newell Civic Council. A directors' meeting will be held in the president's home Sept. 26 at 7:30 p. m.

Five East Berliners Make Escape To West

BERLIN (AP)—Five East Berliners crawled over rooftops Monday night and then slid down a rope to freedom in West Berlin, police reported today.

A woman in the group fell before reaching the ground and was taken to a hospital.

In another daring escape reported by police, two East Berliners crossed the barbed wire fences Monday in a storm of bullets from submachine guns of Communist police.

Items Bought By Southern Local Board

Purchase of an electric adding machine for office practice classes at Salineville High School and a trampoline for the physical education department was authorized at a meeting of the Southern Local Board of Education Monday night at No. 16 School.

The adding machine will be obtained with funds under the federal aid program.

The board approved painting and rigging of the flag poles at No. 16 and Highlandtown Schools. The work is to be completed this week.

A leave of absence because of a family illness was extended for Mrs. Ruby Shaff, who had been teaching a half-day session. The class will be taught by Mrs. Leah Johnson.

The board authorized parental transportation for a Monroeville area and Irondale district family group of pupils because the roads are inaccessible for school buses.

A policy on substitute bus drivers was adopted, with the board emphasizing that drivers must have passed required physical examinations and a driving test with the bus.

The board officially approved membership in the Ohio Athletic Association. Next meeting is Oct. 16.

PTA Committees Set For Klondyke

Standing committees for the year were named by Emerson Hadley, president, at a meeting of the Klondyke Parent - Teacher Association Monday night.

This was the first meeting of the new term. Officers and teachers were introduced.

Plans wer emade to solicit the neighborhood for funds for new playground equipment. The present equipment will be taken down and repaired during the winter for next summer.

The PTA voted to send a letter of thanks to Richard Jones, playground supervisor the past summer, for his work with the children.

A letter also was ordered sent to the Board of Education and Supt. Ralph Betts, thanking them for painting the interior of the building during the summer.

Programs for the coming year were discussed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Kidder. Next meeting is Oct. 16.

Musical Instruments Will Be Demonstrated

A demonstration of musical instruments for prospective music students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the city's elementary system will be presented tonight at 7:30 at Westgate School, according to Vincent Maola, instrumental supervisor.

He said the demonstration will be given by three local stores for students of the downtown, North Side and Pleasant Heights areas. That for students in the East End area will be presented Monday night at East Junior High School.

The students and parents are invited to inspect the instruments. Pete D'Argenzio and George Schweizer, instrumental instructors at Westgate, will be in charge tonight.

All fifth grade students in the city were given a standardized test the past week to determine the type of instrument they are best suited to play. These are presently being checked, Maola said.

Chester Man Fined On 2 Traffic Counts

A Chester driver, cited on two counts, was fined $15 and costs by Chester Mayor Ray Collins Monday night, and a city area motorist, arrested on three counts, forfeited a $61.50 appearance bond.

Otto T. Jenkins, 21, of 235 Virginia Ave. was fined $10 and costs for hazardous driving and $5 and costs for leaving his vehicle unattended — a key in the ignition and the motor running. He was cited Saturday on Carolina Ave. by Sheriff's deputies.

Joseph J. Reese, 30, of East Liverpool R. D. forfeited the bond. He was cited Sept. 12 for improper registration, failure to halt for a traffic signal and speeding.

Lawrenceville Post Fills Second Position

Archie West was elected second vice commander of the Lawrenceville American Legion Post at a meeting Monday night at the post home. He succeeds Robert Hood, who resigned.

The purchase of a canopy for the side door at the post home was authorized. The group will continue the purchase of supplies for Grandview School pupils.

Charles Laughlin, adjutant, said 49 members are enrolled for 1962. Paul Gill, commander, was in charge. Next meeting is Oct. 2.

Annual Event Opens Tuesday

Midland Lions Open Broom Sale

The Midland Lions Club will conduct its annual broom sale today through Thursday in the Midland area with proceeds to be used for eye examinations and glasses for the needy.

Sales captains and their teams will conduct a house-to-house canvass the three evenings beginning about 6. The club will meet Thursday evening at Deramo's Restaurant with Larry Neff as program chairman.

Sewage Plant Bidding Near

NEW CUMBERLAND — Preparations for asking bids for the construction of the town's new sewage disposal plant may be completed by Wednesday.

Atty. Edwin M. Flowers, legal advisor, was given authority Monday night by the newly - organized Water and Sewage Board to notify the West Virginia Water Resources Commission that bids are about ready to be received.

The board was instructed by letter from the commission to notify it of plans to advertise for bids and construction dates so that federal aid could be obtained for the project.

Atty. Flowers was also authorized to inform the commission that the sewage and water board planned to award the contracts before Dec. 21.

The board, meeting until midnight Monday, received an estimate on the construction of a new 300,000-gallon water tank from the A. R. Todd engineering firm of Wheeling. The huge tank will eliminate the present three wooden tanks. A 100,000-gallon steel tank will remain in operation.

The board has decided to erect the sewage plant on a site in the south section of the town, pending the outcome of an engineering survey.

Bishop Will Address Mental Health Group

Bishop John J. Wright of the Pittsburgh Catholic Diocese will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Beaver County Mental Health Society Monday, Oct. 2, at 6:30 p. m. at the Beaver First Presbyterian Church.

His subject will be "Patience and Other Virtues in Planning for the Mentally Unwell."

Clifford Conklin, president, will preside. An election of a third of the board members will be held, and volunteers will be recognized. Joseph Bontempo, treasurer, will make a report.

Outstanding attendants at Dixmont State Hospital, who have served beyond the call of duty," will be honored.

Reading Club To See Battle Re-Enactment

A re-enactment of the Battle of Bull Run will be presented Saturday morning for boys and girls of the Carnegie Public Library Civil War Summer Reading Club.

Young people who have read 30 books in the club will attend the program at the Memorial Auditorium at 10.

The program will be presented by John Markanton, Army Reserve captain, along with Judge Louis Tobin and other members of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable.

Mrs. Hilda McEwen of the library said some 260 young people are eligible for the program, and those who have not been issued reading record tickets may obtain them at the library.

Returns 6 Indictments

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Lake County grand jury has returned six indictments against Louis N. Reynolds, 31, of Cleveland, held in the county jail on charges of attacking a woman in the parking lot of a Willowick shopping center last July.

Soviet Urges Seat In U.N. By Red China

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko requested that the 99-nation General Assembly place on its agenda a question titled: "Restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

The assembly is expected to give the China question a full airing, after 10 years of postponements. But it is unlikely that the problem will be taken up under the controversial title proposed by the Soviet Union.

Informed quarters said the United States would not oppose a China debate this year, but would seek to refer the question to a study committee which would report back at the 1962 session of the assembly.

Fog Blamed In 2 Crashes

Dense fog was blamed for two traffic crashes on Route 66 between Newell and New Cumberland Monday, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported today.

As the vehicles were moving slowly because of limited visibility, no injuries were sustained by the occupants of the two cars and two trucks involved, deputies said.

The first crash at 8:30 a. m. occurred when Wesley D. Beckner, 31, of Raymond's Trailer - Court on Route 66 rammed the rear of a parked truck of Bobby Martin, 32, of Weirton R. D. 1.

Deputies reported another crash at 10 a. m. on Congo Rd. when a 1958 truck operated by David Reese, 71, of Weirton struck the auto of Alberta Camerlin, 28, of New Cumberland as the woman pulled from a side road.

Pump Bought For Palestine Power Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night authorized the purchase of a $5,325 booster feeder pump at the municipal power plant without advertising for bids.

The pump will serve on a stand-by basis at the power plant, part of an overall $850,000 improvement project.

Safety-Service Director George McGuckin explained the price of the competitors were higher, and there would be no need to advertise. The pump will be obtained from the Allis-Chalmers Co. at Youngstown.

Council also authorized purchase of a $725 booster pump for water lines at Neely Manor. Wiring and other items for the pump will be obtained separately.

Atty. Jack Cohen, city solicitor, discussed the proposed use of a tract of city property along Bacon Ave. near the City Park for a proposed nursing home.

Cohen said the land could not be sold, because of stipulations of the original grantor, but a leasing arrangement could be worked out. He advised the nursing home committee to retain its own attorney, since he could not properly represent both.

Council appointed Councilmen Frank Early and Paul Adams to the police pension fund board, and Councilmen James Lynch and Charles Kelley to the firemen's indemnity fund board.

Ohioans Due Chance For Peace Corps Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any Ohioan wanting to serve in the Peace Corps will have an opportunity to qualify by taking examinations Oct. 7.

The third round of Peace Corps examinations is scheduled for that date at 8:30 a.m. in 12 Ohio cities.

Editor Claimed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Walter S. Lovelace, 72, editor of the Evanston Review since the weekly newspaper was founded in 1925, died Monday. Lovelace, who had worked for newspapers in Denver and Boulder, Colo., before coming to Evanston in 1917, was born in Brighton, Colo.

2 Guard Units Due Call For Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two National Guard divisions—the 32nd Infantry of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored of Texas—are being called to active duty.

Announcement of this action was expected at an afternoon news conference scheduled by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The two guard divisions, along with two others, were put on notice Sept. 6 that they faced possible call-up.

The other two divisions given priority ratings and slated for reenforcement to full strength are the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts and the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania.

Call-up of the Wisconsin and Texas divisions will raise Army strength to 16 divisions. In addition, there are three combat-ready Marine divisions.

GM Workers Sign

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—After 12 weeks of negotiations, a contract covering local issues was agreed upon Sunday for 10,500 workers at two General Motors Frigidaire Division plants in Dayton and suburban Moraine City.

3 At Rogers Enter College

Three members of a Rogers family have started college studies. Miss Bernice Wise has enrolled at Western Reserve College at Cleveland while Raymond Wise and Miss Mildred Wise have enrolled at Kent State University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bitner and Miss Dona Jean Radcliff of Fairmont, W. Va., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gorby.

Mrs. Ruth Cope was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morris of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lulu Hays of Lisbon.

Mrs. Jacqueline Eells visited Sunday with an aunt, Mrs. D. M. Stanley, of Alliance.

William Savors, minister of the Rogers Christian Church for 30 years and a teacher and principal in the East Liverpool school system for 16 years, has moved to Toltec, Ariz. He will serve as principal of a school there.

Palestine Teacher Given Service Leave

EAST PALESTINE — A leave of absence was granted by the Board of Education Monday night for Joel D. Carr, bookkeeping and business law instructor at the high school, who has been called for Reserve duty.

Carr, a teacher here for four years, is to report for duty this weekend at Ft. Lee, Va., and go overseas. No replacement has been obtained, but applicants are being interviewed.

It was reported the new $650,000 school improvement project is about 60 per cent finished, with the elementary structure near the junior high building close to completion. A steel deck is being erected this week at the addition at the high school.

'Leaving It To Dag'

More people have been saddened by Dag Hammarskjold's death than would be saddened by the death of any other figure in international politics.

Even the Russians who had been trying to ride him out of the secretary-generalship of the United Nations must feel sorry about his death. In him they had an opponent worth their most ruthless efforts to destroy him, because he would not be easy to destroy.

"Leaving it to Dag" had become a way out of blind alleys for people who usually talk about peace but frequently act as if they would rather have war. In places like the Congo he was the only hope of peace.

Whether his death on a mission there was pure accident or accident tainted with the malice of murder isn't going to be easy to know. It may never be known. It symbolizes what was threatening to be the crowning frustration of his single-minded crusade for world peace.

He had worked hard. He had kept his temper and his patience. He had brought to bear on his peace crusade all the skills of diplomacy and tact that he had mastered.

But things were not working well. Failure was in sight.

He was being closed in by the irreconcilability that shatters peace. He had been tagged for ruin by the Soviet Union. His policy of trying to disarm the Katanga troops of Moise Tshombe was under fire, because it had put the United Nations between the lines in a civil war. Berlin was raising the threat of nuclear war.

Hammarskjold could not have been sanguine about peace under existing circumstances.

Even his most trusting admirers were gloomy about his chances to pacify the Congo.

His death will bring to a gloomy climax all the dark fears about the perilous times we are enduring. With him gone, who will keep alive hope.

Civic Music Time

It's Civic Music membership time again, with the tri-state association now in the midst of its annual campaign.

Three concerts already have been arranged, and if sufficient memberships are obtained another will be added.

Civic Music plays an important role in the cultural scheme of things. It is essential to a well-rounded community program.

Through the association, local and district residents are given the opportunity of enjoying outstanding artists. The concerts in the past have been well received and have provided many hours of worthwhile entertainment. This season's attractions point to more of the same. And, as in the past, the local memberships open the door to concerts in other communities.

If you like good music, a Civic Music membership will prove a sound investment.

America Sends Its Sympathy

To Irish, Swedish and Indian troops beleaguered in Katanga Province by ruthless opponents who want to destroy them, America sends sympathy with understanding. It sends sympathy to their loved ones at home.

With nominal exceptions, other nations can send only sympathy. Only Americans can understand how it feels to bear the brunt of a prolonged and bloody United Nations police action.

No soldier who risks death under the United Nations banner can forget his nationality. He must fight as what he is—an American, an Irishman, a Swede, an Indian. If he dies, he must die as what he is. If his body is sent home, it will not be sent to the United Nations. It will be sent to the country that sent him away to fight.

His countrymen will not understand this. They will be troubled and vexed by what will appear to them as cross-purposes and negligence.

They will wonder querulously why their soldiers should bear the brunt of savage attacks and why other countries with equal status in the United Nations do not go forth with all the power at their command to subdue the enemy.

When told that the lives of their loved ones are being sacrificed for the sake of peace and that preservation of peace entails waging war under heavy mental and physical handicaps, they will doubt their ears and ask for explanations that won't be given.

Americans know this because they went through the torture of Korea, where 33,629 of their young men were killed in battle, another 20,197 died from other causes and 103,284 were wounded.

It never was clear why Americans bore the brunt in Korea. It never was clear what was derived of lasting value from so many deaths and so much destruction. It isn't clear how the United States bumbled into the Korea War or whether it ever will find its way out of it. American boys are still in Korea, still under the banner of the United Nations, still waiting for the possibility of savage attack.

America sends sympathy and understanding to Ireland, Sweden and India. But it sends no solution to the problem of how to enforce U.N. policies without bloodshed, and it sends no defense of U.N. policies that embroil peacemakers in civil wars.

Best Part Of The Pudding

In a matter of days, Congress will call it a session for 1961 and go home.

But this does not mean there was a failure.

The best proof of the political pudding in America is the way this country makes some of its longest strides forward by refusing to budge.

Historians pay scant attention to proposals that were rejected, preferring to concentrate on proposals that were accepted and their consequences. But in the evolution of popular government in the United States, proposals that were rejected saved the country time and again from moving in the wrong direction.

Two rejected proposals this year saved Americans from making grave mistakes—President Kennedy's proposed grants for schools and his radical approach to the farm problem, calling for a delegation of authority to the secretary of agriculture and farmers.

Failure of these two proposals does not in any way mean there has been a setback to the Kennedy administration or to the government. The proposals were unsound. There was no concert of opinion in their favor. Their backers could not make converts either in Congress or among the constituents of congressmen.

To have passed either of the proposals would have been a mockery of popular government. This also would have been true of the proposal to bypass the congressional appropriations method by authorizing the White House to borrow money for foreign economic development loans. There was no demand for this, either, except by a minority of persons with special interests and special viewpoints on foreign aid.

It is as easily possible to be thankful for bills that aren't passed as for some of the bills that are passed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

From "The Quiet Man," Mayor Wagner of New York has emerged as a hell-for-leather character out of "Westerns," the fastest draw east of the Pecos and a definite "Have Wallop; Will Travel" personality. His victory over Tammany, public school roof leaks and assorted scandals has lifted him out of role of "Robert the Und Curbed" to that of a figure somewhere between Wyatt Earp, Teddy Roosevelt and Dr. Parkhurst.

Add a few inches in height, a tendency to cry "Bully," a rough rider suit and he might even get the votes of Republicans in the regular election. He may even by ready for a Fiorello LaGuardia role reading the "funnies."

Wagner has become a tiger-eating man. He was raised in tigerhouse but concluded enough was enough and won landslide victory as animal trainer who made the big cat lie down and roll over.

He was never traditional Tammany type but up to this year he had staged no dramatic anti-organization performance. Few people suspected a rough and tumble nature was hidden beneath his "Leave us not get too excited" exterior.

But he switched abruptly from Yorkville, Yale and Gracie Mansion to Dodge City and Boot Hill, impressing the voters by sombrero and spurs touch to "Rough Rider" costume. He seemed the answer to a cry of "Call the cavalry post. We're surrounded by Indians."

He seems to be a mayor in orbit. White House, which brushed him off before the primary, has sent him all its love and Democrats all over the country are concluding he has become a top man in the party.

The fear is that Mayor Wagner, naturally an amiable, reserved, peaceloving man may find it hard to give right answer to his own question, "Is this me talking?" He looks 10 feet tall, but will there be shrinkage?

Tammany chiefs are inclined to think, "We will bury you" came from Robert, not Nikita. He appears to have stopped bunting and begun "going for the fences." Using the lively "brawl."

MAN IN THE MOON must be afraid that if Soviets get there first they will put barbed wire around him.

Professional Bowling Association will put up $25,000 jackpot in seven tournaments this winter. When we used to bowl in Al Johnson's alleys back home nobody offered a cigar if a fellow got six straight strikes. But the prize money is so high today that almost every week we run across some rich man who is a retired bowler.

President Sukarno of Indonesia says he is for guided democracy. This is a democracy in which all critics are guided to the doghouse.

In Direct Competition

Canadian Rebellion Against Hoffa

By Victor Riesel

TORONTO, Canada

There is a north of the border, you know. The air is fresh because the wind is cool and men are willing to slug it out with their fists and anything else handy, when they are pushed around.

Victor Riesel

Over in the nickel mining area of Sudbury — mighty vital to U.S. defense supplies— there has been a series of hand-to-hand battles between rebellious local unionists and invaders dispatched by the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union International office in Denver.

The police have rushed in. The Mounties' intelligence unit keeps the town under surveillance. Now the civil war is complicated because the gendarmerie expects the International Mine, Mill headquarters to call on its new allies, the Teamsters, for reserve troops.

This would really start a brawl. The rebellious Canadian nickel miners want even less to do with Jimmy Hoffa than they want to stay tied to the Mine, Mill outfit.

WHEN WORD was flashed into Canada that the Mine, Mill Union —whose international president had been accused before the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee of being Communist— had allied with Hoffa, there was enough heated anger to melt all of Hudson Bay's ice.

The Nickel Workers local 637 over in Port Colborne ran the biggest meeting in mining history there. Some 1,700 miners told their officers to prepare to protect their union building.

Then they passed a resolution condemning the mutual assistance pact between Hoffa's Teamsters and the Mine, Mill international headquarters.

This may etch like acid on Hoffa's stockpile of steel nerves. Jimmy H. always has boasted that he's the labor giant loved by the rank and file and hated only by federal and corporate and journalistic monsters.

Well, apparently the good people of Sudbury and Port Colborne are not the only workers laying in a supply of bean stalks.

Before I looked in on the revolt of the Canadian nickel diggers, I talked to Joseph Beirne, leader of some 350,000 telephone workers. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America (CWA), has no use for muscle, just guts.

HE HAS a quiet whimsical theory that in any fight where it's brain against brawn, the mind will win. Furthermore, he believes that it's unethical to stand on the sidelines and let rebels fight it out alone behind the Teamsters lines.

So, the other day, Beirne urged the CWA Executive Committee meeting in Front Royal, Va., to declare open war on Jimmy Hoffa. They did.

The CWA board laid it on the line. It announced that it would call on the AFL-CIO to organize a Teamsters union to rival Hoffa's brotherhood.

LET NOT Mr. Beirne's words, and those of his colleagues, go unrecorded:

"Be it resolved that the executive board of the Communications Workers of America believes the time has come, and is in fact overdue, for the AFL-CIO to provide a place of refuge for the honest democratic members of the Teamsters union; and

"Be it further resolved that the CWA herewith calls upon the AFL-CIO to create and charter a new International Union of Truck Drivers and Motor Vehicle Carriers, open to all members and locals of the Teamsters who subscribe to the AFL-CIO's type of clean, honest, democratic trade unionism. . . .

"Be it further resolved that the CWA calls upon the AFL-CIO and our sister unions to give the full financial, moral and organizational support necessary to create and develop this new union free of corruption, free of communism, free of employer domination; (and) to build a union of, by and for the men and women of the truck driving and motor vehicle carrier industries; (and) to build a union capable of winning on its merits and achievements, the enthusiastic devotion of its members, the fraternal support of the labor movement, and the respect and friendship of the government and the American public."

THIS IS OPEN WAR! And Joe Beirne will urge it on the AFL-CIO high council and its general board (made up of all international union presidents) when they meet in New York City Oct. 9.

AFL-CIO chief George Meany has let it be known that if 10 Teamsters locals with membership totaling 10,000 rebel against Hoffa, the AFL-CIO will launch a rival national truck drivers brotherhood.

We presume the noise we'll soon hear will be Hoffa's roaring among the beanstalks.

The Fateful Question

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Instead of just a Berlin crisis, there may be a United Nations crisis.

The United States and Russia hold in their hands the fate of the world organization and therefore just about any hope for peace, remote as that seems.

The fateful question now is whether the two giants can agree on a successor to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed Monday in an African plane crash.

At last year's U.N. meeting in New York Premier Khrushchev not only called Hammarskjold a fool but said he had become a Western tool.

The secretary-general is the organization's highest executive officer. He runs it under the direction of the Security Council and the General Assembly.

Khrushchev a year ago demanded that Hammarskjold be replaced by three secretaries-general: one representing the West, one the Soviet bloc, and one the neutrals, with each able to veto what the others wanted.

This would render the United Nations helpless in any crisis and leave it, at best, strictly a debating society. It is questionable the United States would remain a member if three secretaries were appointed.

Outside the Soviet bloc Khrushchev got small support. Neutrals tried to suggest a middle ground — that the organization appoint three special assistants to the secretary-general. One would speak for the West, one for the Communist bloc, the other for the neutrals.

Nothing was done on this. Hammerskjold refused to quit. The Soviets were stuck with him, it seemed, until his term would expire in April 1963. His sudden death now gives Khrushchev a fresh chance to tear up the United Nations.

This country and Russia have other pressing problems — like Berlin and disarmament—and it's possible, to avoid an immediate U.N. crisis, they may reach a temporary compromise on a single successor to Hammarskjold.

By letting such an individual serve out the unexpired term, East and West could postpone their U.N. fight for two years. Even mentioning this kind of reasonable, if temporary, settlement comes under the heading of wishful thinking.

These next few days will reveal what is on Khrushchev's unpredictable mind.

The very machinery of the United Nations—for choosing a secretary-general—sets the stage for pulling the roof down, if anyone wants to.

First the 11-nation Security Council must recommend the choice for secretary to the 99-nation General Assembly. But the United States and Russia both sit in the Security Council. Both have the power of veto there.

Thus either could keep the other's proposal from getting to the General Assembly. Approval in the General Assembly must be by two-thirds vote.

To get around the dangerous bottleneck in the Security Council, perhaps some effort will be made to get the General Assembly somehow to act on its own to approve a new secretary without waiting for council recommendation.

Canada Speeds CD

Progress Appears To Be Satisfactory

OTTAWA

Canada, a country which has not known war on its homeland for almost a century-and-a-half, in addition to measures announced recently to increase its armed forces is accelerating civil defense plans.

The deterioration of the Berlin situation has produced a sharp increase in interest on the part of the government and to some extent of the public in problems of survival.

Planning, already considered to have come a long way in the relatively short space of time during which Canada has shown signs of wanting to take civil defense seriously, is now being considerably speeded.

There remain weak spots and even serious failings, in the program, and in many fields the effort has been as effective only as the weakest of the three links —Federal, Provincial and municipal—in the country's chain of government.

THERE HAS been hesitation, too, even on the part of the federal government. It has recommended that people build fallout shelters; but its approach has been half-hearted, the government not even providing these facilities for its employes occupying public housing, let alone building public shelters.

In many fields, however, officials, consider that progress has been satisfactory. The installation of warning systems is proceeding rapidly. Direct teleprinter facilities—supplemented by radio—linking provincial warning centers across the country to the federal headquarters are considered among the fastest anywhere, despite tremendous problems of distance.

Last month the army, assigned the major responsibility for civilian rescue, began manning alternative operational headquarters across the country at centers away from potential target areas.

At the same time it began preparing permanent rescue headquarters for each of the major cities, this also outside potential areas of destruction.

CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES, too, are prepared, if need be, to move key personnel to temporary facilities pending the construction of permanent emergency centers of government.

In their preparations, officials faced problems peculiar to Canada beyond the already massive ones associated with survival anywhere in a nuclear war. There are the great distances and the severity of the winters.

Medical officials estimating needs and stockpiling emergency supplies say, somewhat ruefully, that casualty depots could expect few seriously injured persons to reach treatment centers alive in very cold weather, unless they were rescued almost immediately.

Canada has not known war since 1812, when it fought against the United States. Any feeling of domestic security there might have been in that regard has been dispelled by its geographical situation between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

Canada's clear commitment to the Western alliance would leave the country little hope of escaping unscathed in a global conflict.

Even if Canada escaped direct enemy action, officials say that fallout could still be a serious threat to millions of Canadians. It could drift into Canada from detonations in the U.S.

UNTIL TWO YEARS ago Canadian civil defense had been developed essentially to reduce the impact of bombing upon civilians. It relied extensively on volunteers to deal with the activities which would arise from such attacks.

Even within this limited goal the program was haphazard and, on the whole, ineffective. The destructive potential of nuclear weapons rendered even the concept meaningless.

It was only two years ago that this realization dawned on the government with the need to do something about it.

Federal officials in turn asked that provincial and local authorities do their share. But, while some regional and local authorities have shown diligence in civil defense planning, others have been hard to move, despite the fact that the central government has offered to pay most of the cost.

But as the Berlin crisis deepens there are signs that all levels of government—and many of the public—are beginning to take their responsibilities seriously.

Survival officials, who must learn to play for the worst and hope for the best, are making the most of the opportunity. If the Berlin crisis is finally resolved, Canada's home defenses, they say, will be left that much stronger. If the crisis explodes at least the country will be that better prepared.

Letters To The Editor

Having been an active member of the Westgate PTA for the five years it has been organized, I would like to enlighten Mrs. Miller.

Our PTA was started on a shoestring by a few hard workers with a lot of guts. There have been a lot of mistakes made, but just like life we live and learn.

If people (I mean parents, because the teachers always have been well represented) would come to the meetings and speak their piece (and they can speak at anytime during the meeting) instead of discussing it over the back fence and the bridge table maybe the PTA could do something for the children and parents.

Every year our meetings have covered anything you parents can mention. They have been wonderful meetings and from the things I hear they are going to be better than ever.

Last year and the year before on election night there were only a handful of people to cast their vote. What right have those who sit at home and neglect their God-given right to vote (not only at school but at all elections) to criticize those who do get out and try, I have found that if you help those who are trying, you help yourself in the end.

Maybe some of you don't like the way those in office do things. Well, come to the meetings, learn what is going on and then vote for those you want in office.

As for our first meeting, I for one liked the way it went. It was exactly what was on the flyer that was sent home by the students. I think we all know that it is hard to discuss our children with strangers and the "Name-O" game was a grand way for people to get to know each other. Our first meetings always have been on this order. After five years of building up our PTA it makes me angry to think one letter can tear down all we have done in the past.

We have between 700 and 800 or more students in the grade school, so I would expect more than 50 to 75 parents to attend the PTA. Anyone, any time, can stand up and ask questions or speak his or her piece (as those who were at the last meeting know).

Please come for more than one meeting and see how unusual they all can be. We will try to make everyone feel welcome.

MRS. RALPH WIDGER
508 E. 3rd St.

Editor's note — Mrs. Widger's son, Ralph, 11, adds the following: Mr. Editor, I cannot write very well, but I think that if Mrs. Miller had attended some of the meetings last year she wouldn't have wrote her letter. As for the constuction area, they discussed it last year.

District Session Sept. 30

Teachers' Group To Convene Here

East Liverpool will be host to more than 500 school teachers and administrators from a six-county area for the second annual fall conference sponsored by the East Central Ohio Teachers Association Saturday, Sept. 30, at Westgate School.

Five distinguished educators will serve as speakers and consultants for the all-day program on modern approaches to the teaching of arithmetic in elementary schools, and the teaching of reading at junior and senior high school levels, Asst. Supt. Paul H. Blair of East Liverpool, ECOTA president, said.

TEACHERS and administrators from schools in Columbiana, Stark, Carroll, Tuscarawas, Holmes and Wayne Counties are expected for the conference, which will get under way at 9:30 a.m. (DST) and conclude at 3 p. m., Blair said.

Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria between 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m., an extra hour being allotted so the teachers and administrators may examine 35 new materials exhibits prepared by representatives of leading book companies.

Reservations for lunch must be made by Friday, Blair said. No reservations are required for the conference.

Heading the list of educators will be Dr. Laura Zirbes, emeritus professor of education at Ohio State University and considered one of the nation's outstanding leaders in elementary education, who will be the keynote speaker.

THE DISCUSSION speakers will include Dr. Harold P. Fawcett, professor of education at Ohio State University; Dr. Matilda Bailey of Philadelphia, author, lecturer, consultant and visiting professor at Slippery Rock (Pa.) State Teachers College; Dr. Merrill Hill, lecturer, consultant and mathematics field editor for Scott, Foresman & Co., and Dr. Martha Gesling Weber, professor of education at Bowling Green State University.

The program will open with a 45-minute general session at which Dr. Zirbes will give the keynote address on "Today's Challenge In Education." Blair will preside.

The first discussion session will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. with elementary teachers hearing Dr. Fawcett discuss "Modern Approaches to the Teaching of Arithmetic" and Dr. Bailey address secondary teachers and principals on "Modern Approaches to the Teaching of Reading."

DR. LAURA ZIRBES

—:—

MISS MARGARET McLain, elementary supervisor in Carrollton exempted village schools, will be chairman of the elementary session, while Robert Abel, assistant superintendent of Dover schools, will serve as chairman for the secondary discussion group.

Following lunch and examination of the exhibits, the afternoon session will begin at 1:30.

Elementary teachers and administrators will hear an address by Dr. Hill on "Techniques for Teaching Arithmetic in Elementary Schools."

Dr. Weber will address the secondary group on "Reading Techniques In the Subject Areas in the Secondary Schools."

Roy G. Burlingame, elementary supervisor in Wayne County schools, will serve as chairman of the elementary group and Lloyd Dull, supervisor in Canton city schools, will be chairman of the secondary school group.

SUPT. RALPH W. Betts of East Liverpool and Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school supervisor of Columbiana County schools, are co-chairmen of the ECOTA's steering committee which arranged the program.

Other committee members include Miss McLain, Abel, Burlingame, Dull, and Miss Ethel Mae Reese, supervisor of Holmes County schools.

Bell Aide Is Speaker

Jaycees Told Of Missile Radar Warning System

A description of the DEW line and other early-warning radar systems and of NORAD, the central collection agency for all information to guard against a surprise attack by an enemy, was presented by William Gibson of Steubenville, district sales engineer for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., at the general membership meeting of the Jaycees Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Gibson's talk included a taped telephone conversation made earlier in the day with a command officer at NORAD, located at Colorado Springs.

The continental defense system along the Arctic Circle in Northern Canada and Alaska was started in 1954. The first 60 units were completed in 32 months, Gibson said. He also spoke on the line of radar units across central Canada and the Fir Line system at the border of the United States and Canada.

Gibson displayed a large map of the North American continent which was lighted to show where the various systems are located. He also spoke on a new system being installed in the Arctic area to detect intercontinental ballistic missiles. The nation will receive a three-hour warning on manned planes but only 15 minutes on missiles.

Included in the nation's network of defense are the Texas Towers off the east coast and submarine and airplane detection systems operated by Navy ships and planes in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

During the taped phone call, the officer at NORAD explained how many planes had been detected in a 24-hour period and how many were unidentified. He then went on to explain how positive identification was made on each craft. He also related an unidentified submarine — one not belonging to the United States or any friendly nation — was at that time located about 300 nautical miles from San Francisco. He said another was off the east coast. Both were being tracked constantly.

The officer also told how many Russian fishing boats were on the Grand Banks off the coast of New Foundland and of another fleet south of the Aleutian Island chain.

In the event of an attack, the order for interception of planes or retaliation will come from the NORAD headquarters.

Gibson was introduced by Robert Brooks, program chairman. Forty attended. Brooks gave the invocation.

New members introduced were Wells Jackson, Joseph Gebauer and William Holden.

James Allison reported a convention club is being founded. Those joining will work to raise funds to sponsor trips to various Jaycee conventions.

It was reported the Jaycees are helping to sponsor a news broadcast on East Liverpool by Paul Harvey Oct. 7. The last 5 minutes of his 15 minute program will be devoted entirely to the city.

William Webber, president, conducted business. He announced the next all-state meeting is Sept. 30-Oct. 1 at Columbus. The Board of Trustees will meet Oct. 2 at the Chamber of Commerce office. The next membership meeting is Oct. 16. Joe Coons will be program chairman.

The board voted at a special meeting following the regular session to purchase a light meal for the East Liverpool High School football squad before they leave for the game with New Philadelphia Sept. 29.

Boy In Kindergarten Just Slightly Confused

"It's for that man who helps us if a big storm hits," he said.

"What's his name?" asked Randy's mother.

"I think it's Red."

"Yep, that's it. Red Cross."

Bataan Hero Cited For Embezzlement

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Sheriff Arthur Wermuth, who won fame as the "one-man army of Bataan" during World War II, was indicted Monday on charges of embezzlement, conversion of public funds and false pretenses.

Wermuth, 46, a Republican, said, "there are definite political overtones to this entire (Jefferson County) grand jury investigation." He said he wasn't allowed to testify.

Wermuth is charged with illegally obtaining $3,673 in county funds over a two-year period. He posted a $4,000 bond.

Wermuth was credited with killing 100 Japanese soldiers early in World War II. He was captured and spent three years in a Japanese prison.

Veteran Writer Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gilbert Forbes, 57, veteran newsman, war correspondent and radio and television newscaster, died Monday after a long illness. He began his newscasting for radio stations in St. Louis and Joliet, Ill., in the early 1930s and joined radio station WFBM, Indianapolis, in 1937. He was born in St. Louis.

The story of Joseph and his brothers occurs in Genesis.

School Board Meets

Lisbon Firm Gets Order For Coal

The Mineral Fuel & Supply Co. of Lisbon received a contract to furnish coal to city schools when the Board of Education considered bids Monday night.

The Lisbon firm, which has supplied coal for the last two or three years, bid $7 per ton for stoker and nut coal, $8.30 a ton for egg coal and $8.80 for lump coal.

The prices are the same as last year, Supt. Ralph W. Betts told the board.

THE ONLY other bid was received from W. J. Moore & Son Coal Co. of Salineville, which asked $9 per ton regardless of type.

The appointments of two principals, two elementary teachers and two half-time high school instructors also were approved.

Keith Dunlevy was named principal at Neville and Mrs. Marie Graham at Klondyke. They succeed William Savors, who was principal at both schools but resigned to move to Arizona.

Betts told the board the appointments are a "temporary" situation for this term with Mrs. Graham scheduled to become principal of both buildings under the board's policy. Dunlevy is aware of the situation, Betts added.

JAMES MOSS questioned the superintendent at length about the appointment of principals, asking if Dunlevy's appointment over another teacher with additional credits wouldn't defeat the board's policy of encouraging teachers to secure additional degrees.

The superintendent said it shouldn't discourage any teacher, explaining the appointment was a matter of judgment over which would be the better administrator.

Anthony LaNeve and Mrs. Gladys Patterson were appointed formally as elementary teachers while Sondra Marshall was named high school art teacher at half-time at a salary of $2,275 and Mary Carroll was appointed high school health teacher half-time at $2,500.

The resignation of William Showe as a teacher was accepted. Showe was granted a leave of absence last year for military training but notified school officials his obligation has been extended and he wants to be relieved of commitments here when discharged.

MRS. MARGARET Poe, a secretary in the high school office, was granted a leave of absence Sept. 15 until Oct. 31 with Mrs. Pearl Stamateris, a former employe, hired to replace her.

Al Harvey, Patterson Field custodian, was granted a leave of absence for the balance of the calendar year. Frank Kreefer, McKinley custodian, has been assigned temporarily to take Harvey's place and the board approved the temporary appointment of Charles Bole for the McKinley post for the remainder of this year.

The board granted permission for Gary Lones, now a senior, to complete his education at Beaver Local High School and also authorized the children of Robert Donaldson, a Beaver Local teacher, to attend Beaver Local schools.

Children from the Eastham family in the Beaver Local area were given permission to attend Glenmoor school. Betts reported "extenuating" circumstances in all of the cases.

THE BOARD also received a copy of a letter from Beaver Local Schools to Mrs. Robert Schlang in which the Beaver Local district turned down her request for her son to attend schools in the district. At its meeting Aug. 9, the city board also had denied Mrs. Schlang's request.

The board also authorized a letter be sent to county commissioners urging favorable consideration of plans to establish a sanitary district in the Glenmoor area.

The board approved the rent of the following buildings:

Westgate auditorium, Oct. 17, 24, 31 and Nov. 7, 14, and 21 to the Quota Club for a series of travelogues at a fee of $50 a night; Memorial Auditorium, Sept. 30, to Harding DeMolay chapter for a wrestling show with a fee of $90.

WESTGATE GYMNASIUM to Carnegie Public Library on Saturday morning for a program for members of reading clubs it conducted this summer with no rental fee; Westgate auditorium and cafeteria, Oct. 27-28, to the Sweet Adelines for rehearsal and program at a fee of $82, and Westgate cafeteria and library on Oct. 15 to the Business & Professional Women's Club for a district meeting.

The board also granted the County Election Board permission to use Neville, Klondyke, Horace Mann, McKinley, Pleasant Heights and Westgate buildings as polling places at the Nov. 7 election. The Pleasant Heights building also will be used to register unqualified voters on Sept. 27.

An application from William J. McKeever, 238 Ravine St., to be hired as a plumber in the school system was received and filed. The board said it is not considering the establishment of the post at present but will retain the application on file.

THE BOARD also authorized the senior high school to become a member of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Leo C. Lawrence, who was absent, was appointed delegate to the northeast regional meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association Friday at Kent.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported receipt of $171,707.71 as the third quarterly settlement from the state foundation program.

She reported a balance of $176,537.82 in all school funds, including $155,850.85 in the general operating account.

Charges Dismissed In Delinquency Case

The charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old East Liverpool girl was dismissed Monday afternoon against Haywood Goldsmith of Harvey Ave., by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin. The complainant, his wife, asked to have the charges dropped due to illness.

Custody of the girl was turned over to Columbiana County welfare authorities, who are expected to return her to West Virginia. She has been in this county only since July 16, court was advised.

Goldsmith had been confined to the County Jail since Sept. 7 when unable to make bond.

Evangelistic Series Scheduled At Lisbon

LISBON — A series of revival services will begin Wednesday night at the Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Don Isenberg of Bournonnais, Ill., in charge.

Rev. Isenberg studied at the Allentown (Pa.) Bible Institute and Trevecca Nazarene College at Nashville, Tenn. He is a chalk artist and attended art school.

Rev. Isenberg was a pastor for seven years before entering evangelistic work.

The Rev. Russell Long, pastor of the host church, said services will be held nightly at 7:30 through Oct. 1.

Taxi Injures Its Operator

A taxicab driver bumped by his cab and a brick firm employe injured at work were among five district adults and youngsters treated at City Hospital Monday and today.

Richard Emmerling, 36, of 850 Lisbon St., driver for Veterans Cabs, was treated at 10:45 p. m. for injuries to the right shoulder and chest suffered when hit by his cab as he stepped out of it.

Dr. John Fraser Chosen For Ohio Volunteer Group

Dr. John A. Fraser of Highland Colony has been elected a member of the American Cancer Society's top level volunteer group in Ohio, it was announced today by Mrs. Edna Jones, president of the Columbiana County unit of the ACS.

Dr. Fraser will begin a two-year term next month on the 68-member Board of Trustees of the ACS Ohio division, representing the six counties in District 6 of the Ohio Medical Society.

The board helps to develop and co-ordinate the $2 million yearly statewide cancer control programs.

Dr. Fraser was elected at a regional meeting of ACS leaders Sunday in Cleveland.

Local volunteers attending the session heard plans for presenting needed information on cancer to men and women where they are employed.

Attending the session were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jane Jolly, executive secretary of the county unit; Mrs. Gertrude Reese, county delegate to the session; Mrs. Audrey B. Newtz, publicity chairman, and Miss Mary Alice Lemal, board member.

McElroy Claims 5 'Frankensteins' Caused By Crime

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy told more than 100 area pastors Monday night that organized crime has created five "Frankensteins."

He said the "Frankenstein" monsters were:

1. Community complacency and tolerance for the so-called smoke shop or pool room gambling.
2. The theory and practice that candidates for public office of both parties might accept campaign contributions from any source.
3. The compulsive gambler.
4. The relationship between the gambling syndicate and other criminal activities.
5. The effect of organized crime upon commerce and industry and the otherwise unaffected citizens.

Deaths and Funerals

Ex-Rogers Resident Dies

EAST PALESTINE — Miss Susan C. Shafer, 436 W. North Ave., former resident of Rogers and Rochester, died this morning at 9:15 at Providence Hospital at Beaver Falls after an illness. She was 78.

Born Oct. 15, 1882, in Middleton Township, she was a daughter of John and Zoliza Underwood Shafer. She worked for many years at the former Boggs & Buhl Department Store at Pittsburgh, and also taught music.

She was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and had moved here about two years ago after the family home burned at Rogers.

Survivors include two brothers, Charles M. Shafer and Walter S. Shafer, and a sister, Miss Sarah Shafer, all at the home.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Warrick Funeral Home at Columbiana by the Rev. H. Dale Rough. Burial will be in East Carmel Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Infant Govey

Thomas William Govey, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Govey of Alpine Way, Chester, died at 7:40 a. m. today, shortly after premature birth at City Hospital.

Survivors include the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry of the Casting Club Rd., and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Govey of Chester.

Graveside services will be Wednesday at Mill Creek Cemetery near Hookstown. The Rev. Merle Dickson of the Chester Free Methodist Church will officiate.

Miss Ruth Pangburn

EAST PALESTINE—Miss Ruth Pangburn, 67, of Geneva, sister of Mrs. Myra Chilson of East Palestine, died this morning at 3:45 at Geneva Memorial Hospital.

She was a former teacher at Geneva and Ravenna.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Belding-Webster Funeral Home at Geneva.

A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Katanga Says It Has Taken Big UN Base

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga's military forces claimed today they had wrested the big U.N. base at Kamina from its Irish and Swedish defenders after a six-day battle.

The U.N. chief in Katanga, Conor Cruise O'Brien, insisted however, that the hard-pressed defenders still held the air strip in that vital base 280 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

As O'Brien met with reporters at his headquarters in Elisabethville, capital of secessionist Katanga, a Katanga plane attacked the building. Its bombs fell wide but the headquarters grounds were raked by machinegun fire. There were no casualties.

The claim that Kamina had fallen to the attacking Katangans, reportedly led by white officers, was made by Katanga's military radio.

A U.N. spokesman in this Congo capital said there was nothing in messages from Kamina to indicate that the garrison had surrendered.

Heavy fighting also was reported in Kabalo, 150 miles west of Albertville, where Katanga forces occupied the airfield.

5 Await Steubenville Highway Discussions

A delegation of at least five from East Liverpool will attend a luncheon meeting of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Wednesday noon at the Steubenville Country Club to discuss current plans for north - south and east - west throughway improvements.

The group will include Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the UOVDC highway committee and presiding officer for the meeting; C. W. Ashbaugh, a UOVDC vice president; Alvin T. Babb, Chamber of Commerce president; Jud English, representing the Columbiana County Auto Club, and E. R. Chandler, Chamber secretary-manager.

Sixty are expected from the six-county UOVDC area to discuss projects with highway department officials from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Lisbon Girl Honored

Chosen 'Miss Poppy'

Linda Jean McCamon, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCamon of W. Spruce St., Lisbon and representative of the Lisbon American Legion Post 275 auxiliary, is the national American Legion Auxiliary's "Miss Poppy."

Her scrapbook was selected for first place at the national convention in Denver, Sept. 11-14, according to Mrs. Jack Stockman and Mrs. Robert Gardner, co-chairmen of the Lisbon auxiliary's recent Poppy sale. Mrs. Russell Shaw also assisted the chairmen in preparing the scrapbook of publicity, which won the state contest as well as the national.

This is the highest award given to any department and is judged on news releases and the number of presentations given by Miss Poppy to sell the Legion-made symbolical flower.

Mrs. William Gill of Minerva, second vice president of the Department of Ohio, informed the chairmen of Linda's selection on her return from the convention.

Mrs. Dorothy McKelvey of Scio, 10th District auxiliary president, will present the Lisbon auxiliary with a $25 award for its efforts in promoting the poppy sale which won the national prize.

Space Station Attendants Due More Than Smile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Attendants who man space "filling stations" of the future won't get by with just a friendly smile and the uncomplicated question: "Regular or ethyl?"

An astronaut might steer his space ship into a filling station orbiting the earth and say: "Fill 'er up with inhibited red fuming nitric acid and unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine."

The first part, IRFNA, is an oxidizer, a chemical with high oxygen content. Because there is no oxygen-laden air in space, rocket engines can't depend on it to ignite fuel as earth - based automobiles can. The second part of the order, UDH, is the actual rocket fuel.

When another space pilot pulls in and asks for hydrogen peroxide, it won't be used to bleach his wife's hair. It will be his oxidizer. The fuel to go with it could be any of the following: aluminum-enriched polyethylene, boron trimethyl, cyanogen, diborane, lithium aluminum hydride or pentaborane.

British Forces Start Kuwait Withdrawal

A big beverly transport plane headed out over the Persian Gulf carrying the first men to leave — 80 sunburned soldiers from the 2nd Parachute Battalion — to Bahrain.

The British troops were flown in at Kuwait's request last July after neighboring Iraq laid claim to the little Sheikdom, a former British protectorate rich in oil.

The British agreed to withdraw after members of the Arab League, with Iraq vigorously dissenting, voted to send in forces to protect Kuwait's sovereignty.

Teachers Different On Marriage Signs

It also was diagrammed in the manner used by school children learning grammar.

Merger

However, the petition lacked the required 35 per cent of qualified voters in the Franklin Local and Southern Local districts combined.

Authorities feel the petition will have no effect upon the merger, but a formal ruling is to be sought from the prosecutor.

Appointment of five members to the Board of Education of the combined district by the county board last month was apparently premature, officials said today, and official appointments will have to be made later.

The county board apparently should have waited until the new district actually went into existence before naming an interim board to serve until elections could be held.

County Supt. James McBride said today the procedure for the appointment was "misinterpreted." The board had named J. B. Fergason and Martin Adams of Salineville, John Ewing of Wayne, Jack Stewart of No. 16 and Jack Dangelo of Franklin to the new board.

The county board expects to wait for a ruling from the prosecutor concerning the Franklin Local petition, and if it is ruled non-valid, a board will be appointed anew for the combined district, probably the same men as those named previously. This may be done at the meeting Oct. 17.

Owners of the plane, the Swedish Air Co., said in Leopoldville the plane might have been shot down by a jet fighter from rebellious Katanga's tiny air force. Hammarskjold was on his way to discuss a cease-fire between U.N. and Katanga forces with Katanga President Moise Tshombe when disaster struck.

A U.N. spokesman said neither gunfire nor sabotage could be ruled out. British and Rhodesian authorities launched an investigation.

As the bodies of Hammarskjold and the other victims were brought to the Ndola hospital mortuary, the world's uneasy capitals worried about the effect of his death on the United Nations.

Tributes were paid to Hammarskjold and his ceaseless labors for peace around the world. In many parts of Europe and elsewhere, fears were expressed that his death and Soviet stalling tactics might jeopardize the future of the United Nations.

In New York, the U.N. General Assembly was opening one of its most crucial sessions. Western diplomats strove to prevent the Soviet Union, arch foe of Hammarskjold, from paralyzing the United Nation's work by delaying the appointment of a successor.

Hammarskjold's death prompted President Kennedy to decide to go before the United Nations Friday or Monday to affirm "at a time of crisis for the United Nations," support for the United Nations and its principles, a White House spokesman said.

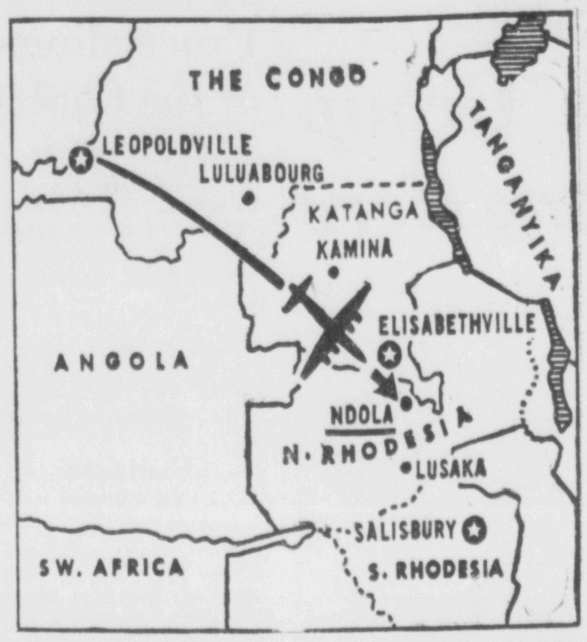

Hammarskjold's death posed grave problems for the United Nations and its Congo operation. He had been a major cementing factor in the world organization and the U.N. Congo force was his own idea to keep the new nation from lapsing into anarchy.

The search for his successor must be conducted under Communist pressure to replace the office of secretary-general with a three-man board of Communist, neutral and Western representatives, each with a veto. This probably would paralyze the world organization. Maneuvering in the wake of Hammarskjold's death is likely to impede U.N. debate on the Berlin crisis and other pressing problems.

The death of Hammarskjold also leaves the Congo on the brink of chaos. U.N. troops, who went on the offensive last week to disarm Tshombe's troops and bring Katanga's mineral wealth back under the Congo's central government, were still fighting Tshombe's army.

Katanga's forces claimed the capture of the main U.N. base in Katanga at Kamina and fighting was reported spreading to other areas of the province.

in the strife-torn Congo, where a breakdown of U.N. authority would probably result in civil war in which the great powers might become engaged.

Disorganization of the U.N. machinery is assumed by U.S. leaders to be Moscow's goal. They are deeply worried about the worldwide dangers of a prolonged dispute over the issue.

Under the U.N. charter, a new secretary-general must be chosen by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. Like the other big powers, the Soviet Union has a veto in the Security Council. It opposes a single secretary-general. A year ago Premier Khrushchev personally led a fight to replace Hammarskjold with a three-man board.

It may turn out that Khrushchev will try to lump his demands for reorganization of the United Nations with his demands on the Western Allies in the Berlin crisis, backing both with his nuclear weapons power.

Rusk and Stevenson decided, however, that they should try to devise some means of protecting the United Nations as much as possible against the damage of a prolonged battle over Hammarskjold's successor. In consultation with leaders of other friendly delegations they encouraged the idea that the power to act urgently could be found in the General Assembly where the veto does not exist.

Diplomats familiar with this developing plan said the objective would not be to name an acting secretary-general but rather to set up a caretaker administration under an official empowered to carry out the directives of the Security Council and the assembly until a secretary-general can be named.

ment. The Berlin crisis also may come up.

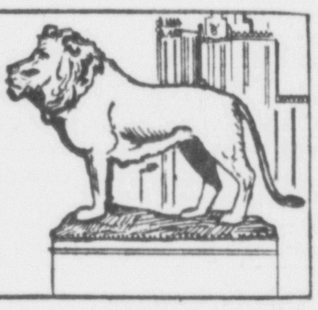

In the gloomy atmosphere, many delegates were heartened by the announcement that President Kennedy will address the assembly to reaffirm U.S. support for the organization in its hour of crisis. The White House said Kennedy will appear here this week or next, but Friday was the most likely date.

District Fruit Crop Attains Season Peak

With the fall fruit parade in full swing, counters at district markets are loaded down with a wide selection of locally - grown products, according to Richard Skinner, marketing agent with the Co-operative Extension Service in Canfield.

Peaches continue to dominate the market, but apples are becoming of increasing importance, Skinner said.

Peaches will be the top attraction on area fruit counters for another couple of weeks. Supplies are not as large as in some years, but there are enough to go around. Growers report that they are now picking J. H. Hale and Elberta varieties. Both are good canning peaches. You may find some Belle of Georgia still on area markets. It is considered good for freezing or fresh use.

Most of the peaches now on the market do not have the size that earlier peaches had, but the quality of the late crop this year is considered excellent. If you plan to freeze or can peaches this year, you will want to do so within the next week or two, as the large supply will be about gone by then, as will the varieties which are good for freezing or canning.

Apples, the king of fall fruits, will be with us until about next May. However, the next two months will be the period of greatest supply.

The summer apple season soon will be over and we will be into the season of the most popular fall varieties such as McIntosh, Jonathan and Delicious. The last of the summer apples on the market is the Wealthy, which is considered an excellent cooking apple.

McIntosh, although not fully ripe, is on some markets. The McIntosh is an excellent eating apple when ripe. If you buy your apples from a reliable source, you will stand a better chance of getting ripe apples.

Another good all-purpose apple beginning to appear on the market is Ohio Non-Pereil. While it does not have the ruby red color this year that consumers like to see, it is a high quality apple.

Apples will be economically priced this year because of the very large crop, so plan to include this economical fruit in your fall menus as often as possible. New dishes will be introduced by the National Apple Institute this fall.

Bartlett pears of high quality now are available on many area markets. The Bartlett pear is a large bell-shaped pear with smooth, clear yellow skin often blushed with red. It has a fine grained flesh that is sweet and juicy.

You will find a few Seckel pears on the market. It is a small pear with dull yellowish - brown color with white flesh. Seckel pears have a spicy flavor which makes them ideal for pear butter or preserves.

Pears are one of the few fruits which are best when ripened off of the tree. Pears are often sold while still green. If they are stored in a cool place, they will soon ripen and have their golden color. The most important thing to look for when buying pears is firmness. A soft pear will not hold up for any length of time.

September is the peak month for plum production. While most of the plums come from California, local farmers are now picking prune plums. If your family likes plums, now is the time to buy as they are in peak supply both locally and nationally. Select plums that are plump, clean, of fresh appearance and soft enough to yield to pressure.

Concord grapes will make their appearance on area markets within the next week or two. This is the blue-black grape which is grown locally and is considered the juice grape. The Concord variety accounts for 70 percent of all Ohio-grown grapes. Three pounds will make one quart of juice. Other varieties of grapes that are in abundant supply are the Tokay, Thompson Seedless and Ribier varieties.

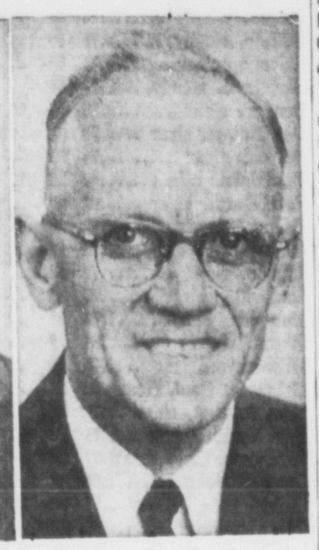

Highly flavored, sweet, juicy homegrown melons are among the favorite fruits on the market now. But choosing melons is somewhat like buying a "pig in a poke." It is difficult to be sure of the sweetness or ripeness of the melon until it is cut and tasted. The outside appearance must serve as a guide to melon flavor and juiciness.

The softness of the blossom end may or may not indicate ripeness. Too many "pinchers" when shopping can soften an unripe melon. The following steps will help you in determining when a melon is good. First, feel the weight of the cantaloupe, buy those that are heavy for their size. Second, inspect the stem end. It should be slightly sunken, smooth and well calloused. If so, this is an indication the melon was ripe when picked. And third, buy melons that have a rich distinct aroma. Remember the presence of moisture at the stem end is an indication that the melon is green.

New Division Set Up By Patterson Company

HOWARD CROSSLEY

NORMAN E. BROWN

The Patterson Foundry and Machine Co., one of the nation's oldest suppliers of chemical processing equipment, has established a new division — the Process Equipment Trading Co.

It will be headed by Howard Crossley. He will be assisted by Norman E. Brown.

Patterson's general manager, William Barker, said "the new division came into being after a comprehensive study was made of customer requirements in processing equipment. Throughout the country it appeared that countless companies were stymied in their modernization programming because of the huge capital investments which were tied up in plant equipment being replaced".

With the new division, he explained, Patterson "is prepared to take in this surplus equipment as partial payment of new equipment while offering a wide variety of financing programs. The equipment taken in is to be rebuilt or converted into useful equipment for resale".

Crossley has returned to Patterson where he started in 1946. He purchased and sold various types of paint and chemical processing equipment. In 1953, he moved to Chicago Heights, Ill., where he operated the Process Machinery Supply Co. and acted as the general manager of the Bisbee Agri-chemical Crop.

Brown previously managed the Industrial Products Co. at Wellsville, which was active in the new and used industrial equipment market, and for more than 20 years engineered the process equipment line of the Stevenson Co. at Wellsville.

day and night... A CEASELESS STREAM OF PEOPLE

In Africa, the Angolans fled their terror-struck country and poured into the strife-torn Congo. Tens of thousands . . . a ceaseless stream. And they were all hungry.

But within days there were tons of powdered milk, rice, beans, fish, and beef, as well as bales of clothing . . . and hospitals quickly sent medical aid.

On the spot to comfort, feed, house and help were the forces of American religious agencies . . . dedicated to helping those in need, no matter what their political or religious affiliation.

Help like that given Angolans goes on everywhere. America's three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain programs that help millions in need overseas every year . . . with jobs, tools, education, equipment . . . and hope.

Episcopalians Plan Debate On Bid To Quit Unit

DETROIT, (AP) — A move to pull the Episcopal Church out of the National Council of Churches developed at the Episcopalian General Convention today. It appeared to have only scattered support but the issue may stir up one of the liveliest hassles at the church's triennial meeting.

"This issue needs more light and less heat," said a lay delegate at the opening session of the House of Deputies, representative branch of the church's two-chamber governing body.

The council is formed by 33 Protestant demoninations with nearly 40 million adherents. Some Episcopalians are disturbed by its pronouncements on controversial political issues.

Miss Mary Jane Putt Weds During Dallas Church Rite

Miss Mary Jane Putt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Putt, 857 Armstrong Ln., became the bride of Langdon A. Viracola, son of Mrs. Thomas Viracola of Long Branch, N. J., and the late Thomas Viracola, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Dallas, Tex.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, appliqued with Alencon lace, encrusted with pearls, and long tapered sleeves, ending with the same lace applique. The bouffant skirt, featuring lace applique and three self-fabric French roses, fell into a chapel train.

Her butterfly veil of pure silk French illusion was attached to a custom coif of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and stephanotis. She received a diamond centered cross necklace from the bridegroom.

Miss Joyce Wasserman was maid of honor and Miss Dianne Sharp was bridesmaid. They appeared in sapphire blue chiffon taffeta gowns, designed with fitted bodices, three - quarter sleeves and bell skirts. Floating panels offered back accent. Their matching petal hats of organza held theater veils. They carried bouquets of coral carnations.

Richard Harrison was best man. Ushers were Mike Nixon, Dr. Peter Kurilecz and Tom Frankhauser.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of imported embroidered poudre blue silk fashioned with a cummerbund of organza. She used periwinkle blue accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink lace sheath with matching velvet hat and bag and coral rosebud corsage.

A reception for 150 was held at Club Bali in Dallas. A four-tiered cake, topped with a bridal couple and encircled with wedding bells and roses, centered the buffet table. Blue tinted roses and matching satin bows completed the setting. A dinner was held later for 25 members of the immediate families.

MRS. L. A. VIRACOLA
Bride Of Saturday Ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and Ohio Valley Business College. She formerly was employed at WOHI. A graduate of American Airlines School, she has been employed as a stewardess at Dallas.

Her husband is a graduate of Fordham University, where he received his bachelor's degree in law. He was a player and scout for the Washington Redskins football team. During the last three years, he was general manager of the Launder-Coin Corp. and was recently elected president of the American Plastics Corp. in Dallas, where the newlyweds will reside.

Miss Diana May Becomes Bride In Lisbon Rites

LISBON — Miss Diana May wore her mother's necklace in observing the familiar traditions when she became the bride of Daniel Clark Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard May of Pleasant Heights, Lisbon, and the bridegroom is the son of George Clark and the late Mrs. Clark of Lisbon R. D.

The couple was attended by the bride's father and Miss Lillie May, her cousin.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Some close friends have a lovely home. We enjoy their company but it's gotten to the point that we hate to go over there because of the way they inflict their children on the guests.

Here's the routine: No sooner do we arrive than the 10-year-old has to recite "The Gettysburg Address" plus three or four elocution pieces. Then the 8-year-old plays a 20-minute piano program. The 6-year-old is "in the wings" in her ballet costume and we must watch "The Dance of the Pussy Willows" and her version of "The Swan."

Last night it was 10 o'clock before they got the kids off stage so the adults could visit. My husband says he's not going to suffer through another such evening. I know we'll be invited again soon. What shall I say?—ENOUGHSVILLE.

Dear Enoughsville: If they are close friends you should be able to level with the hostess. If you do, it will be a good test of the friendship.

If they value your company they'll respect your husband's point of view and stash the kids before you arrive. If not, they'll interpret your candor as an insult and you won't be invited again.

Forbidden Waters

Dear Ann: Our son is a medical student who is going to school four quarters a year so he won't "waste any time."

He's an excellent scholar, hard working and serious. He appreciates the sacrifices his father and I have made so he can enter this wonderful profession.

His girl friend has been making his life miserable. She is always mad at him because he can see her only two evenings a week and on Sunday afternoons. He becomes depressed because she bawls him out all the time for being such a bookworm. I'm afraid her nagging will interfere with his studies unless someone gives her a better understanding of what a young man must go through to become a doctor.

Do you think it would help if I phoned her and set her straight? I would be very nice and merely explain the facts.—MED STUDENT'S MOM.

Dear Mom: Keep your oar out of those forbidden waters. When your son has had a gullet full of this girl's selfish demands he'll give her the gate. Anything you say or do would be considered meddling and he'd resent it.

Insurance Gougers

Dear Ann: As an officer of an insurance company I'd like to comment on a recent column. It involved a woman who confided to a friend that she planned to collect a sizeable amount on a phony injury.

You told her the insurance companies catch up with a surprising number of fakers and that the results can be humiliating. I'd like to add this:

Honest citizens have to pay dearly for the detective work required to catch up with the chislers. These costly investigations are reflected in the inflated rates of insurance policies for everyone.

I've talked to a good many men and women who have been caught faking claims. Strangely enough, they wouldn't dream of short-changing the paper boy or putting an extra orange in the sack but when dealing with an insurance company the retaliation is, "why not soak 'em? The company is rich."—HARTFORD, CONN.

Confidentially

TO MAN HATER, TOO: I don't know about YOU but you're wrong about ME. I'm not a man hater, in fact I like men. We have them right in our own family.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Appetite Size Must Be Cut To Fit Frame

Hunger and appetite are not synonymous. Hunger can be satisfield by a comparatively small amount of food. True hunger is based on physical need. While appetite is closely akin to hunger, appetite knows what it likes. In short, appetite is mental and is learned, then ingrained by habit.

Ida Jean Kain

The trouble with overeating is not only that it leads to excess pounds, but lessens resistance to overeating. Recognize that the practice of eating until full enlarges food capacity. It's the size of your stomach that determines the amount of food you can eat at one sitting.

Does nature tell us when to stop eating? Yes, but you get only one signal . . . and it's easy to ignore it because appetite is second nature. When food looks appetizing and tastes delicious, the faint satiety signal goes unnoticed.

SELECTIVE APPETITE entices you to continue eating, although at the time you may mistake the feeling for hunger. One test — what are you hungry for?

After finishing the main course of a slimming meal, would you be happy to eat any food . . . such as a second serving of string beans or a sliced tomato without dressing? If so, enjoy it.

But at the point where you feel hungry only for a favorite food or for something particularly delicious, you are not really hungry. From that point on, you are catering only to appetite.

"What forced this enormous appetite on me?" a reader inquired indignantly. Her appetite has brought her to a size 20 when by nature's original design she should be a size 16. The force of habit.

How to shrink appetite back down to size? There is only one way to do it . . . reverse the overeating process. Overeating enlarged your food capacity. By curbing the amount of food you eat at any one meal, you can gradually shrink that appetite back down to proper size. This takes a little time.

During the first week or so on modest meals, you must expect to feel a little dissatisfied when you get up from the table. Contrary to what you may think, you will not feel hungry from then until the next meal.

In fact, 30 minutes after a meal you will be able to forget about food since by then the digestive processes are underway. Always make sure to include a protein food at each meal since it is highest in satiety value.

FOR REASSURANCE, read this line from a letter: "You told us we would feel hungry on a diet for about a week. Well, it took me three weeks to really get control of my appetite.

Now, after three months of dieting, not only have I lost 20 pounds, but I am truly amazed to find I no longer like to overeat!"

Send a long, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Rites At Lisbon Church Unite Joan Woodall, Lester Strum

Miss Joan H. Woodall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther D. Woodall of S. Beaver St., became the bride of Lester Strum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Lisbon R. D. 2, on Saturday evening, at a 7:30 o'clock ceremony in the Lisbon First Methodist Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of white flocked nylon featuring a square scalloped neckline, cap sleeves and a white satin cummerbund. Her fingertip length veil of nylon net was held in place with a tiny circlet of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her mother, overlaid with an arrangement of stephanotis and cascading satin wedding streamers.

Attendants Listed

Roger Kelch served as best man.

Mrs. Woodall chose a dress of medium blue silk crepe with matching clip hat and accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Each complemented their attire with corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the newly-furnished apartment of the couple at 204 W. Lincoln Way, where they will reside. Twenty friends and relatives were present.

Flowers Mark Table

The bride's table was laid in white linen and centered with a three-tiered cake decorated in lavender rosebuds. Floral arrangements of lavender gladiolus marked either side of the cake.

Mrs. Evelyn Laney of Wellsville, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Violet Woodall of Hanoverton, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Mary Swartz, sister of the bride, served the cake and strawberry punch.

Ohio Is Seen Probable Moon Shot Plan Center

Earlier this month, the governor sent to James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, a 32-page brochure outlining advantages for locating the $185 million command center in Ohio.

DiSalle, who also sent copies of the brochure to President Kennedy and members of Ohio's congressional delegation, disclosed Monday he received a letter from Webb saying the pamphlet would receive careful attention.

The governor said Webb's letter indicated that federal decision on location of the command center is still open. Cape Canaveral, Fla., has been picked for the launch site, and areas with milder winter climates are under consideration for other phases of the project, Webb wrote.

He had been hospitalized for injuries suffered July 8 in an automobile accident. Wallgren, who represented Washington's 2nd District in the House from 1932 to 1940 and was U.S. senator from 1940 to 1944, also served as chairman of the Federal Power Commission in 1950-1951. He was born in Des Moines, Iowa.

'Who's Building Fallout Shelters?' CD Official Asks

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Who's building the fallout shelters?" John J. Pokorny, director of civil defense in Cleveland and CD coordinator in Cuyahoga County, wants to know.

CD officials said Monday its headquarters had received more than 2,000 inquiries about the shelters in the last 30 days. As the Berlin crisis got worse, the calls increased.

"If people are building them, they aren't telling anybody," said Pokorny. He said some of the questions CD is getting are pretty "steep."

"They want to know what if this happens, what if that happens," Pokorny added. He said he thought people were afraid to say if they have a shelter. "They feel that if they say they have a shelter, or are building a shelter, they'll be considered crackpots," he explained.

Wellsville Group Hears Minister

The Rev. Loren W. Fowler of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church at Canton urged members of the United Presbyterian Men's Organization to "strive for excellence" in all endeavors during his talk before the group Monday night at the Wellsville Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Fowler said nobody should be satisfied with being average. He said they should seek for excellence in church work and school programs for their children. His topic was "The Place of Men In the Life of the Church."

Thirty attended. The program opened with the group singing of "O Jesus I Have Promised." It will be used to open all meetings. James Salsgiver had the Scripture reading and Jerry Russell, president, offered prayer.

The purpose of Presbyterian Men will be recited at each meeting. The tentative program for the year was approved. Dues for the year were set at $1.

This was the kick-off dinner marking the beginning of the 1961-62 church year. The meal was served by Mrs. Noble's Sunday School Class.

Next meeting is Oct. 16.

Reds Using Loudspeakers As New Weapon In Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists have brought a new weapon into their way of nerves against West Berlin.

All along the concrete and barbed wire barriers of the divided city, they have opened up with a barrage of loudspeakers turned at full strength toward West Berlin.

They blare out propaganda, threats, scorn and flattery—interspersed with American jazz and German waltzes.

Some of the loudspeakers are mounted on trucks. Others are hung in trees overlooking the border or fixed to the boundary fence.

Aug. 13 was the day the East Germans sealed off West Berlin to stop the flood of refugees fleeing from Walter Ulbricht's Communist rule.

The programs usually open at 5 a.m., startling thousands of West Berliners out of their sleep. At most points, the noise continues throughout the day.

"We are Germans like you, and soon we will be reunited. But we are soldiers too, and if we are attacked we will not hesitate to shoot, even at Germans."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Please give a few suggestions on the preparing of better gravy.

A. If your gravy is too lumpy, beat it with an eggbeater until the lumps disappear. When gravy does not brown as it should, add to it a tablespoon of strong coffee. The addition of a tablespoon of cream to brown gravy makes it extra-delicious.

Q. How can I treat patent leather shoes and other articles to prevent their cracking?

A. An oldtime remedy is rubbing the patent leather with castor oil or petroleum jelly and, done twice a month, it's still a good treatment.

Q. How can I remove discolorations from aluminum vessels?

A. Boil in a weak solution of cream of tartar, or a mixture of two tablespoons of vinegar to each quart of water.

Reports Fallout Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service station in Cincinnati has reported the most concentrated radioactive fallout ever in the Cincinnati area. A spokesman blamed the increase on debris from Soviet nuclear tests.

More Hogs And Pigs Seen In Ohio Crop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There were 3,070,000 hogs and pigs on Ohio farms as of Sept. 1, an increase of one per cent over last September's number, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service says.

It added that the number of sows to farrow on Ohio farms for 1961 fall pig crop is estimated at 313,000 head, a decrease of 3 per cent from 1960 fall farrowings.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Entertainers And Pundits

The television personality is proving to be far more political than his stage and movie counterpart, and he's not generally admired for it.

Marie Torre

In these remarkable times, David Susskind talks with Khrushchev, and Jack Benny parleys with Harry S. Truman, and Frank Sinatra is "my very good friend" to President Kennedy, and Jack Paar, whose TV guests have ranged from Fidel Castro to Richard M. Nixon, becomes enmeshed in the East-West Berlin crisis.

Not all manage to venture into these political forays with the aplomb of one, they might have called "O u r Leader"—The late Will Rogers, of course.

THE LEGENDARY Rogers, whom they called the Cowboy Ambassador, extracted brilliant humor from his involvement in national and international affairs:

"Every time they (Congress) make a joke it's a law. And every time they make a law it's a joke"; "I'm not a member of any organized party—I'm a Democrat"; "We're the only nation in the world that waits till we get into a war before we start getting ready for it."

All that our television heroes have distilled from extracurricular activities is trouble—for themselves as well as others.

After two Army colonels were rebuked publicly and reassigned for playing show biz with Paar at the Brandenburg Gate, the beleaguered star experienced a moment of truth.

Paar might have avoided his present difficulties if he had remembered the public scowls provoked by his early support of Fidel Castro. Or if he had recalled how Susskind was damned for daring to represent Americans in the Khrushchev confrontation. Or if he had given a thought to the raking-down suffered by Sinatra for his Washington attachments.

Will Rogers illustrated that it takes a little more than savoir faire to win acceptance as a pal to world leaders. But the question is, "Should show business powers make a public show of political games?"

YESTERDAY we put the question to Garry Moore and Ed Sullivan, both of whom have practiced discretion in matters of politics or world affairs.

Said Moore:

"Because a man may be a good tap dancer or drum player doesn't mean that he's a pundit, too. Walter Lippman has enough trouble at that sort of thing.

"I personally have steered clear of political involvements because I don't trust my own judgment. A television star accrues more power than he deserves, and there's no doubt that he could influence the population by taking political sides.

"Before a performer does such a thing, I thought he ought to examine the source of his power. Is it because he's a good dancer? Or a singer? Or actor?"

ASKED TO IDENTIFY his "source of p o w e r," Moore paused, then refused to answer the question on the grounds that it would incriminate him.

As for Ed Sullivan, he believes it's "inescapable" for entertainment lights to want to be associated with statesmen and politicians ("Look at George Jessell! He's known presidents all his life, but he doesn't get into fights about it.")

Sullivan also had something to say about the Paar-Berlin issue:

"We've been all over the world—Asia, India, Russia—for purposes of shooting TV films, and we've never had trouble or created ill feelings anywhere.

"I don't know how you get into Paar's kind of trouble, unless it's a question of manners. Do you get into a brawl with the butcher when you buy meat, or the grocer, or the tailor?

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — An autopsy has been ordered in the death of Sherryl Shrock, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shrock of Garrettsville.

Homeworth Plumber Gets Health Post

LISBON — Elmer Eugene Cover, 35, of Homeworth R. D. 1, a m a s t e r plumber, was named plumbing inspector at the Columbiana County Board of H e a l t h meeting Monday evening. He was recommended by Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and approved unanimously.

Cover has been in plumbing work since 1945, holds an Alliance city license and has operated the Cover Plumbing Co. since 1952. He replaces Earl Wang of North Georgetown, who resigned after 14 years.

Cover will begin work as soon as possible. The board hopes he will be able to attend the state plumbing inspectors school Oct. 2-6 in Columbus. His salary was set at $4,600 per year.

In other business, Dean Rose of Lisbon R. D. 5 discussed his aeration sewage disposal system which he has requested the board to approve. Dr. Palmer will write the State Health Department for its recommendations on the new system and for any results from other counties.

Reports of the Tuberculosis Clinic showed it gave 82 chest X-rays and made 122 nursing visits. Dr. F. G. Kravec, director, held seven medical consultations. Four new TB cases were reported to the state, two were hospitalized and three were discharged. There are 137 cases in the county on drug therapy, the report said.

A report for the half - month showed 62 plumbing inspections and 70 sewage inspections. Eight water samples were taken.

Sanitarian Harry Stockdale's report showed 26 food inspections, 58 sewage inspections, 9 nuisance complaints, three rabies investigations and two r e f u s e complaints. He made one school inspection and four migrant labor camp inspections and took 14 water samples.

The department i s s u e d 57 plumbing permits and 60 for sewage.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, h e a l t h nurse, said she visited one school, gave 15 bus drivers' examinations, issued two working permits, made seven jail calls and gave 13 Heaf TB tests. She made 30 visits to doctors' offices, gave one talk, made 16 home visits and gave 12 immunizations.

Next meeting is Oct. 16 at 8 p. m.

Midland Legion Inducts Officers

George Yourns of New Brighton, 26th District commander, was installing officer, assisted by four district deputies. Huha appointed John Waddingham and Leonard Castellano as co-chairmen of the post's toy program.

Woodrow Jones was n a m e d chairman of the post's Halloween party for borough children next month. Huha also appointed other committees.

William Coble, retiring c o m mander, gave a report on the national American Legion convention held in Denver, from which he returned Sunday.

Refreshments were served by Joseph Mulach. Next meeting is Oct. 2.

Ex-Resident Of City Gets University Post

Dr. Morris Ruben of Brookline, Mass., former East Liverpool resident, has been named assistant professor of stomatology at the Boston University School of Medicine.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Ruben, 315 Jefferson St., he was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1936, from Ohio State University and from Loyola University at New Orleans, where he received a degree in dental surgery.

He was in practice in Philadelphia for 15 years before going to Boston U. for two years. He will also conduct limited practice at Brookline.

20 Slot Machines Stripped From Vessel

SOUTHAMPTON, England — (AP) —Twenty slot machines were stripped from the transatlantic liner Queen Mary today—because the passengers weren't interested.

The machines had been installed as an experiment. As the liner docked Monday night from New York, a Cunard Line spokesman said: "There was never any great rush for them. But it was necessary to keep them in for about three voyages to judge the reaction of passengers."

Boat Pilot Taken

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP)—Lyman H. Roth, 77, holder of a Mississippi River boat pilot's license for 47 years, died Sunday. He had operated a barge and a towboat on the upper Mississippi for many years.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Pre-Schooler Needs New Playmates

When school begins the tot not quite old enough to attend is left behind at home. Often this creates a hard problem for him. Not only an older brother or sister but one or more of h i s playmates go off each school morning leaving him home. If he h a s no playmates of about his age he m a y feel very lonely. Because of such problems, many a mother attempts to bring pressures on the school to take her child when younger than the age - limit rule of the school. Some schools, with enough specialists to check on border-line cases, have flexible rules. But, as you and I can see, most schools have to stick to rather rigid rules for age of entrance.

IF YOU HAVE a child left behind while most or all of his playmates go off to school, consider the number of playmates available nearby. If none are available, you might wisely go with him to one or more homes farther away, a few days a week, and attract some of these children, occasionally, to your home.

Or you might work out with one or two mothers a plan for having some of their tots at your home one or two days a week for a few hours, and your child in theirs on some other days. Each guest-mother might take o v e r when it is her turn.

Also, you might deem it wise to have your child enter a private nursery school or kindergarten.

In most cases, you will t r y hard to help your child g r o w more self-reliant in amusement, helping him spend more t i m e creating — with crayons, scissors, paste, etc.

AIM TO READ more to this child than you did before school began. Be glad to answer h i s questions and to converse w i t h him. Be sure he doesn't spend too much time before the TV and views no programs of violence. Strive harder to help him have fun outdoors with his f o r m e r playmates after school a n d on weekends.

You may be inclined to try to give him school lessons such as he might have gotten had he entered school. As a rule, this would hardly be good procedure. However, in some instances, if his interest is strong in wanting to k n o w the names of words on a page or package, or in wishing to count, or even print his name, you might well capitalize on such interest. The danger is that you might burden him with formal school learning.

My bulletins, "Letting Baby and Tot Learn" and "Why Read to Baby and Young Child," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Free World's Shocked By Dag's Death

By The Associated Press

The death of Dag Hammarskjold in an African plane crash left the non-Communist world stunned today. Fear was expressed that his passing put the future of the United Nations in peril.

From every quarter tributes flooded to the memory of the secretary-general who died in the restless search for an ideal — a world peacefully united to prevent war.

Even those who often had challenged his policies hailed him as a dedicated man. In the capitals of the West there was a heavy atmosphere of mourning.

Radio and television news bulletins retold of the crash of Hammarskjold's plane as the U.N. secretary-general was flying on another peace mission—this time to meet Moise Tshombe, president of war - torn Katanga. Somber headlines dominated newspaper front pages.

President Kennedy said Hammarskjold's name "will be treasured high among the peace makers of history." U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said: "I have lost an esteemed friend and the world a great servant."

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, who had been cool to U.N. action to suppress Tshombe's secessionist regime, called Hammarskjold "a world servant who has pursued his duty with courage, singlemindedness and devotion."

The French, bitter at what they regard as U.N. interference in Bizerte and Algeria, were shocked. The Foreign Ministry expressed "deepest emotion."

India's Prime Minister Nehru, a leader of the nonaligned nations who hold the balance of power in the U.N. General Assembly, called Hammarskjold's death a "special tragedy."

The Belgian government sent a message to the United Nations deploring his death and saying his service to the United Nations had gone to "the supreme sacrifice."

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Central African Federation who had assailed the U.N. action in Katanga, called Hammarskjold "an indefatigable worker in the cause of world peace."

In France, the Communist newspaper L'Humanite said Hammarskjold "was the victim of the same people whom he did nothing to prevent from assassinating (former Congolese Premier Patrice) Lumumba last year."

Israel and the United Arab Republic, who had often used his services as mediator in their quarrels, found themselves in rare agreement in expressing a sense of loss.

C & O Attorney Attacks NYC On Stalling Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad attorney says the New York Central is trying to stall hearings on rival bids by the two railroads to acquire control of the financially troubled Baltimore & Ohio.

Edward K. Wheeler, the C&O attorney, made the charge Monday before the Interstate Commerce Commission after New York Central introduced a 197-page document contending $23.4 million could be saved annually by a merger of B&O and Central. The Chesapeake & Ohio had claimed $13 million could be saved if B & O were controlled only by C&O.

Wheeler, objecting to introduction of the Central document, said it was an attempt by Central to delay the case.

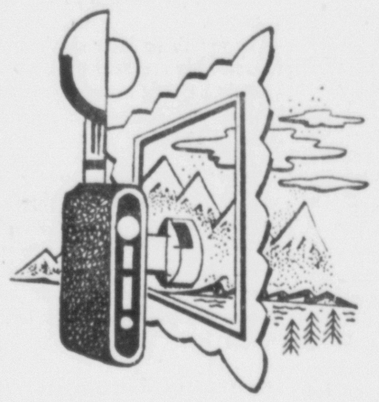

Robert D. Brooks, attorney for Central, denied attempting to delay the case and said the document could have been presented much sooner if C&O had cooperated in supplying information.

3 Potter Gridders Dropped . . .

Bob Hedmond, East Liverpool High's football coach, may have a few more gray hairs before the 1961 season is over.

Three senior gridders, including two regulars, have been dropped from the team for "disciplinary reasons" and the Potters continue to be besieged by injuries.

It all happened this past weekend. Regular defensvie halfback Ed Six, guard Clyde Griffith and substitute Ted McKinney were dropped from the squad.

Bob Parsons, the regular right tackle, and one of the few Potters with varsity experience from last season, received a possible brain concussion in an auto accident Sunday.

Letterman End George Anderson will be out for most of the season after suffering a fractured wrist at Niles.

So that's the story. The Potters are riddled with injuries that have cleaned out most of the forward wall and will have to face Steubenville Central's big outfit, which has rolled up two victories in the same number of starts.

STEUBENVILLE'S latest triumph was a 27-0 victory over Columbus Aquinas. The Crusaders have two outstanding backs in quarterback Sam Fornsaglio, who is rated one of the topnotch passers in the Ohio Valley, and Jim Gilday, a speedy halfback.

Fornsaglio has pitched six touchdown passes in two games and Gilday has scored the same number of touchdowns.

Venditti Wins 2 Straight . . .

LOU VENDITTI, the ELHS head grid coach last year, needs only one more victory at Canton Lincoln to equal a three-year record.

In the past three seasons, Lincoln won only three games and Saturday night Venditti's Lions downed Youngstown Rayen, 14-8.

Lincoln faces Canton Timken Friday night.

He concluded the letter by saying, "I sincerely hope the Potters do well and that their fans realize they have no experience or size and that they should be greatly improved next year."

Mason and his fine Niles squad made it two straight by conquering Erie (Pa.) Academy, 44-12, Saturday night. Rick Sygar, their All - Ohio halfback candidate, scored four more touchdowns, giving him a total of eight in two contests.

THIS IS like printing a death notice, but Massillon High School has open football dates for the 1962 season. The dates are Sept. 7, Sept. 21 and Oct. 12, and the Tigers want home games.

Any team interested may contact Roger Price, Massillon's faculty manager.

LISTED as one of six quarterbacks at the University of Florida is Ken Russell, a passing specialist from Midland.

Myers—Player Of The Week . . .

THE HONORS for the outstanding player of the week must go to a lineman this time. He is Dave Myers, 160 pounds of dynamite from Beaver Local.

Chester couldn't get a punt away because of Myers, who went through a hole at center and blocked three punts single-handed and was in on another.

He was an all-county choice last year as a sophomore and certainly merits all-state consideration this season. Myers covers a lot of territory on the gridiron and does the job of about three men.

THE BEST team performance of the week was turned in by Bud Bucher's Lisbon squad, which surprised Wellsville 30-8.

Bucher must go down as one of the top coaches around Ohio for his five teams year after year. Before the season got under way he lost his first string quarterback in a scrimmage game with a broken arm.

This didn't stop Bucher though. Lisbon went out and defeated Carrollton in the opener, then came back with a nifty win over the Tigers last Friday night.

The Blue Devils have taken their lumps for a few seasons and now are serving warning on their opponents that they are ready to get in a few licks of their own.

On the basis of the two games, Lisbon should be very much in contention for the Tri-County League title this season.

SEVERAL MORE Tri - County gridders have followed East Palestine's Willis Woods to Thiel College at Greenville, Pa.

Woods, who will quarterback the Tomcats this season, has been joined by ex-high school teammates Miles Lemley and Jim Massey. Bob Ludt of Poland is another quarterback prospect.

Local Golfers Sink Aces . . .

THE HOLE-In-One, a dream of every golfer, became a reality for two East Liverpool men over the weekend.

Out in Wooster at the L. C. Boles Memorial Golf Course on the Wooster College campus, Jim Kapp, the former outstanding lineman for the Potters and Wooster, fired an ace on a 290-yard par four hole.

He was playing in a foursome with three of his fraternity brothers. Wooster football coach Phil Shipe, said it was one of the first aces fired on that hole.

Jim, who had to give up playing football because of a knee injury, is a senior at Wooster and a student assistant coach on the football staff.

Up on the Ohioview Course, 18-year-old Dave McElhaney of LaCroft, using a No. 3 wood, popped in his ace on the No. 2 190-yard-hole.

Crusher Meets Calhoun In DeMoley Mat Show

A four-bout program of professional wrestling will be held Sept. 30 at 9 p. m. in Memorial Auditorium under auspices of the local Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

The feature attraction pits The Crusher against huge Haystacks Calhoun, a bearded mat artist who calls himself a "country boy."

Meeting in a tag-team match will be Billy Fox and Ace Freeman against Mickey Sharp and Jack Terry.

Gypsy Joe will clash with Zivko Kovacic in another bout. One other bout will be held.

Tickets are $1.50, $2 and $2.50 and are being sold at Jordan's in East End, Heimie's, Reark's, Chadwick's service station on Lisbon St., Pleasant Heights, and Bloor's Pharmacy in Wellsville.

Proceeds will be used for the DeMolay life membership and educational funds. Bob Gilmore is chairman. David Conley is master councilor.

Probst Wins Golf Contest At EL Club

J. S. Probst scored 22 points and won honors in Sunday's par-birdie-eagle contest at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Finishing second in the match was J. T. Hall with 21 while Don Burbick had 20 points and H. M. Crossley 19.

Crossley and J. T. Hall tied by firing 5 up in Saturday's match play against par.

E. B. Rohrer and L. F. Sixt were 4 up with Dick Crable, Dr. R. J. Kinsey and Norman Ankrim 2 up.

Maris Must Do Complete Reversal At Baltimore; Shows Just Two Hits

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris, held to a pair of singles in 18 official efforts at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, must accomplish an amazing flip-flop and tag two home runs in three games at the Orioles' home park to tie Babe Ruth's home run record.

The Stadium's hard-to-scale walls, a Baltimore pitching staff that has allowed Maris only one home run all season and the distinct possibility of a visit from Hurricane Esther all bar Roger's way to the Bambino's 34-year-old record.

Maris, with 58 home runs and a one-game edge over Ruth's record 60 homer pace of 1927, begins his final "official" assault on the mark in a twi-night doubleheader tonight, then winds it up in a night game Wednesday under the 154-decision allotment decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

The Orioles' mound corps and the Stadium's distant home run territory have combined to limit opposing sluggers to only 42 homers in 75 games, and have completely contained Maris. His lone homer, off Chuck Estrada, came at Yankee Stadium May 21.

Hurricane Esther, meanwhile, has picked up speed and threatens to jumble the schedule in the final drive for No. 60.

The twi-nighter, in which Maris will face left-hander Steve Barber (16-11) and right-hander Skinny Brown (10-4), plus Wednesday and Thursday night games closes out the New York Yankees' schedule at Baltimore and takes them on to Boston, also in the path of the onrushing hurricane.

Barber, with seven shutouts this year, and Brown have allowed only 12 homers each this season. Right-hander Milt Pappas (12-8), slated to start game No. 3 for the Orioles, has permitted only 13 gopher balls.

Whitey Ford (24-3) and Bud Daley (11-17) will go for New York in the twi-nighter, with the Yankees 10½ games ahead of the second-place Detroit Tigers.

Any combination of two New York victories or Detroit defeats will give the Yankees their 26th pennant.

ROGER MARIS will be hitting in a "jinx" ball park where he has failed to connect for a single homer this season when he tries for homers No. 59 and 60 against the Orioles beginning tonight. The distance on both foul lines at Memorial Stadium is 309 feet and 410 to straightaway center. (UPI Telephoto)

Stu Miller Plays Role Stops Braves For 13th

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stu Miller, who will always remember 1961 as the year he wrote the script, played it to the hilt on Stu Miller Night.

The fans, 12,995 of them, honored the San Francisco Giants' ace relief pitcher Monday night, then settled down to watch a fine pitching duel between two sharp rookies, right-hander Jim Duffalo of the Giants and southpaw Bob Hendley of Milwaukee.

By the time Miller got through counting a truckload of gifts, the Braves had a 2-1 lead and two runners on base with none out in the eighth.

In came Miller for the 58th time this year. He stopped the Braves cold and registered his 13th victory after Felipe Alou led off in the ninth with a single and Orlando Cepeda followed with his 41st homer of the year.

He was scanning a 20-foot, 1,000-signature telegram of congratulations from his old friends in Northampton, Mass., when he was called on to relieve Duffalo.

In marched Miller, laughing at the baseball superstitution that decrees a ballplayer should stay home when he is given a "night."

AP Football Poll To Start

6 Of Ohio's Grid Leaders Last Year Still Unbeaten

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The six top teams in the final "Top 10" Associated Press poll of 1960 are still unbeaten. The last four have fallen.

Massillon, Niles McKinley, Alliance and Sandusky—the 1-2-3-4 finishers last season—have won two straight. Dayton Colonel White and Cincinnati Pucell, the 5-6 squads, have triumphed in their lone starts.

Marion Harding (7) has split even in two games, Toledo Central (8) dropped a one-pointer in its only game, and Troy (9) and Port Clinton (10) have lost a pair.

Two-time winners have popped up all over the state, and some of them will move into the elite listing when the Associated Press offers the first of its polls following this weekend's games.

The sports editors of the state's Associated Press newspapers, radio and television stations will rate the squads, each picking a "Top 10" from which the composite selections will be made.

At season's end, the winner of the final poll will be recognized by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association as the state champion, and will receive the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the crown.

Massillon, which grabbed the title for the 'steenth time last fall despite a loss to Warren in 11 starts, again looms as the team to beat—although Niles McKinley's high-scoring combine will make a determined bid.

Others which have won a pair include Hamilton Garfield, which could be the dominant factor in Southwestern Ohio circles, and Portsmouth's surprising Trojans. This was to be a rebuilding year for Portsmouth, which has only six seniors on the entire squad—but the underclassmen have surprised everyone by grabbing the first two tilts.

In many cases the top teams have scheduled less-experienced foes in the openers, but the picture will clear as the favorites bang into each other in the stretch drive.

Massillon, usually too tough for most of Ohio's scholastic squads, is looking for three opponents for 1962. The Tigers would like to book games on the Massillon field for Sept. 7, Sept. 21 and Oct. 12 next year, all Friday evenings, Faculty Manager of Athletics Roger Price said.

Parker Not Coming Back If Steelers Lose Title

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If the Pittsburgh Steelers don't win the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League this year, they may be hunting for a new coach.

Coach Buddy Parker talked of quitting following the Steelers' frustrating last-second 27-24 loss to Dallas in the opening season game Sunday.

"I'm not going back if we don't win this year," Parker said Monday. "I mean it. My contract runs out at the end of the season and if I can't coach a winner, I'm not coming back."

This is Parker's fifth year as head man of the Steelers. He came to the Steelers after coaching the Detroit Lions to three divisional titles and two world championships.

Chicago Drops LA Back By 4 Games With 5-3 Verdict

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thud! The sound you just heard was the Los Angeles Dodgers falling four games behind the front-running Cincinnati Reds, and quite possibly right out of the National League pennant picture.

Unable to put together a sustained drive in an attempt to overtake the Reds, the Dodgers had their latest win string broken at four games Monday night when sixth-inning home runs by former teammates Don Zimmer and George Altman gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-3 victory.

It was a critical loss for the Dodgers, three down in the lost column with only 11 games to play, and reduced the idle Reds' magic number to seven to clinch their first pennant since 1940.

In other games, third-place San Francisco edged Milwaukee 3-2 on Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer in the ninth, and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis by 8-6. The American League took a day off.

Ortega, who had given up two homers in two innings in his first stint since his recall from Spokane added three more Monday night before departing after 5 1-3 innings with his first loss.

The bid to get by with Ortega against the seventh-place Cubs, losers of eight in a row, failed as Chicago starter Don Cardwell checked the Dodgers on four hits over the final eight innings.

Cardwell (14-12) gave up three runs in the first on Maury Wills' single, a walk to Wally Moon, Duke Snider's run-producing double and a two-run single by Norm Larker. Then he shut the door while his teammates scored all all their runs on homers.

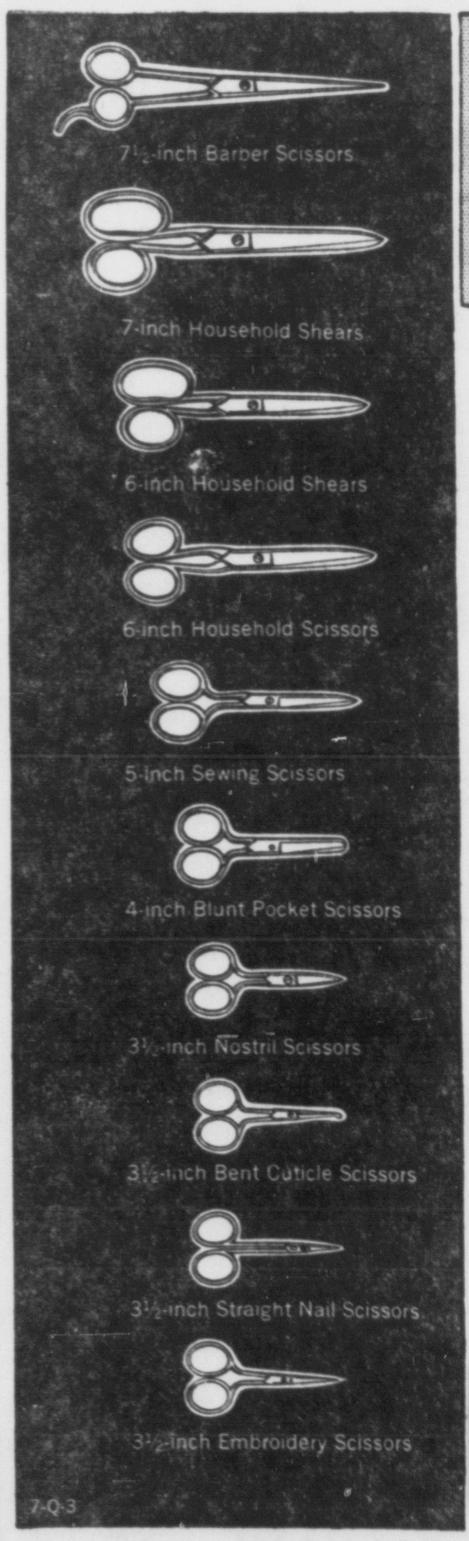

Ed Bouchee tied it with a three-run clout in the second after Bill Williams singled and Ron Santo walked. In the sixth, Zimmer led off with his 12th homer, and after Ernie Banks struck out, Altman chased Ortega with his 26th home run.

Cepeda's 41st homer, with Felipe Alou on base, gave reliever Stu Miller (13-4) the victory. The Giants won their ninth in 11 tries and Milwaukee lost its seventh in a row. Alou and Cepeda had accounted for the Giants' first run with consecutive singles in the second inning. Alou scoring when Jim Davenport grounded into a doubleplay. Bob Hendley (5-6) was the loser.

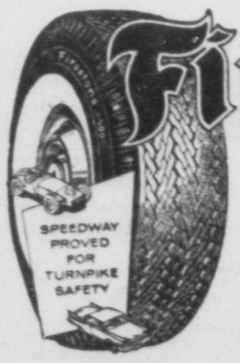

FIGHT RESULTS

OSU Swings Into 1-A-Day Grid Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's gridders start once-a-day practice sessions today, and that in itself may help the injury-riddled Buckeyes from doing themselves any more damage.

The Bucks have been practicing twice a day, and the double drills gave them more chance to get hurt.

A number of first stringers missed Monday's drill due to minor injuries or illness, but Coach Woody Hayes appeared particularly concerned about end Bob Middleton of Marion, who has been suffering with a rib separation.

"He's had only one or two practices this fall and the other boys are getting way ahead of him," Hayes said. "I don't know whether he'll be able to catch up."

Other first stringers missing all or part of the session included end Chuck Bryant of Zanesville, hospitalized with a virus infection; halfback Bob Klein of Athens, Mich., who sprained an ankle Monday; quarterback Bill Mrukowski of Elyria, down with the flu, and halfback Matt Snell of Locust Valley, N.Y., who injured his knee last Friday.

Gerace's Loft Wins 200-Mile Pigeon Race

The winning time was five hours and 15 minutes. Pat Connor's loft took second and third.

EDDIE ERDELATZ
Fired From Oakland Post.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz, the only football name the Oakland Raiders had when they started last year, no longer has a job with the American Football League club.

After his team lost 55-0 and 44-0 to Houston and San Diego in the league openers, Eddie drew his walking papers from the Raider owners. His assistant, Marty Feldman, was named to succeed him.

Last year Erdelatz, a winning coach at Navy, moulded a team from what was termed "a bunch of guys named Joe," and finished better than three other clubs. Since Oakland was the last club formed and missed the draft meeting last year, not much was expected of it.

This year the Raiders have won only once—losing three exhibition tilts and the two league games against the teams that won the division titles in the AFL for 1960.

Erdelatz resigned from the Naval Academy football job in 1958 after nine successful seasons and a disagreement with officials there. Last year he was named Oakland coach at a time they had no players. His club won six and lost eight in the inaugural season.

Little Brown Jug Field Cut To 17 For Thursday

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Johnny Simpson of Orlando, Fla., has pulled his Adios Cleo and Ted Hanover out of the Little Brown Jug, which he has won three times, but a field of 17 still looms for Thursday's $70,000 pacing classic for 3-year-olds.

Adios Cleo was the winter book favorite after leading the 2-year-old pacers in purses last year, and Ted Hanover is the season's champion pacing gelding.

With the last of his entrants sidelined, three other stables immediately contacted Simpson with offers to drive their horses in the 16th Jug.

Indications are the Jug will go in two divisions, with the top five finishers in each coming back for the third and deciding heat.

Lang Hanover and Cold Front are expected to be the co-favorites. But Way Wave, daughter of 1949 Jug winner Good Time, has a lot of sentimental backing.

Other probable starters include Henry T. Adios, Al-Sam, Cape Horn, Brooks Hanover, Miss Blue Jay, High Test, Star Gem, Irish Blackstone, Hogan Hanover, Magic Adios, I'm It, and the Del Miller trio of Adiosand, Meadow Chuck and Tarport Jimmy.

Monday, as Grand Circuit harness racing got under way at the Delaware County Fairgrounds Air Medal, Stablemate to Lang Hanover, captured the Walnut Hall Farm Breeders Filly Stake for 3-year-old trotters, and set one world record and tied another in the process.

Air Medal, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, recorded miles of 2:02 4-5 and 2:02 1-5. For 3-year-old trotting fillies over a half-mile track, the two heats combined for a 4:05 world's record, and the 2:02 1-5 equalled the world mark shared by Yankee Lass and Lady Ann Reed.

Ladies Club Will Operate Food Stand

About 19 attended the meeting held at the YMCA with Mrs. Luther Parsons in charge. Plans were also made to serve sandwiches to football players Thursday and Friday and to send candy to hospitalized players.

Movies of scrimmages with Campbell and Canton Lincoln were screened by Bob Hedmond, football coach, and a question and answer period followed.

A report was given on the number of membership tickets sold so far. Next meeting will be Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

AAA Seeks To Settle Its Feud With NCAA

NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union will try to iron out its feud with the National Collegiate Athletic Association over the control of amateur basketball on Oct. 2 in Chicago.

AAU President Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., called a meeting Monday of all 12 groups concerned with amateur basketball, including the NCAA.

The dispute revolves around the AAU's holding the U.S. membership in the International Basketball Federation. The NCAA claims the AAU does not represent all amateur basketball in the country.

NHL To Open Oct. 11

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League today released its schedule for the 1961-62 season. The 70-game season opens Oct. 11 and closes March 25.

Hutch Picks O'Toole For Buc Opener

But O'Toole had a warning Monday night from his boss to expect big trouble from the 1960 world champs.

"They'll be loose and easy and carefree and they can hurt us," Hutch said, whose front-running Reds were powerless Sunday against last - place Philadelphia, winner of a 4-0 victory.

"Furthermore," Hutchinson said grimly, "we can't afford to be hurt at this time."

The Reds got a helping hand Monday night from Chicago, winner 5-3 over second-place Los Angeles. The decision stretched the Reds' lead to four games going into tonight's contest.

Hutch said he planned to lead with his 20-game winner, Joey Jay, Wednesday night.

The Reds have a chance of wrapping up their first pennant since 1940 in the next six days, but the decision could go far into the last week of September.

Mahaffey was to stay in Christ Hospital here for at least four more days.

NFL-TV Bill Awaiting Approval From Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed to the Senate a bill that would permit the National Football League to skip around a legal block and grant a league-wide contract for television coverage of its games.

The measure, approved in the House Monday by a voice vote, applies to all professional sports leagues—baseball, basketball and hockey as well as football—but it was custom - designed for the NFL, whose television plans were ruled out of bounds by a Philadelphia federal court.

The court ruled earlier this year that the NFL's TV contract with the CBS network violated antitrust laws.

The American Football League has a similar contract with the ABC network which has not been struck down by the courts. The NFL official argued that this was fair and that they should be given equal footing with the rival league.

League officials testifying in support of the measure said if league-wide television contracts were outlawed, the stronger, richer teams would tend to get most of the TV coverage and money. This, they said, would wreck the weaker teams and hurt the league.

The National Association of Broadcasters oppose the bill, contending that league-wide contracts would result in fewer sports telecasts, rather than more.

The House Judiciary Committee agreed to an amendment aimed at keeping pro telecasts from competing directly with telecasts of college games. It would prohibit pro football telecasts on Friday evening and Saturday when the college teams usually play.

Most NFL games are played on Sunday afternoons.

If the Senate acts on the measure before adjournment, its effect still would not be felt until the 1962 season.

Rochester Beats Buffalo To Lead IL Playoff Finals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Rochester Express rolled on Monday night. Buffalo was derailed this time as the Red Wings posted a 5-4, 11-inning victory in the opener of the final International League playoff round.

Southpaw Dick Luebke was the winner of Rochester's fifth straight playoff victory after the team eliminated league champion Columbus in five games. Luebke pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the eighth inning after replacing Art Kay and allowed two hits the rest of the way.

For Buffalo, it was the first setback in five playoff games. The Bisons had won four straight from Charleston in the semifinal round.

Joe Durham, hitless in four previous appearances, slammed a double to score Harry Chiti with the decidimg tally.

Army Puts In Rush Order For Vehicles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army put in a rush order Monday for armored troop-carrying vehicles to meet its urgent requirements, presumably in Germany.

It announced plans to award a "minimum add-on contract" to the FMC Corp., San Jose, Calif., for expedited delivery of M113 personnel carriers of the type now being sent to Germany to give U.S. infantry divisions greater mobility.

Midland Club Sets Banquet For October

Plans for a Booster Betty Banquet in October were reported at a meeting of the Midland Leopard Booster Club Sunday evening in the Borough Building.

William (Butch) Vinovich and John Wilson will be in charge of the dinner to be held at the American-Yugoslav Club. Its date will be announced later.

Dr. Robert Higginbotham, a guest speaker, told of athletic injuries and new equipment recommended by the American Medical Association, including a new helmet and nose guard.

Vinovich and Pete Benedict, both football officials, were also guest speakers, and interpreted rules changes and answered questions arising from recent games.

Charles Polce, Lincoln High football coach, discussed Friday's Midland-Canon-McMillan game of which movies were shown. Several parents of players attended the meeting.

James (Sonny) Migliore, president, reported on progress of plans for the club's Holiday Tournament. The next meeting will be Sunday evening and a guest coach will be a speaker. Refreshments will be served.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Don Cardwell, Cubs, blanked Dodgers on four hits for final eight innings, after allowing three first-innings runs, and beat second-place Los Angeles 5-3.

Hitting — Don Zimmer, Cubs, homered in sixth inning, for go-ahead run that beat former Dodger teammates in 5-3 Chicago win.

Only 10 out of 63 candidates for the University of Maryland football team are from Maryland.
